

GERMAN TEACHER DEFENDS SELF

Prof. Liebig Declares He Is Loyal to Country of His Adoption

Declaring that he would serve willingly in the American Army if called upon to do so, H. A. Liebig, the German professor, who was dismissed from the Technical High School faculty two weeks ago for his pro-German sentiments, last night vehemently denied that he had ever been in any way connected with German propagandists in this country.

around Harrisburg for two weeks waiting for the federal authorities to make an investigation, as he had read in the papers that they would conduct such an investigation. Much to his surprise, he he said, when he finally decided that the authorities were not going to call upon him and he boarded a train to leave the city; he was detained.

Liebig said he secured his naturalization papers and voted for the first time in 1892. He declared that he is unable to produce the papers because in securing a passport four years ago he submitted the papers to the State Department, and has never been able to secure them since, in spite of his efforts to do so. He declared that his dismissal from the Technical Faculty was unfair, inasmuch as he is a naturalized citizen and friendly to the cause of the allies.

Liebig came here in December from Sufield, Conn.

Bares German Plots to Seize Central America

The part that Central America was to play when Germany set out to eventually gobble up these United States was the prime feature of an instructive address last night at the Technical High school by Dr. Frederick Mosen, for many years one of the world's noted explorers. The blunt facts were put before the audience so convincingly that the hearers concluded America had stepped into this war just about in time to prevent a Hu invasion.

This country was still on friendly terms with Germany, early in 1912, when Dr. Mosen made the acquaintance of a German official who had vast authority from his government to prepare things on this continent for a German drive. The Panama Canal was no obstacle, he thought, for by throwing a couple shells into Gatun dam from a distance of thirty miles they would put the canal out of commission and destroy the war keel of a decade. Brazil, this plotter told Dr. Mosen, would be the nucleus of the disturbance. The plan was to start an uprising there where many Germans live, and meanwhile the Imperial fleet would blockade the whole American east

Open Drive Here to Recruit Workers For Shipyards

"All aboard for the shipyards!" That was the rally slogan to-day when a recruiting station opened here to secure workers for ships and shipyards. The man in charge is well known here, Paul Gendell, former manager of the Engineers' Club and until recently with the State Employment Bureau at Philadelphia. Gendell is now with the New York Shipbuilding Corporation, which is operating a great plant at Camden, N. J., and, assisted by John Porch, he plans to corral a big quota of mechanics in Harrisburg. Headquarters were opened to-day at the State Employment Bureau, Third and North streets, and the office will be open every day from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m., in the evening, from 7 o'clock to 9.

$860 Went Through Laundry With Shirt

Freeport, Ill.—Charles H. Crane, a landscape gardener, forgot to remove $860 which he had pinned to his shirt when he sent the garment to a Chinese laundry. The shirt came back to-day without the money and Crane caused the arrest of the Chinaman. This afternoon detectives found all but $100 of Crane's money in the washing machine at the laundry. It was badly mutilated, but redeemable.

Jackie Phones Mother 2,000 Miles Away

Biloxi, Miss.—Emmett Bills, of Biloxi, first gunner's mate on board the U. S. Covington, surprised his mother had received no word from him until he telephoned. He is a former gulf coast newspaper man who joined the navy at the outbreak of war.

FARMERS OWN AUTOMOBILES Middleburg, Pa., March 1.— Snyder county has more than four hundred farmers who own automobiles and, according to state statistics, 58,776 farmers in the state of Pennsylvania own machines.

sacrifice from plant operators, no doubt," said Gendell, "but this is where a sacrifice may save the nation. The Government has declared that shipbuilding must come first, so it is up to all other interests to release every possible employe to enable us to go ahead with our program of building for the transport of men and supplies."

Galesburg, Ill.—Because he is a vegetarian Marshall O. Sanburn claimed exemption from war service. "You don't have to eat them, only kill them," A. O. Lindstrom, chairman of the board, assured him. Sanburn goes in class one.

Borrow Revolver For Holdup; Return It

Minneapolis, Minn.—The holdup of ten people in J. E. Royer's grocery store, 859 Rondo street, was perpetrated with a borrowed revolver, the police declared.

Joe Fleekes, 389 Rice street, one of the negroes held in connection with the robbery, is alleged to have taken the gun from the room of Oscar Mattocks, 181 East Fourteenth street, returning it after the holdup. Mattocks did not know it had been touched until Detectives James Quarles and James Mitchell went to his house to verify Fleekes' story and showed him the shells had been fired in his gun.

S. Linn Shull Buried Today at Duncannon

Duncannon, Pa., March 1.—Funeral services were held this morning at 10 o'clock from his late home for S. Linn Shull, aged 65 years, who died on Tuesday at the Harrisburg Hospital from pneumonia. Services were conducted by his pastor, the Rev. Dr. George H. Johnston, of the Presbyterian Church, and burial was made in the Presbyterian Cemetery. Mr. Shull contracted a heavy cold when the high waters inundated his residence several weeks ago. This developed into pneumonia and it was deemed expedient to take him to the Harrisburg hospital. One daughter, Mrs. Harry Rice, of Altoona, survives.

He's a Vegetarian; So Wants Exemption

Galesburg, Ill.—Because he is a vegetarian Marshall O. Sanburn claimed exemption from war service. "You don't have to eat them, only kill them," A. O. Lindstrom, chairman of the board, assured him. Sanburn goes in class one.

There's New Pep! In Your Step

You feel it—others see it. It's the spirit of Spring. It's noticeable everywhere. Your friends greet you with—"Isn't this fine?" The birds chirp more merrily—the more daring of the birds are venturing north, as they see the ice floes coming south—or other wireless instinct tells them to migrate.

What if it does rain—who cares? Your rubber comes off as you go through Riverside Park. But you don't mind it—you want to see the river flow freely again and know the backbone of Winter is broken.

The same spirit of Spring prevails in every department in this store. Every sales person is enthusiastically at work uncovering new Spring arrivals. As rapidly as received they are arranged for your inspection.

Trend of Fashion Shown in Suits, Coats and Dresses

Each Individual Garment Possesses a Style Distinctive of Its Own

A breath of springtime is portrayed in the showing of new apparel for women.

SUITS—of many materials, for all occasions, in all of the most-wanted and desirable colorings for spring and summer wear.

COATS—are shown that have both elegance and service, in materials and shades.

DRESSES—of many different silk fabrics and beautiful models of serge for early wear.

SKIRTS—in staple and fancy wool and silk patterns and an early showing of wash skirts.

Throughout the whole array is to be seen the much-favored sport effect that is charming and elegant.

Silks in Richness of Variety at the Annual Bowman Silk Sale

Tomorrow is the third and final day to secure the exceptional price reductions quoted only at this yearly event

That the public appreciates value-giving in dependable merchandise is evidenced by the great number of women constantly at the silk counters and special tables, upon which are displayed this magnificent assortment of silks. From early in the morning until the store closed Thursday and Friday, the silk department was the center of attraction for the scores and scores of women who wished to avail themselves of this exceptional selling event. Expressions of admiration were heard right and left—"Isn't this the daintiest material that you ever saw?"—as one would admire the opalescence and delicacy of weave in some beautiful pieces of georgette silks of light and filmy texture. Another would comment on the serviceability of some hard-finished piece of suiting or the many other substantial weaves in various colors and finishes.

This assortment of silk fabrics is so comprehensive in its range of materials and pretty effects that it should be no trouble to please the most fastidious taste. Soft, lustrous finishes—hard woven materials—delicate, semi-transparent textures—plain colors on tinted fabrics—stripes and multi-stripes—plaids and checks—figured or dotted silks. And all priced so low that the values will cause you to remember this unusual event again next year.

Yes, the sale continues until the store closes to-morrow evening, but—a word to the wise is sufficient—we would suggest that you come in the morning if possible.

Baby Carriages--- In New and Attractive Patterns

Babe cannot order his chauffeur to bring the car for a delightful drive when fancy dictates or convenience permits, but every mother and nurse girl knows that the restlessness and fretting of the youngster on a balmy day is usually a desire to get out in the open. Clean pavements and frequent clear days now make it possible to gratify this childish desire and encourage such invigorating outdoor excursions.

If you lack the proper vehicle we would suggest an inspection of the many new and attractive patterns in baby carriages.

The showing represents models from the world's leading manufacturers.

Comprising the display are reed pullman carriages — English perambulators — shell bodies — gondola shapes — strollers — collapsibles and carts. Many pleasing finishes are shown, such as ivory — white enamel — French gray — baronial brown — coral pink — turquoise blue and natural.

Reed Pullman—finished in white enamel; artillery wheels; wood body with blue line decoration; a new and attractive hood; reversible gear; equipped with windshield.....$42.00

All-Reed Carriages, finished natural; corduroy lined; wire wheels; lined hood.....$22.75

Vegetable Seeds

No, she wouldn't give up her suburban home for the finest apartment in the city. She just had to have her flowers and fresh vegetables. Gardening is going to be more popular this spring than ever—to increase the food supply, so the wheat and the meat may go to "the boys at the front."

The reports from Harrisburg's amateur gardeners who purchased their seeds here were so excellent that we have stocked the same high-grade seeds for this season. Would suggest that you get your supply in early.
