CONFERENCE SESSIONS ARE SHORTENED AS WAR ECONOMY

Atlantic City, N. J., March 6.—With Bishop Joseph Berry, of Philadelphia, presiding for the fifth time in seven years, the New Jersey conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church today opened its eighty-second annual session.

Don't Waste Wheat Flour Substitutes, Warns Administrator

It is reported that some individuals consider that they have filled their patriotic duty in buying the required substitutes when they buy flour, and that they then make no further use of the substitutes. This is entirely a wrong impression, as it creates no saving of wheat—which is the one reason for the fifty-fifty rule—and unless each of us goes further and sacrifices his personal convenience—if it is a sacrifice—by eating other cereals there will be no surplus of wheat for our soldiers or our allies. This is a crisis where wheat alone will answer, and there is only one way to have wheat, which is for us to go without to the best of our ability. Most of the meatless restrictions have been withdrawn in order that more attention may be paid to wheat, and every one must feel that saving wheat is his part in his war, and the battle-cry of "Food will win the war" must be changed to "WHEAT WILL WIN THE WAR"

The Rev. A. G. Flexer, who was yesterday appointed to fill the pulpit of the Harris Street United Evangelical Church, here, is one of the most prominent clergymen in this conference. He was pastor of Trinity United Evangelical Church, Shamokin. His church had a congregation of about 800 members. The Rev. Mr. Flexer organized a large brotherhood of men during his pastorate at Shamokin. The church was also remodeled, and the membership was greatly increased.

The Rev. Mr. Flexer was appointed yesterday to the pastorate of the Harris Street United Evangelical Church, to succeed the Rev. George F. Schaum, who was transferred to the Bethany United Evangelical Church, Lancaster. The action was taken at the session of the East Pennsylvania conference of the United Evangelical Church, held at Reading yesterday.

Better Salary

That's what every woman looks forward to as a proper reward for her work. And better salary can be had when the working facilities are modern in every way.

The Blough Manufacturing Company's factory is so well equipped with machinery of the latest improved types that a worker can accomplish more than in most factories of old type.

This, of course, is only one of the advantages here. The sun-lighted floors, strictly sanitary rooms, bright, cheery, airy buildings, make work happier.

And, besides, at the end of every two weeks a cash bonus of 5 per cent is paid in addition to the regular salary. An increase worth hav-
