At Least One of Five Pending Murder Cases to Be Heard

Seventy-six new cases are listed for trial at the March sessions of criminal court, while more than 100 continued prosecutions also have not been disposed of. Included in the court list issued to-day by District Attorney Michael E. Stroup are the five murder cases, three of the defendants being held for murders which occurred in Steelton.

It is announced a third judge will probably be called to the city to assist Judges Kunkel and McCarrell in hearing the cases. If these plans are carried out a third court session will be held in the City Council Chamber on the second floor of the courthouse.

At least one of the murder trials on the list will be heard, it is said-lt is likely that this will be Charles Kyler, held for the murder of a rail-roader when he came out of an up-town hetel

Little Actual Hoarding Dis-British War Commissioner Tells How England Does Its Part

> Labor Pledged to Stand Behind U. S.

F YOU saw your little children If YOU saw your little children gathered up in fragments you would buy a gun and kill the first German you saw.

We can hold back and beat the Hun if America will only reinforce with food.
England is a transformed nation. One million women work in munitions factories.

The "American Bolsheviki" should all be driven over to Germany.

should all be driven over to Germany.

Each person should ask himself or herself to-day—"What am I doing to win the war?"

There is no excuse for labor troubles now. Organized labor is pledged to stand by the nation.

American soldiers are the finest type of fighting men seen in France.

Germany has plenty of food which it raises within its own confines. It cannot be starved, but must be beaten by arms.

He told how the labor unions were absolutely united in one mighty effort to do everything possible to hurry on the final victory and how cautious they have been to avert any agitation which will interfere with speed and efficiency.

William Jennings, chairman of the Committee of Public Safety for Dauphin county, presided at the opening and introduced H. M. Brooks, president of the Central Labor Union, as permanent chairman. The audience joined roundly in the "Star Spangled Banner" and Dr. Robert Bagnell then made a most impressive prayer. sive prayer. The speaker of the evening, W. A.

The speaker of the evening, W. A. Appleton, seevetary general of the British Trade Unions, instantly won the big audience by his sound suggestions and mature observations. With an accent that smacked both of Irish and Scotch and a sincere eloquence he described the gravity of the situation unless America sends food.

"In may say that I was surprised on landing here," said he "at the great plenty of eatables. You do not see it in England. It occurred to me that America does not yet realize what it means to feed those millions of troops nor what sacrifices may be necessary."

Mr. Appleton had recently made a tour of the trenches and there came in contact with the American soldier. He was evidently much impressed by what he said last night. "I tell you they will hold against this drive, so will the British. They'll hold and they'll beat the Hun, but only providing that you reinforce all the time with food. It is Imperative that you do not waste any. We had to learn this lesson in England." He seriously regretted that America had not had the same treaty with Belgium that England has, so that she might have gone to war as soon as Germany invaded Belgium. Personal experience in escaping bombs from Zeppelins Mr. Appleton had right at his own house, the family being turned out one night with a terrific explosion, in which, however, no one was killed. He gave some vivid descriptions of the horrible destruction done by these attacks, one in particular under his observation, that public school in which sixty-eight children were mangled by bombs. "If you saw your little children gathered up in fragments you would buy a gun and kill the first German you saw," he uttered with fierce emphasis.

Tells How Women Work

His description of English women working in all sorts of activities was an eye-opener to many. The whole nation has been transformed he told. Over 1,000,000 women are engaged in munition factories alone, and through their help England has been able with the forces of men not in military service to produce in two weeks now as great a quantity of ammunition as the nation did the whole first year of the war.

The English labor leader in ending spoke encouragingly enough, always, however, reminding of the necessity of keeping open the transportation channels and sending food. "I saw thousands of American soldiers in France," he sa

Germany Protests Because Neutral Nations Charter Ships to Entente Allies

By Associated Press
The Hague, Friday, March 8. — A reply was made to-day by the semi-official news agency to the recent article in the Norddeutsche Allgemeine Zeitung, a semi-official newspaper of Berlin, in which it was Germany con-sidered as unneutral the arrangement now being made for the chartering of neutral ships by entente powers.

The news agency says:
"In view of the provisions of international law it would be partial and not in accordance with neutrality if a neutral government were to forbid its shipowners to allow their ships to sail on other than its own interests, as it would be granting cooperation to a belligerent to whose interests it was to put difficulties in the way of its enemies' overseas supplies. Morever the government, by so doing would be promoting the submarine blockade, which it has branded repeatedly as illegal." and not in accordance with neutrality

Bolsheviki Regime

By Associated Press
London, March 9.—The Social Revolutionaries have decided to organize a national guard to overthrow the Bolshevik regime in Russia, according to Dr. Eleft, of Moscow University, who is quoted in a Copenhagen dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph as saying that the decision was reached at a recent conference in Moscow. A great army is now being organized in the Don district, supported by Cossacks, the dispatch acds, and it is also planned to introduce a republic in Russia with a coalition government which would not accept the German-Bolshevik, peace. Professor Eleft asserted that the news of the new movement had been suppressed by the Petrograd Bolshevik news agency.

Direct Rule, Says Berlin

The Hague, March 9.—"We have acquired a direct free front via Russia to Persia and Afghanistan," says a dispatch from the Wolff Bureau, the German semiofficial agency, received here to-day.

The announcement of the Wolff Bureau, if true, has an important bearing on the situation in Western Asia and, possibly, even in India. The peace terms forced upon Russia at Brest-Litovsk took away from Russia districts in the Ciscaucasian region through which it would be possible for the Germanic allies to gain entrance from the Black Sea or Turkey into Persia. Passage through Persia probably would meet with only nominal opposition, while a still further advance into Afghanistan would be possible.

A Peking dispatch, dated February 27, said the governor of the Province of Sin Kiang had reported that the same time would be principal stay would be possible. Sin Kiang is just to the northeast of Afghanistan and about the northern border of India.
