

GAME BIRDS TO BE SENT AROUND

First Work For the Year Has Been Planned by the State's Game Commission

Distribution of ring-necked pheasants and wild turkeys among the state's game preserves to extend the propagation plans of the State Game Commission was begun this week by wardens and protectors and if the weather continues to improve, hundreds of the birds will be turned loose in the woods or placed in restricted areas until they mate.

Sportsmen have given considerable help in the arrangements for the distribution and have agreed to keep an eye on the birds and to help feed them if necessary. It is the plan to place many more pheasants in the woods, and the expectation is that the present year's preserves will afford excellent hunting this year.

The first of the Mexican quail are expected in a month. Some of these birds have been held in the Mexican highlands, but others are being trapped now. Hundreds of them will be set out. They will be carefully watched, as last year weather and feeding conditions caused heavy losses. The survey of the native quail shows heavy losses in some counties, those in the southern districts standing the winter better. But for the food scattered by sportsmen, many of them would have been lost.

Portions of the closed grouse for a two-year period, are in circulation in all but ten counties of this state this week, and those will be taken care of soon. The Commission will act in the matter before many weeks go by, some petitions being made for the grouse, there is a disposition to wait until many have entered the papers so that the general sentiment of the sportsmen of the state can be ascertained. The reports coming here tell of general closing of states to ruffed grouse hunting, Maine being the latest heard of as about to move in the matter.

AVOID ALL MEAT IF KIDNEYS AND BLADDER BOTHER

Uric Acid in meat excites kidneys and irritates the bladder.

Kidney and bladder weakness result from uric acid, says medical authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where, if not removed, it irritates and inflames, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again there is difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acid in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs which then act normally again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which quickly relieves bladder trouble.—Adv.

SOULHEAST TO GET TRACTORS

Arrangements Being Made to Start Out the State's Machines Next Week

The first of the state's tractor squadrons will be put to work upon the farms of Montgomery, Lancaster, Chester, Delaware and other counties in the southeastern agricultural region of the state where the spring plowing season starts earliest. It is hoped that the tractor squadrons will be ready to start work by the middle of next week. The first dozen will be sent to the western end of the state where the owners have asked for help. The other tractors will be placed in central counties, and by the time the forty are in operation the plowing season will be well under way in the southern and northern tier, where the season is later, the tractors will be assembled for the last of the spring work.

Over 30 farmers have written for the services of the tractors and the plan arranged is to have a schedule for a district. Each tractor will have two mechanics who will drive it and imp in order. These men are being enlisted in order. These men are being enlisted in order. These men are being enlisted in order. These men are being enlisted in order.

Permy County Householders Must Register Flour Supply

Newport, Pa., March 9.—Food administrator William Forward calls attention to the fact that all householders in Perry county must register the amount of flour on hand in every home, and must send in their reports to him. Some of the people of the county seem to think they are not required to register, and this warning is given to them. Blank forms printed every evening in the Harrisburg Telegraph can be filled out, but must be addressed to William Dorwart, Food Administrator Newport, Pa.

BOYS CLASSES WORKING HARD AT Y. M. C. A. GYM.

With four younger boys bible classes, three gymnasium classes and a student's game period in the gymnasium, the boys division of the Central Y. M. C. A. presented a busy appearance this morning. The younger boys bible classes are among the interesting features of association activities. They are taught by the High School and Academy students: Stewart Taylor, of Technical High; Seymour Nissley and Carlton Goodield, of Central High, and Park Beckler, of the Academy. Between sixty-five and seventy boys are enrolled in the classes.

Proof of the fact that the boys department use the direction of A. H. Dinsmore, boys' work secretary, is "catching hold" with the boys, is shown by the fact that with the big Tech-Central game being played Thursday evening, fifty-one boys attended the boys social held at the same time.

The Conflict of Love and Fat.—The average man will "jolly" with the stout girl, but he steals glances over her shoulder at that Miss Slender who is holding the hands of the latter in a fatuous way. He really enjoys himself with the other, from chin to toe, or nape to heel—that's all. But it rings the merry refrain: "Fat women should not repine—but refine—their own lines by means of the Marmola Co. Marmola Tablets. No exercising or dieting is necessary. Simply take one tablet after each meal, and you will see the difference while the overplus of fat—the coarseness of aspect—will disappear. Miss Kathryn McDonald, of Harrisburg, spent Thursday with Miss Elsie Campbell.

William Detweiler, employed at Hog Island, Philadelphia, has returned after spending several days as the guest of his mother, Mrs. Jennie Detweiler.

TO TEST SEED CORN TO FIND BEST GRADE

H. G. Nissley, county farm agent, made a trip over part of Dauphin county yesterday with an Ohio farm agent seeking for seed corn. Ohio is much in need of good seed corn, and if any farmers have any for sale, Mr. Nissley would be glad to hear from them.

The Dauphin County Farm Bureau is laying plans to conduct variety tests of corn in all parts of the county. The purpose of these tests is to bring together eight to twelve varieties of corn which are now grown by the leading corn-growers of the county and grow them side by side on uniform soil to determine the high-yielding varieties. These tests will be under the supervision of the county agent and the farmers on whose farms the demonstrations are held. At the end of the year the different varieties will be husked and weighed. A field meeting will be held at the farm agents' section to determine which variety is the best producer.

MAIL CLERK EXAMS.—The State Civil Service Commission announces that an examination for the position of clerk and carrier in the Harrisburg post office will be held in this city on May 4, 1918.

Officers Elected.—The following officers were elected last night by the Colored Chamber of Commerce: W. J. Baller, president; C. C. Coles, second vice-president; George Winters, secretary; James Y. M. C. A. directors to meet.

Wardens Instructed.—State fish wardens were to-day given instructions by Commissioner Buller, who presented decisions by the Attorney General's Department on questions which had been raised. This new code is to be strictly enforced this spring, says Commissioner Buller. Several of the wardens have been transferred to the hatches because of the rule of work incidental to sending out of the young fish which will start very soon. State policemen and game wardens will help enforce the new code, it was announced.

Appointed to Board.—Mrs. Helen Graves Runkle Smith, of Altoona, has been appointed member of the Blair County Mothers' Pension Board.

Meeting Officers.—Adjutant General Beary and Chief Clerk Deming will be in charge of the new Reserve Militia.

KEYSTONE STATE DEATHRATE UP

State Department of Health Prepares Interesting Statistics For 1917

The Keystone State had a birth rate of 25.8 per 1,000 of population during 1917, a decrease of 1 and a death rate of 14.8 per 1,000, an increase of .2, compared to the previous year, according to a summary made of vital and mortality statistics made to-day at the State Department of Health.

The Department figures that the birth rate is below what it was in 1908, the first year when complete vital statistics were obtained, but that the death rate is also lower. This is considered gratifying in view of the big increases in the population of the state, which is now estimated at 8,861,230. State Registrar W. B. Batt, says that increases in recent years are not due to the prevalence of diseases such as typhoid and scarlet fever and the like, but to the others against which medical science has been struggling for years.

Board Finishes Work.—The State Pharmaceutical Examining Board today completed its March examination at the Capitol. The members of the board will meet here next week to go over the papers.

1917 Figures.—During 1917 there were 229,749 births and 158,058 deaths in Pennsylvania, according to figures compiled at the State Department of Health.

DOG CATCHER'S COMPENSATION

State Board Grants a New Hearing to Dispose of the New Castle Claim

The State Compensation Board has awarded a new hearing to determine whether Robert K. Ellis, the city dog catcher of New Castle, died of rabies and whether his widow should be awarded compensation. The man was bitten by a dog and the city solicitor contended that at the time he was not in course of employment, which the board declines to accept. At the same time it holds that the determination of the physician in attendance, that the man died of rabies was reached by a process of elimination and is not satisfactory to the board.

The Board also granted rehearings in Signore vs. Republic Chemical Co., Pittsburgh, in which it is held that the mother of the deceased never having resided in America, is therefore not a legal dependent; Shearer vs. Westmoreland Coal Co., Irwin; Sipe vs. Garrett, New Wilmington, in which a question of seasonal employment arose and disallows an award in Hewell vs. Midvale Steel Works, Philadelphia.

Appeals were dismissed as follows: Moody vs. Union Draw Steel Co., Beaver Falls; Lazavich vs. Chester Shipbuilding Co., Chester; Levan vs. Susquehanna Coal Co., Wilkes-Barre; Wolford vs. Geisel Moving and Storage Co., Johnstown; Smith vs. Iron City Sand Co., Seibert; Standard Steel Car Co., Butler; Gamble vs. McKinney, Pittsburgh; Robinson vs. American Bridge Co., Pittsburgh.
