NEWVILLE SECTION OF C UMBERLAND COUNTY HOME DEFENSE GUARD

Carlisle, Pa., March 16.—Cumberland county is among the first districts of the nation to organize and uniform her Home Defense Guard. The photograph shows two units of nine men each in charge of a corporal, located at Newville. The county organization includes fifty-two units, over which the superintendent of Home Guards, D. Edward Brindle, of Carlisle, has entire command. Mr. Brindle was the originator of the organization along this line and his plan has been adopted for the state and is a model for the home guard system, of the Nation. The county forces are commanded by Hays McLaughlin, of Carlisle, a veteran National Guardsman, and the personnel includes some of the most prominent ment of the region. Quick mobilization and rigid discipline are the koynotes of the organization.

CITY LIBRARIES OPEN MAY LIMIT WHEAT FOR YANKS IN CAMP

Chambers and his ilk predominate, although many people give volumes of the classical authors, including Shakespeare, Wordsworth, Longfellow, Keats, Shelley and others.

People all over the city have expressed their intense interest in the campaign and are giving freely to the boys clad in the khaki of the Boy Scouts. At Dives, Pomeroy & Stewart's big department store in Market street, a booth is being erected, and persons who wish to con-

To Sends Books Forward

The books are to be sent to the soldiers in the camps and cantonments and to the lads in the trenches "somewhere in France." The American Library Association is directing the drive, in co-operation with Boy Scouts of America. Miss Alice R. Eaton and J. H. Stine, scout executive of the local council, Boy Scouts of America, are in charge of the local branch of the campaign.

A large number of magazines have been received by many of the scouts. Prominent among these are technical and scientific magazines, likely to interest soldiers.

Scout headquarters at 200 Calder building was a busy place this morning and afternoon. The telephone was constantly ringing and a number of people said: "Send a scout out to get my books for the soldiers."

Plans for accomplishing the additional saving are being worked out carefully and the only bar to success feared by officials is the senseless hoarding which may be practiced by unthinking and sellish people.

The seriousness of the wheat situation was shown to-day by a Department of Agriculture report on the supply in country elevators and mills which was supplemented by a frank admission at the Food Administration that existing flour stocks are only thirty per cent of the normal quantity needed until July 1. Food Administration officials thought the department's estimate of 180,000,000 bushels of wheat in elevators and on farms March 1 was optimistic and said their best information was that 12,000,000 bushels of wheat in formation was that 12,000,000 bushels of wheat information was that 12,000,000 bushels of wheat information was New Bloomfield-Samuel S.
