

Reading for Women and all the Family

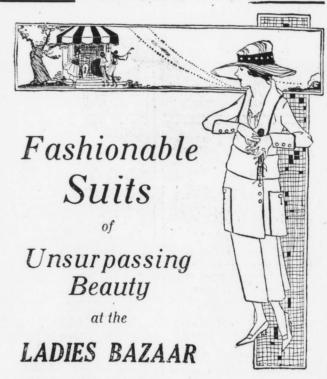

HOW TO MAKE YOUR JOB PAY

By Beatrice Fairfax

'Man and Woman Stuff"-The man who makes love to his employes-the girl who flirts with every man in the office.

As a very clever author recently ated: "There is no sex in brains." Present conditions are giving us practical application of that at 19.75 to 49.75

The Cloths Poiret Twills, Tricotine,
'Tyroi Wool,
Men's Wear Scrge.
Silvertone, Vigoureaux, Gabardine,

The Styles The Colors

Rookie, French Blue, Copen, Quaker Gray, Knaki, Navy, Black, Poney, Vest Effects, Sport, Belted, Tiered, Peplum

Unless you have a total disregard for the value your money-you cannot very well ignore the conderful values we are offering in fine tailored and dressy suits-in every conceivable fashionable style -of all-wool materials-many of which are listed above-All priced as only the Ladies Bazaar price their merchandise-Incomparably Low.

Over two hundred garments in our alteration room is a tribute to the keen appreciation of values -women of this community recognize we continually offer them-

Early Selections Are Urged.

8-10-12 S. FOURTH ST.

Harrisburg's Garment Institution

Bringing Up Father

Copyright, 1917, International News Service

:-: - By McManus

for the entire evening. After the dance, on our way home I took her to an ice cream parlor, after which business office. The woman takes them there is deliberaterrying the atmosphere of sex in sex sexless world.

The girl who bills and coos in stand of talking like a sane woman; the girl who makes eyes at office boy, janitor, salesman and temples with the Forehead and Temples and the forehead and Temples with the forehead and Temples and the forehead and Temples and the forehead and Temples an

This Is Not Love
DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:
I am eighten and my husband-tobe is twenty-one. He is stationed at Anniston and expects to move shortly.

Anniston and expects to move shortly.

He insists that we be married before he leaves. I do not know whether I should do this or not as I am going about with several young men who admire me greatly. Will you kindly advise me in this? I love the young man at Anniston, but I do not want to give up the others.

Of course you must not marry him, for you do not love "the young man at Anniston" at all. You like him and he fascinates you a bit. But you do not love him or you would not be worrying about giving up your admirers. Your letter is typewritten, evidently you are a stenographer, but you are not trained or educated to that position, and the whole tone of your letter shows me that you are equally unprepared for marriage. You two are children and not fit for the great adventure of married life, because it is not "adventure" as you think it, but life's deepest and most sacred experience. sacred experience.

SHE NEEDS FRIENDS

SHE NEEDS FRIENDS

I have been going about with a girl, therefore making it impossible for other boys to court her. She has given up all her friends and is very much attached to me. I am in the draft, and whenever 'the thought comes to me, "What will my girl do when I am away?" I am troubled. She has no one to turn to, and I fear my absence will depress her. Time and time again I have told her not to worry, but it is useless. In what manner would you advise me to comfort her?

manner would you advise me to comfort her?

I do not believe in young people giving up all friendship for the sake of love. This is very norrowing in its induence and even when the love culminates in marriage it doesn't mean happiness. Married couples need outside interests, stimulating friendship need to be a stimulating friendship in the sake of the

DON'T DO IT

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I am 22 and self-supporting. An old friend, about to leave for France, is dearly in love with me. Although I do not care for him, I would like your advice as to whether it would be wise to marry him, as he has asked me to, before he leaves. I would do this with the feeling that I am sending him away happy.

E. C. A. L.

him away happy.

To make a marriage such as you suggest would be hideously unjust to yourself and to the man, too. You aren't going to send the man away happy if you marry him without any of the tenderness real caring would produce. Don't call things by beautiful names which they do not deserve. You say you want to marry this soldier in order to send him away happy. That is not the truth.

How Fat Actress Was Made Slim

A WELCOME FOULARD.

This season the new foulards are welcomed by a host of women, for in addition to being attractive, it is among the most serviceable of sikes The skirt has a panel front and gathered tunic at each side finished with silk ruching. The front of the waist carries out the panel effect of the skirt, the neck being finished with a high collar. Black silk is used for the belt and string tie. Medium sizerquires 6 yards 40-inch foulard and 1 yard black silk.

Pictorial Review Costume No. 7568
Sizes, 34 to 46 inches bust. Price 25c.

"Certainly," Cynthia agreed.

"Certainly," Cynthia agreed.

While Mrs. Livingstone was occupied in looking over dainty negligees and looking over dainty negligees and looking over dainty negligees and looking over dainty negligees.

A Bit of Innuendo

"I do hope Dora will feel better when we get home," she said plaintively. "She is all upset to-day—and it is simply the result of a man's thoughtless accion."

Cynthia agreed.

While Mrs. Livingstone was occupied in looking over dainty negligees and looking over dainty negligees.

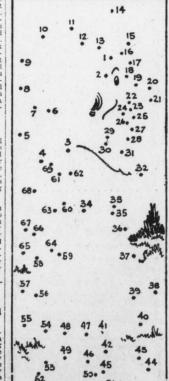

A Bit of Innuendo

"I do hope Dora will feel better when we get home," she said plaintively. "She is all upset to-day—and it is simply the result of a man's thoughtless accion."

Cynthia agreed.

While Mrs. Livingstone was occupied in looking over dainty negligees and looking over dainty negligees and looking over dainty negligees and looking over dainty negligees.

Daily Dot Puzzle

And see the form of Marg'ry Daw.

THE FOUR OF HEARTS A SERIAL OF YOUTH AND ROMANCE

By VIRGINIA VAN DE WATER

negligees, etc.—that must be bought, or, at least, ordered. I have told Oscar to have the car here at 2.30, You, Cynthia and I can go shopping together."

"I do not feel like shopping," Dora objected. "I have been getting wedding clothes until I am tired of the thought of them."

Her mother looked shocked. "Dora that is hardly a nice thing to say! Were you well, you would not speaks. Time is flying, and, as your wedding will be in the spring, you must gradually get what you want. I made an appointment with Madame Charlotte for you to come down this afternoon and look over some importations she has just received from the company of the company of the part of her betrothed, should not should not should not the part of her betrothed should not should not should not the part of her bet ding clothes until I am tired of the thought of them."

Her mother looked shocked. "Dorathat is hardly a nice thing to say! Were you well, you would not speak so. Time is flying, and, as your wedding will be in the spring, you must gradually get what you want. I made an appointment with Madame Charlotte for you to come down this afternoon and look over some importations she has just received from Paris."

"Cynthia can go and look at them for me." Dora insisted. "I'll trust her taste. She is exactly the same figure and size I am, so she could try the things on for me."

Remonstrance was in vain, as Mrs. Livingstone knew. There were occasions on which she did not argue with this spoiled child, aware that nothing would be accomplished by the process. Instead, she turned to Cynthia.

"Are you two girls really so near the same size?" she questioned.

"Yes," Cynthia replied. "We have won way in spite of heartaches or heartbreaks.

And was she not right? Cynthia argued. If Dora was unhappy because of a thoughtless action on the parent resent such action? Cynthia and to admit that Dora's behavior last night tended to justify her mother's theory that the girl was made uncomfortable by Milton's apparent neglect. The fault was as show her even the smallest attention.

Her heart contracted with pain as she made this resolve. The pain itself warned her that she must be on the parent resent such action? Cynthia and to admit that Dora's behavior last the parent resent such action? Cynthia and to admit that Dora's behavior last the parent resent such action? Or the parent resent such action? Or the parent resent such action of the betrothed, should not the parent resent such action? Or the parent resent such action of the betrothed, should not the parent resent such action? Or the caus

"Are you two girls really so near the same size?" she questioned. "Yes," Cynthia replied. "We have tried on each other's dresses. We could actually wear each other's clothes if necessary."

Mrs. Livingstone mused for a moment. "In that case," she remarked at last, "perhaps, Cynthia, you would be willing to go in Dora's place this afternoon. You could try on some of the new importations I mentioned, and we can send them home for Dora's inspection. Will you go?"

"Certainly," Cynthia agreed.
While Mrs. Livingstone was occupied in looking over dainty negligees careful of Dora's feelings," Mrs. Livingstone continued. "The dear girl is naturally inclined to be jealous, and, although she knows that Milton adores her, yet it hurts her to see him seem to neglect her in public." "Neglect her?" Cynthia repeated the words mechanically.

"Of course, he does not really neglect her," her aunt hastened to supplement. "But he has a way of paying attention to the woman who happens to be next to him. That is why he held your cloak for you last evening after supper."

"You see, that left Dora with only her father to put her wrap on her," Mrs. Livingstone continued. "Of course, Mr. Stewart had thoughts only for you. I even had to ask him to hold my cloak for me. Milton, as his friend, should try to regard his feelings. I am sure that Mr. Stewart thinks this also."

"But, Aunt Amanda," Cynthia protested, "you are mistaken."

Newberry Man Gets Up for Breakfast With Voracious Appetite and Eats Everything

Fred Welch, 840 Clark street, Newberry, said:

"For a long time I suffered from stomach trouble, catarrh, constipation and a general run down condition. I also had an attack of grippe and felt miserable.

"Now all that is changed When I get up in the morning now I am wild with hunger. I enjoy my meals immensely and it seems to add happiness to my life.

"Almost simultaneously all my ailments disappeared. With my appetite restored I feel like a new man and when I go to bed, I get a good sound night's sleep, and I awake much refreshed in the morning. I am pleased to recommend Tanlac and as far as I a personally concerned, I would not be without it."

Tanlas, is now being introduced here at Gorgas' Drug Store.

Glenville Boy Killed When Thrown From Horse

Glenville, Pa., March 21.-Vernon

Safety Fence Built by Railroad Reduces Values

Sunbury, Pa., March 21 .- Record ooper, 13-year-old son of Mrs. Wil- of the sale of the Gresh Hotel in

CHAPTER XXXI

(Copyright, 1918, Star Co.)

It was the day after the theater party and Dora had a headache. She was also rather cross.

This last symptom was not evident until luncheon time, when her mother reminded her that this afternoon should be spent in shopping.

"There are a number of things you should be seeing about, daughter."

"There are a number of things you should be seeing about, daughter."

"He is so sure of Dora, and she is so sure of him, that they defy conventionalities. Neither her father nor myself intends to allow it any together."

"It does not like abovaive."

"There was an authoritative ring in the last sentence that must be bought, or at least, ordered. I have told Oscar to have the car here at 2.30. You, Cynthia and I can go shopping together."

"It does not lately that most do not lately that you do not realize was riding and one of his legs became entangled in a trace chain. The horse took fright and bolted, fracturing the boy's skull when his head struck the hard roadway. The animal run a short distance and stream the horse took fright and bolted, fracturing the boy's skull when his head struck the hard roadway. The animal run a short distance and the full that they defy conventionalities. Neither her father nor myself intends to allow it any longer."

The horse took fright and bolted, fracturing the boy's skull when his head struck the hard roadway. The animal run a short distance and the proving the provin

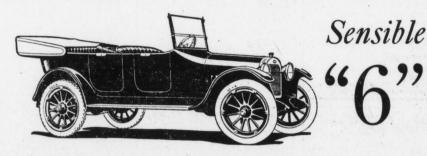

The Japanese Way To Remove Corns Doesn't Hurt a Bit-Easy and Simple

The Magic Touch of Ice-Mint Does It. Just a Touch Stops Soreness, Then the Corn or Callous Shrivels and Lifts Off. Try It. Your Feet Will Feel Cool and Fine.

Just a touch of Ice-mint and only what relief. Corns and callouses vanish, soreness disappears and you can dance all night or walk all the corns with urt a bit. No matter what you have tried or how many times you have been disappointed here is a real help for you at last. From the very second that Ice-mint touches that sore, tender corn your poor tired, aching feet will feel so cool, easy and comfortable that you will just sigh with relief. Think of it; just al little touch of that delightful, cooling Ice-mint and real foot joy is yours. No mat-

(To Be Continued)

The New OAKLAND

This Car has all kinds of Power there are no hills around Harrisburg it can't climb

Extraordinary popularity has marked the history of the Oakland Sensible Six since its advent into the market of moderately priced carsa popularity based upon a very unusual combination of characteristics which are to-day more strongly in demand than ever before.

A large roomy car of exceptional light weight, unlimited power, and with a highly perfected engine of small bore and long stroke. This assures an exceedingly small consumption of gasoline and a large tire mileage. The Sensible Six weighs only 2,130 pounds. The tires are oversize 32x4. 'Can you imagine anything in the automobile line that meets the requirements of speed, power and economy to equal this

In beauty of out-line it is the equal of many of the higher priced cars. It is indeed a real pride to its owner.

When considering a car don't neglect to investigate this wonder of the 1918 models.

Prices F.O. B. Pontiac

Touring car $1050 Roadster $1050 $1550 Coupe -Sedan - -$1250

Andrew Redmond, Distributor

Phones BELL 2133

Roadster-Coupe . $1210

Third and Reily Streets