LEADERS AGREE TO STRIKE PACT

No Disturbances During the War; Board Settles Railroad Disputes

Washington, March 23.—Virtually ironclad agreements, which will preclude the possibility of strikes during the war and as long after as mutually agreeable conditions...

Names of Signers

The agreement is signed by A. H. Smith, C. H. Mansfield and R. H. Alston, regional directors for the railroads, and W. S. Stone, grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers...

Assurance Given by Both

It is stipulated that this understanding shall remain in force and effect during the period of the present war and thereafter, unless a majority of the regional directors on one or both sides representing the railroads, or a majority of the chief executive officers of the organizations on the other hand, as representing the employees, shall desire to terminate the same which can, in these circumstances, be done on thirty days' formal notice...

The railway adjustment board No. 1 will consist of four members selected by the regional directors and compensated by the railroads, and one member each selected by the chief of the brotherhoods and compensated by the brotherhoods.

The board will meet in Washington in ten days of selection and will hold monthly meetings at which matters before it will be settled before adjournment.

The old commission of eight, which was to adjust disputes arising out of the application of the eight-hour law, has announced its board of adjustment. All decisions of a general character heretofore made by the commission of eight are confirmed and shall apply to all railroads under government operation unless excepted in the eight-hour law.

The growth of the rubber business has been amazing. It is going on today with phenomenal acceleration. A conservative and well-managed rubber enterprise, in our opinion, offers security to the investor that is excelled in no other line.
