Military Expert Tells

"The Secretary will ask authority from Congress to issue bonds bearing interest at the rate of 4% per cent.

These senators realize that what the John with the Junited States is doing may aid the same loyalty and enthusiasm that characterized their support of the first two loans. The great events now happening in France must fire the soul of every American with a new determination to furnish all the follars and all the material resource America that are needed to put in end to the execrable atrocities of America that are needed to put in end to the execrable atrocities of German militarism. Defeat faces the Kaiser. Let us hasten it by asserting America's might with increased vigor n concert with our gallant comades."

TO MAKE THEM STRONG

Over-worked Men, whose vitality becomes impaired by long hours of arduous labors, need just such a vitalizing, blood-making and strengthening tonic as Vinol is proved to be by its published formula. There is no other medicine that builds up health, strength and vitality so surely.

"I was all 'fagged out,' run down, no appetite, nervous, sleepless nights, and drowsy during the day, and was not fit to work. A friend told me to take Vinol. I did so, and can now eat three square meals a day. I sleep well, am alert, active, strong and well, and have gained eleven pounds."—A. W. Higby, Sheboygan, Wis.

"England's fight is our fight, for every man our ally loses now we must supply three more to take their place, for every shell she fires into the German hordes now we must be prepared to fire three more when ur turn comes. for every square nile of civilized land wrestled by the Hun to-day we must set our eeth to regain three square miles later. I speak contrasting our population and resources with those of England. It is our manifest course to take up the burdens our allies can no longer hold and to make good is the best as soon as possible the three years leficit we owe the allied cause."

The need for Anglo-American solidarity in the present crisis expressed to-day by senators from widely scattered states was focused in the above words by Senator Mecumber, of North Dakota. "From now on we have got to use the iron hand at home as well as abroad." said Senator King, of Utah with whom rests principle credit for taying bai" the treacherous activities of the German-American Alliance.

"The time for patience with those elements in our midst, who would put themselves on the German side, is at an end. There are just two sides now, the friends of Germany and her enemies. Those who would work against our government now are her friends and we must treat them as we would treat Germans on the battlefield."

Senator Frelinghuysen. of New Jersey, took the stand that America must wake up in good earnest now. not only to do some active work in assisting the allies, but as a measure of necessary self-defense. He pointed out that should the Germans break through. rolling up the British on the north and the French on the south, it would be with France a question of separate peace or annihilation. Such a victory, he thought would mean the virtual end of allied resistance in Europe, and would be followed by a demand from Germany that America pay huge indemnity.

"I don't think this will happen."

from Germany that America pay huge indemnity.
"I don't think this will happen," said Senator Frelinghuysen, "but' it isn't at all visionary, and, in line with the many unexpected things which have come about during the last year, we certainly ought to be prepared for such a contingency."

He advocated that the shipbuilding program be enlarged and every effort made to speed up production, that warship construction be rushed and that the defenses along the Atlantic and gulf coasts he put into shape for immediate action.

Swinging around the Botha attempted to repeat the ramming maneuver on the next German astern. The enemy craft, however, eluded the effort of the crippled Britisher, but only to fall a victim to the French destroyers. Ablaze, the German boat lay disabled while the Frenchmen pounded her with torpedoes and gunfire.

18 Hun Craft in Raid

The Morris lost the rest of the quarry in the mist and took the lame Botha in tow, while the French destroyers circled around, picking up prisoners. From the statements of prisoners it appears that eighteen German craft participated in the raid and when they fled from the French coast, leaving three of their number behind, they were attacked by a British naval air squadron, which pelted them with bombs and scattered them in disorder in all directions.

Two German destroyers and two German torpedo boats were believed to have been sunk in the action off Dunkirk, according to an announcement made by the British Admiralty of March 21: It was said no allied vessels were sunk and that one damaged British destroyer had reached port.

29 Years Superintendent of Lebanon County Schools

Annville, Pa., March 26.—County superintendent John W. Snoke, a resident of Annville, from boyhood until his removal to Lebanon a few years ago, this week celebrated the twenty-ninth anniversary of his appointment as county superintendent of schools. Professor Snoke was appointed by State Superintendent of Public Instruction Dr. E. E. Higher, upon the recommendation of of Public Instruction Dr. E. E. Hig-bee, upon the recommendation of Deputy Superintendent Henry Houck and now ranks third in length of ser-vice, being surpassed only by County Superintendents Hamilton, of Alle-gheny, and Smith, of Chester. It is interesting to note that his predecessor, Professor William B. Bodenhorn, who occupied the posi-tion for a number of years, was also a resident of Annville.
