

STINE PLANS BIG RESERVE WORK

New Major Will Take Charge of the Training on Friday Evening

Dr. Henry M. Stine, the newly elected major commandant of the Harrisburg Reserves to-day, announced that he would assume charge of the training of the Reserves on Friday night, at the City Grays armory. The new major requested that all members desiring to continue in the Reserves and all citizens who wish to join, should either enroll at once or present themselves at the armory on Friday night.

The Reserves will be reorganized and the roll will be made up of men who presented themselves at the meeting held last Friday or who enroll this week. The course of training will be of a different character from that of the last six months, and will be based upon the working out of certain lines of duty which home defense organizations are likely to be called upon to perform. The new major is just home from Camp Hancock, and some of the latest ideas in the training of the soldiers will be applied to the home defense organization. In addition to this practical work, new lines of activity will be presented to the Reserves.

Under the by-laws of the organization, the major will divide the Reserves into new units and name new officers. Regularity of attendance will be required.

Men who were active last summer and did not attend drills during the winter, and who wish to continue, and all others interested are requested to either appear at the armory or else send names to the secretary of the Reserves, Box 131, Harrisburg.

NEWS ITEMS OF THE WEST SHORE

Two Lemoyne Streets to Be Oiled This Summer

Lemoyne, Pa., March 26.—Hummel avenue and Rossmoyne street will be oiled this summer to abate the dust, according to present plans. A meeting of the Lemoyne Welfare League will be held in the near future for the purpose of collecting money with which to purchase the oil.

So great a success was the oiling last year that members of the committee which will be appointed to collect funds do not expect to meet with any opposition. Lemoyne residents last year had their first experience with oiled streets and at the close of the automobile season all agreed that this method was the only way to abate the dust nuisance.

Last year when oil was first suggested as a dust abater residents were up in arms and at the onset of a campaign for money committee men met with many discouragements. After considerable effort it was possible to raise the amount of money necessary to purchase enough oil for Rossmoyne street and Hummel avenue. The oil was used and but for the coming of the winter it was to be used to reoil the streets this summer.

The most important work of the Lemoyne Welfare League, which was organized more than a year ago, is to see that the streets are oiled. A meeting will be called by the secretary of the league at an early date for the purpose of reorganizing.

George Leach, chairman of the highway committee of council and also an active member of the Welfare League, assures the support of council in the work.

Hotels and Restaurants Must Observe Food Rules

Fifty hotels and restaurants were closed in New York last week because they did not comply with the rules of the food administration. Today Howard Heinz sent out a bulletin again warning the proprietors of eating places to sign the pledge of cards if they want to stand in right with Uncle Sam. "All who have not signed are not co-operating and will be dealt with accordingly," is his significant conclusion.

Regarding wheat flour substitutes he warns that mills which are making combination sales on the basis of offering wheat flour at fair prices, with substitutes at high prices, will certainly run foul of the administration and be punished.

He announces that rye flour and rye meal are no longer permissible substitutes and that corn flakes and other breakfast cereals not specifically mentioned in the official list are not recognized as substitutes. It has been ruled that all those cereals of locally specified as flour substitutes may be sold and purchased in any commercial form in which they are regularly packed, that is to say, either bulk or package.

Marysville Red Cross Branch Has 662 Members

Marysville, Pa., March 26.—Six hundred and sixty-two members is the record of the local Red Cross branch, no longer an auxiliary of the Harrisburg society, but forming alone a branch of the great American Red Cross Society. Untiring efforts on the part of those at the head of the movement have achieved these results in Marysville. Membership committees are still busy scouring the town to raise the record of the unit to the goal set to one thousand members. The start of the Marysville society was quite discouraging, but it is now one of the largest, if not the largest, Red Cross organization in Perry county.

Extensive arrangements are being made to have a big community meeting at the time of the next regular monthly meeting. The date has been set for Thursday evening, April 4, at the Galen theater. Mrs. L. B. Palmer and other prominent workers in the interest of the Red Cross Chapter at Harrisburg, will be speakers at the meeting.

Within the past several days the workroom of the Marysville Red Cross branch has been removed to Diamond Hall, from the residence of Mrs. R. G. Cunningham, in Maple avenue. More room is now available. A call has been issued by the society for more sewing machines which are now badly needed.

New Cumberland to Ask State Aid to Repair Street

New Cumberland, Pa., March 26.—This borough, through its town council, is seeking state aid for permanent repairs to the section of highway, about 2,761 feet in length, situated on state highway route 250. The proposed construction of government buildings the summer it is traveled to a great extent and consequently large ruts are worn in the street. As much as $1,000 has been spent on repairs to the street in one summer.

If the government buildings are erected near the town all travel to and from them will be on Bridge street in the borough. The street now is in bad shape and with any increased travel it would probably be impassable for heavy trucks.

For several years council has been grading and macadamizing the street in an effort to keep it in condition for travel. At the same time application for state aid was made to state department officials with no result. An ordinance was passed at the meeting of council this month, again asking state aid. The borough is willing to pay one-half of the total expense for the improvement, the ordinance provides.

The street is part of the state highway to York over the South mountains. During the summer it is traveled to a great extent and consequently large ruts are worn in the street. As much as $1,000 has been spent on repairs to the street in one summer.

Science Solves the Butter Problem with Butter Made from the White Meat of Cocoanuts

Just when the price of butter threatens to make it an unattainable luxury, science perfects TROCO, the new vegetable butter made from the white meat of the cocoanut.

It tastes exactly like the finest creamery butter and is even more wholesome and pure.

It is churned with fresh Pasteurized milk to give true butter flavor.

Because of old laws, made before this discovery, we are compelled to label this nut-made butter as oleomargarine. But it contains no oleo oils—no hog or beef fat.

TROCO is simply vegetable fats, churned with milk for the butter taste. Yet this appetizing combination costs no more than does the best grades of oleomargarine.

It makes such cake as has not been known since butter soared in price. It allows the old-fashioned "rich cooking" that builds up the family health.

Your Dealer Can Supply TROCO

If your dealer doesn't already keep TROCO, ask him to get it for you. Tell him you must have this new-day successor to butter. Insist until he secures a supply. For TROCO solves one of the biggest problems presented by our high food prices—The problem of serving appetizing, wholesome butter at a moderate cost. Made by the TROCO NUT BUTTER CO., Milwaukee, Wis.

Can't Be Told From Butter

TROCO has all the good qualities of fine creamery butter. The only difference you will notice is the cost.

It is as nutritious as cream butter, and as easily digested. It possesses the fuel value needed for energy.

TROCO when served has butter's golden color, because we supply the same vegetable coloring used by all butter makers.

Served on your table, without explanation, no one can tell the difference.

Goes Farther In Cooking

TROCO, used in cooking, gives the same results as butter, except that it goes farther. Cooks should remember this and reduce the amount.

EDSON BROS., Distributors
Harrisburg, Pa.

NOTICE: Under the law, all butter substitutes must be branded Oleomargarine. That law was passed there is no "no" in it. All butter substitutes must pay an extra tax if colored. So the color for TROCO comes in a capsule. Add it yourself, as you do with Oleomargarine.
