German Advance Held Up Everywhere

By Associated Press

Paris, March 27.—Last night the German advance was held up everywhere according to the official statement of the war office to-day. The enemy weakened by heavy losses, it adds, has been obliged to slow up his officials.

efforts.
The statement follows:
"Last evening and during the night the Germans, weakened by their heavy losses, were compelled to retard their efforts. The valiance of the French troops, defending the ground foot by foot is beyond all praise.

"The French are holding a line running through L'Echelle, St. Aurin and Beauvraignes, north of Lassigny, in front of the southern part of Noyon and along the left bank of the Oise. During the night the French repulsed strong reconnoitering parties, which attempted to approach their positions northwest of Noyon.

HAVE DARK HAIR AND LOOK YOUNG

Nobody can Tell when you Darken Gray, Faded Hair with Sage Tea.

Grandmother kept her hair beauti-

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use, at very little cost. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and beautiful. This preparation is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

TEUTON LOSSES REACH 400,000 WITHIN 5 DAYS

WEDNESDAY EVENING,

Paris, March 27.—Emperor willatest and most important gains have been made, he has been unable to push west of Roye and Noyon. British Line Holds

The British line from the Scarpe river southwest through Representatives See Work Albert to the Somme has held fast for twenty-four hours and the Germans have been repulsed in local attacks along this sector. The front here is now west of the old Somme battlefield and west of the Ancre river just north of Albert, which is 18 miles northwest of Amiens.

South of the Somme the Germans have advanced west of the old front before the beginning of the Franco-British offensive of 1916, but have not gained it west of Noyon.

A further advance on this sector might endanger the French hold on the southern bank of the Oise which has been steadfast

From Noyon eastward to south of La Fere the French hold strong positions along the Oise which the Germans have been unable to push back. It is reported from Berlin unofficially that French and American troops have carried out strong counterattacks south of La Fere against the pivot of the German line, but without success.

Germans Make No Gains

The apex of the blunt pointed wedge the Germans have driven in the British lines in six days is east of Albert. Berlin reports that British counterattacks here have been repulsed, on the other hand, the Germans have made no gains.

The outer points of the wedge are Monchy, South of the Scarpe and the Oise river south of La Fere.

That the enemy did not make other attacks on the western front simultaneously with his blow west of Cambrai is accounted for by the statement from Field Marshal Haig that the Germans have used up most of their reserves and that more than 840,000 men have been thrown into the battle by the enemy. All other sectors of the western front have been drawn on by the Germans to abandon the town of Richecourt American gunners on the sector northwest of Toul have forced the Germans to abandon the town of Richecourt, opposite the American lines. This town has been shelled heavily as has St. Baussant and other important points behind the enemy lines. The artillery on both sides has been busy firing gas shells, but the Americans have given the enemy two shells for every one of his.

BRITISH FORCED BACK SLIGHTLY NEAR BRAY

London, March 27 .- A heavy attack made early in the night against the new British line south of the Somme. It was repulsed after severe fighting, the war office announces.

In consequence of attacks yesterday afternoon and evening astride the Somme the British troops in both banks were forced back a short distance in the neighborhood of Bray.

The anouncement follows: 'As a result of the enemy's attacks yesterday afternoon and evening astride the Somme, our troops on both banks were forced back a short distance in the neighborhood of Bray. A heavy attack made early in the night against our new line south of the Somme was repulsed after severe fighting. At one point in the neighborhood of the river the enemy forced his way into our

GERMAN LOSSES APPALLING IN FIVE DAYS OF CARNAGE

British Army Headquarters in France, March 27.—The Germans last night continued their furious on slaught southwestward from Ham against the allied defenses in the region of Roye and Noyon, having slowed down in their patent attempt to cut through the British line further north, where such desperate resistance was offered.
Hard fighting occurred last night about the town of Albert Large enemy forces pushed corward toward the British were holding them doggedly at their bossible gateway to Amiens.
The conflict in the sector around Roye and Noyon appear to be of great importance, from the many indications that the German higher command is attempting to split the

Victory Won, but Result Is Not Seen, Says Hindenburg Aide

By Associated Press
Amsterdam, March 27.—"A great battle has been fought and victory won, but nobody can foresee what will result from it," said General von Ludendorff, chief aid to Field Marshal von Hindenburg, in an interview with the correspondent at the front of the Tages Zeitung, of Berlin.

The general praised the British for their tenacious resistance and continued:

"The British believed they could rely on the strength of machinery. The employment of tanks and great numbers of machine guns is typical of their methods of warfare."

The German infantry, the general adds, had only one night's normal rest during five or six days of battle.

"In a battle like this," he remarked. "the infantryman must risk his life not only once but continuously, from trench to trench."

Enemy Must Be Brought to Submissive Spirit, Says German Paper

Amsterdam, March 27.—The German newspapers already are counting the German gains.
"It is self-evident," says the Cologne Volks Zeitung, "that after what is happening now we no longer can conclude peace on the terms which we were ready to accept a week ago. The enemy must be brought to a submissive spirit and forced to everything we need in the future, especially in colonies and raw materials,"

Shells Fired by Monster

By Associated Press

REGISTRY TO By Associated Press Paris, March 27.—The caliber of the shells that are being fired into Paris by the German long range gun is 8.8 inches and the length of the shell is 20 inches, L'Homme Libre, Premier Clemenceau's newspaper states. The shell weighs 200 pounds and contains less than twenty pounds of explosives. The shell is provided with a fuse protected by a threaded stopper and has a diaphragm inside which divides the shell into two compartments of unequal size. Two holes in the diaphragm afford communication between the two pockets. These facts are accepted as an explanation of the two explosions which on one occasion have followed in quick succession and which led to the belief that two guns were firing. START MONDAY

Correspondent Writes Paper That Attacks by U.S. Troops Were Repulsed

By Associated Press
Amsterdam, Tuesday, March 26.— American troops have taken part in counterattacks against the German front near La Fere, writes the military correspondent of the Vorwaerts, who says the attacks were repulsed.
The correspondent adds:
"After the first surprise the enemy pressure along the entire front naturally is growing stronger. Threat urally is growing stronger. Threat-ening catastrophe compels the enemy to reckless action. South of the break through' front he, therefore, is collecting strong reserves intend-ed for a flank assault on our at-tacking army.

"Attacks of combined Allied forces yesterday against the pivot of the German attacking front near La Fere were particularly heavy. These German attacking front near La Fere were particularly heavy. These counterattacks did not find us unprepared. It testifies to the superior foresight of the German command that these attacks, in which American troops certainly participated only symbolically, were not only beaten off, but were thrown back on the Oise canal by an energetic blow."
