Enola Committee Starts War Garden Movement

Enola, Pa., March 28.—Every effort to increase the number of war gardens in this vicinity will be made by persons interested in the project. As there is no organization in town which is able to take charge of this move the committee which sold Liberty Bonds and War Savings Stamps will look after the work. George H. Horning, chairman of the committee, will have charge of the war garden committee. Last summer acres of land were devoted to war gardens with much success and a number of other people are desirous of planting gardens. Mr. Horning will make arrangements with owners of vacant lots near town and try and have them cultivated. In all probability a community garden will be called to get the names of the persons who wish to take out tracts.

Smith-Wallace Wedding Ceremony at Shiremanstown

Shiremanstown, Pa., March 28.—On Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Wallace, Sr., was the scene of a pretty wedding when their second daughter, Miss Vivian Theresa Wallace, became the bride of Clyde C. Smith, of Bolling Springs. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. C. D. Rishel, pastor of the Church of God at South Enola, who united in marriage the bride's parents. The bride was attired in a stylish spring suit of Pekin blue with hat to harmonize and carried a bouquet of sweetpeas. She was attended by Miss Ruth Keller, who wore a lovely changeable taffeta silk frock. Frank E. Wallace, Jr., brother of the bride, was best man. Both young folks are very popular and have a host of friends. The groom is connected with the Pennsylvania railroad at Enola.

They will reside here for the present, as Mr. Smith expects soon to be called to service. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home. This was followed by a noisy serenade.

Prisoner Released From Lockup Became Too Noisy

West Fairview, Pa., March 28.—William McKensie, of West Fairview, was the first person to be placed in the borough lockup this year. He was arrested on Saturday night by Constable Albert Shaull on a charge of being drunk and disorderly. He was placed in the lockup about 5 o'clock and at 9 o'clock he was released. McKensie evidently knew that residents of that neighborhood did not care much for noise and when awakening from a stupor he proceeded to make as much noise as possible. The result was that residents complained too much for Constable Shaull that he was released. Residents claimed he was not fined because he did not have any money.

Frederick Martienssen, Dead in Dynamite Blast, Widely Known in City

Advice reaching here to-day confirmed the reports that Frederick G. Martienssen, 254 Derry street, was the man killed yesterday by the premature explosion of dynamite at the Birdsboro quarry, near Monocacy, eleven miles from Reading.

Martienssen was blown to bits by the explosion while preparing to discharge a blast of twenty-five tons of dynamite, one of the largest blasts ever set off in this part of the state. Identification of the dead man would have been impossible were it not for the fact that he was known to be the only man killed.
