Dr. J. George Becht, of the State Department of Education, has gone to Lewisburg, where he will give a lecture this evening. The University Club of that place have invited Dr. Becht to lecture. While there he will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Goho, former residents of this city.

TELLS ABOUT A CHRONIC TROUBLE

Mrs. John O'Brien, 659 N. 15th St., Philadelphia, writes: "I had been troubled for years with chronic constipation, until my whole system seemed poisoned, and I suffered with headache, lamproor, depression and general impaired health. I began taking Sulpher Tablets and got immediate relief. I am, after many months, still regular in habits, and thank you, and hope they will become known to thousands, etc." If your blood is bad, tongue coated and you are constipated with stomach and bowel irregularity, get a tube of Sulpher Tablets of your druggist right away. They are made of sulphur, cream of tartar and herbs—so don't accept ordinary "sulphur" tablets.

Give Musical Program in Zion Lutheran Church

A delightful service was that given last evening in the Zion Lutheran Church at 8 o'clock in keeping with Holy Thursday of the Lenten days.
The cantata, "The Burden of the Cross," by William Reed, was sung, under the direction of Mrs. Edwin J. Deceve, the chorister. Those taking the principal parts included: Miss Nellie Jane Bennett, contralto; Lewis Zarker, tenor; and Stanley G. Buckenstoss, soloist of the Grace Methodist choir, who assisted in the stead of George Sutton, who is ill. William Bretz was organist for the chorus and gave a short prelude; "Andante in C," by Silas; and "Hymn of the Nuns," Wely, prior to the service, and a postlude, "March in B Flat," by Silas.

Chester W. Bricker, a student at the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy, will spend his Easter vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Bricker, 305 South Seventeenth street.

Read the Prize Essays at Patriotic Meeting

The State Colonial Dames held their annual patriotic meeting among the school children of the city yesterday afternoon in the Forney school building, of which J. D. Ferguson is principal.
At that meeting the winners of prizes for the best essays written on the subject, "What It Means to Be An American," were read. Mrs. Mabel Cronise Jones, chairman of the prize essay committee of Dauphin county, presented the prizes and announced that the subject for next year's essays would be, "Our Debt to France." These contests are held yearly by the Colonial Dames of Pennsylvania for the grammar school pupils.

The prizes for this year's essays given yesterday were awarded to: Robert DuBois Hoffsommer, first prize of fifteen dollars; Catherine Frederic, second, received five dollars, and Edgar Spatz, third prize of two dollars and a half.

Louis Dammers, Philadelphia, prominent eye specialist, was registered at the Hotel-Columbus yesterday.

COURT RULES OUT VERDICT OF JURY

Sets Aside Award of $1,948, and Directs Judgment in Favor of Defense

Reversing a jury verdict of $1,948 in favor of Ovid R. Girvin in his suit against Joseph L. Shearer, Jr., Associate Law Judge S. J. M. MacCulloch in an opinion handed down yesterday directed judgment in favor of the defendant.
The suit was brought by Girvin for damages for an alleged breach of contract. Girvin made a deposit as part payment for the purchase of a plot 100 feet square at the southwest corner of Second and Woodbine streets, owned by Mr. Shearer. Later he contended Mr. Shearer would not give him a satisfactory deed as there were building restrictions which were to be put on the plot, one of them prohibiting the erection of more than one dwellinghouse. Girvin's plan was to use the location for an apartment house. Judge MacCulloch in his opinion quotes a number of higher court decisions in which it is ruled that a purchaser of property must not necessarily follow out and observe a restriction put in a deed when a plot is sold, and that Girvin as a result suffered no loss and was not entitled to a verdict. The case had been reserved at the trial of the case months ago and was argued later.

Need New Bridge—Viewers to report on the need of a new bridge over Penna creek, Snyder county, two miles northwest of Selingsgrove, were appointed late yesterday by President Judge George Kunkel. The board includes: C. W. Herman, Selingsgrove; Calvin Stetler, Middleburg; E. Clark Cowden, civil engineer; Joel Claster and John A. F. Hall, all of Harrisburg.

Prison Board Meeting—A meeting of the Board of Prison Inspectors will be held on Monday morning.
Files Petition—A. S. Fields has filed a nomination petition with the county commissioners as a candidate on the Republican ticket for city committeeman in the Eleventh Ward, First precinct.

Office Under Water—A leaking water pipe in the office of County Recorder James E. Lentz covered the floor of one of the rooms with water. Clerks at the office made the discovery when they arrive in the morning and repairs were made at once. None of the books was damaged.

LEWIS QUILTS CAMPAIGN
Chicago, March 29. — Senator James Hamilton Lewis, of Illinois, has abandoned his speaking campaign in Wisconsin in behalf of Jasper E. Lusk, Democratic candidate for United States Senator. Senator Lewis arrived here last night on his way to Washington, where he has been called by important telegrams from colleagues in the Senate," he said.
