GROUSE LOSING PETITIONS DUE

Plan is to Limit Time of Filing to April 15; Propagation Work Goes On

Present plans of the State Game Commission officers are to have all of the petitions for the closing of counties to the shooting of ruffed grouse for the two year period in hand by the fifteenth of April so that they can be acted upon by the commission at the same time and uniform arrangements be made. Petitions are now in circulation in every county where the grouse have been known in the last half dozen years and in some where none have been known for a number of years. The movement to protect the splendid game bird is general and there is little doubt in the minds of the State Game officials that will be given a great measure of popular support.

The petitions were started out something over a month ago and were placed in the hands of men interested with an arrangement whereby the advertisements and assembling of the papers could be handled in one circulation. This has worked very satisfactorily in most counties and the commission has been advised that thousands of signatures have been obtained.

Thus far practically no opposition has appeared. Some inquiries have been made which indicate that men have opinions on the subject, but they have been informed of the scope of the movement not only in the state but nationally and it is not anticipated that any serious objection will develop. The letter being sent out by the Game Commission on the subject of the petition to the very general support for the plan.

President of Perry County C. E. Union Goes to Army
Duncannon, Pa., March 30.—Elder E. Hamilton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Hamilton, of Duncannon, and president of the Perry County Christian Endeavor Union, will leave for the army at the United States military service—An application for the military service of Northern France and Belgium was made through all the churches last Sunday. The Red Cross rooms were open Monday and Tuesday for the purpose of receiving the contributions. The donations numbered three hundred and seventy-five articles, all of which were useful garments, food, clothing, and other necessities.

One of the strong features with J. A. Coburn's Greater Minstrels, who appear at the Orpheum Theatre to-night, is the singing Minstrel party, composed of Ed. Samsom, lead clarinet, Howard Fulton, "top tenor," with a strong chorus. The comedy part of the evening's program is in strong hands, headed by that comical, clever prince of blackface comedians, Charley Gano; Tom Post, the singing, dancing tango trombone expert; Jimmy Russell, the humorous, funny, and funny acts; Kent Gage, the American harpist; Karl Denton (the mysterious); and the "Down Home Ten," an aggregation of colored entertainers in a lively singing and dancing offering. An attraction of interest on the same bill is the appearance in person of dainty Jean Sothorn, the moving picture favorite, star of the serial "The Mysteries of Mraz."

William Wood and Arthur C. Aiston's revival of "Mrs. Wiggs" in the comedy of the famous books has been enriched by the fancy of the dramatist. The play is a quiet, most successful offering of its kind in the history of the theater, and that it will live to its reputation for "big business."

Laughter and tears are close together all through the play, and the comedy of the famous books has been enriched by the fancy of the dramatist. The play is a quiet, most successful offering of its kind in the history of the theater, and that it will live to its reputation for "big business."

MAJESTIC
High Grade of Vaudeville.
The popularity of William S. Hart as Harrisburg's favorite screen star, has been proved by the large "Between Men" crowds who have gathered at the popular Victoria Theater in the several pictures, "The Apostle of Vengeance," "The Patriot" and now "Between Men," which is being shown to-day for the last time. The most big scene in "Between Men" is a thrilling fight scene, in which two men are locked in a death-grip in a room. The scene is so well acted that occasional flashes of light to show how the fight is progressing. The scene is so well acted that occasional flashes of light to show how the fight is progressing.

AMUSEMENTS

TO-NIGHT—Alma Gluck and Salvatore de Stefano. A u d i o r i u m, evening, April 2, has a voice of such loveliness that it thrills all who hear it. When so severe a critic as the New York Sun says, "In numbers calling for an all-time best evening, Alma Gluck is past mistress," the content of all nations, which is the most interesting plays produced in recent years.

TO-NIGHT—Avery Hopwood, master of farce, ran his own show of "Fair and Warmer" at the Orpheum Theatre, Monday, April 8, for one night only. Mr. Hopwood's admirers, dating from "Seven Days and 'Nobody's Widow," two great successes of former seasons, found in his latest work the same sparkle, line and cleverness of characterization which has graced the others, with an added humorousness of situation. The scene built around the inexperienced experimenter making of a cocktail puts in a humorous and amusing way the vicarities. The long New York run of the piece, with its thousands of out-of-town visitors, and the subsequent record of unparalleled success wherever it went, spread the fame of "Fair and Warmer" and created a demand for it. This uproarious farce had its welcome reception in every city where it was created a vigorous demand for it. This uproarious farce had its welcome reception in every city where it was created a vigorous demand for it.

TO-NIGHT—A Raw, Sore Throat. Eases Quickly When You Apply a Little Musterole. And Musterole won't blister like the old-fashioned mustard plaster. Just spread it on with your fingers. It penetrates to the sore spot with a gentle tingle, loosens the congestion and draws out the soreness and pain. Musterole is a clean, white ointment made with oil of mustard. It is fine for quick relief from sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bite, colds on the chest. Nothing like Musterole for croupy children. Keep it handy for instant use. 30c and 60c jars; hospital size $2.50.

TO-NIGHT—Famous Beauties NEVER GET FAT. Womanhood wonders why famous beauties grow old, but do not grow fat. They live at sixteen ease, amid the porcelain flesh pots. The who that puts out obese mortals, flows not liberally down their abalastor throats, let their long long legs not thicken their limbs, nor their chins. What is the secret of the long-lived gracefulness of the haughty?
