ESTATE OFFERED WAR DEPARTMENT

"Forest Hills," Country Home of John Lindner, Tendered for Camp and Hospital

Carlisle, Pa., April 1.—"Forest Hills," the big country estate of John Lindner, head of the Lindner Shoe company, of Carlisle, located about three miles northwest of town, was formally tendered to the War Department by telegraph on Saturday night as a site for convalescent camp and hospital for American soldiers. The estate can be used for the purpose for the duration of the war.

The estate at present embraces some 200 acres and more ground will be secured and added if needed. The magnificent residence and all other buildings on the place, which is a complete community, are included. The estate is on a big bluff overlooking the Conodoguinet Creek and is classed as one of the most beautiful spots east of the Mississippi.

Mr. Lindner has used his golf links since war was declared for the Red cross and Twelfth Infantry at Camp Hancock, Augusta, Ga.

Two Employes of Printing Company Work Together in Office Half Century

Mechanicsburg, Pa., April 1.—Today marks the unusual anniversary of two Mechanicsburg men who have worked side by side for half a century. They are E. C. Gardner and S. J. Mounitz, of the Thomas Printing and Publishing company. They have been together in the office since 1867, when they started in the fall of 1866, by the late T. F. Singiser. Mr. Gardner worked at the case about a year, when Mr. Singiser gave him the position of local editor of that paper. In 1869 R. H. Thomas, A. H. Brinks and E. C. Gardner bought the Democrat and changed the name to The Valley Independent. On February 1, 1870, Mr. Thomas purchased the shares of Mr. Brinks and Mr. Gardner, and in 1872 purchased the shares of Mr. Mounitz. The two papers and the Valley Independent combined the two papers and called it The Independent Journal. This paper made its first issue in the year 1873, when it assumed larger proportions and was issued three days a week, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

In November, 1900, The Daily Journal was merged and has been a success ever since. It has had three different proprietors, R. H. Thomas, R. H. Thomas, Jr., and is now managed by the estate of R. H. Thomas.

During the fifty years Mr. Gardner has been the local editor of these different named papers and Mr. Mounitz has been a workman in the office. They probably have the unique distinction of being the only two men in any printing office in Pennsylvania who have worked together for half a century. And they are celebrating the occasion by being "on the job."

RED MEN ELECT OFFICERS

Waynesboro, Pa., April 1.—Uncas Tribe, Improved Order of Red Men, has elected the following officers: Prophet, Daniel Chener; sachem, J. C. Weaver; senior sagamore, J. E. Perviance; junior sagamore, John Ziegler; chief of records, H. S. Geiselman; keeper of standards, M. W. Thompson; trustee, J. C. McCleary; representative to great council, H. S. Geiselman; alternate, G. W. Potter. The great council will meet in Scranton, July 19.

FOOD CONSERVATION MEETING

Mechanicsburg, Pa., April 1.—On Saturday afternoon a food conservation meeting was held in the Methodist Episcopal Church, arranged by Mrs. R. H. Thomas, Jr., a member of the public safety committee of Cumberland county. The speakers were Miss Mary Fisher, of State College; Prof. J. Kelso Green, county superintendent of public instruction; H. H. Metzger, of Carlisle, county food administrator; The Rev. J. Ellis Bell presided.

Miss Fisher will be here this week and give demonstrations of the new war breads and substitutes.

MEETING AT LISBURA

Mechanicsburg, Pa., April 1.—On Wednesday evening a meeting of the Women's Liberty Loan will be held in Lisbura under the direction of Mrs. E. C. Hart and Mrs. Corda Kunkle, who made a record on raising war loans. Among the speakers will be Miss Margaret Moser and Mrs. J. W. Happer, of Mechanicsburg.

CARLISLE GIRL INHERITS $10,000

NEED PERMIT TO WEAR UNIFORM

National Red Cross Society Issues Bulletin Regulating Women Workers' Dress

Mechanicsburg, Pa., April 1.—This bulletin, received by the Rev. H. Hall Sharp, of the Pennsylvania Division of the American Red Cross, is a new pamphlet on uniforms for Red Cross women workers. It is the United States Red Cross recently issued to the chapters. You will note that it has been made obligatory for all workers wearing Red Cross uniforms to take the oath of allegiance and receive a uniform permit. All firms making Red Cross uniforms should be notified not to take orders for the uniform in the future, except upon the receipt of a duly authorized uniform permit.

These permits will be issued to the chapters by the division, upon request. Uniform permits for all women authorized to wear uniforms in Red Cross chapters will be signed by the chairman of the chapter or in the case of a large chapter, by a special committee of the chapter, with subcommittees for each service if this is deemed necessary.

"It will be noted that under the head of uniforms are included aprons and veils. Attention is particularly called to the necessity of taking the oath of allegiance, as set forth on page three of the manual.

"Division Manager."

From France to the Rev. Mr. Sharp came the following card which is of special interest:

"Your case of dressings has just been unpacked, and we are indeed grateful for its evidence of your continued co-operation. It would be an inspiration to you as it is to us, to see the work coming from your hands in the United States and from our remotest colonies. We must keep on thus, all working together, in order to win.

It would be an inspiration to you as it is to us, to see the work coming from your hands in the United States and from our remotest colonies. We must keep on thus, all working together, in order to win.

"Chief of Service."

This week the local chapter shipped a case to Division Headquarters in Philadelphia with 160 small cotton pads, 60 large cotton pads and 20 paper back pads.

Beautiful Easter Services at Mechanicsburg Churches

Mechanicsburg, Pa., April 1.—Easter services of beauty were held in the various churches here yesterday in which music had a prominent part.

The Church of God, under the direction of W. A. Sigler, a special musical program was given with the following soloists: Miss Helen Bantz, Miss Jessie Collins, Frank Hollinger and W. A. Sigler.

Spring rally was observed at the First United Brethren Church, with Sergeant William L. Laubenstein, of Harrisburg, as the principal speaker. An early morning service was held in St. Paul's Reformed Church at 6 o'clock which attracted a large audience.

In the Methodist Episcopal Sunday school, the children sang and recited after which each was presented with a potted plant in bloom as they marched around the room. The Rev. J. Ellis Bell delivered an Easter sermon and the music was under the direction of Mrs. H. A. Surface.

280 SLASHED TO DEATH IN FIGHT

taking money which did not belong to him. After a short time, Johnson, unable to pay the other soldiers, returned their money and went home to bed.

About ten minutes after he had returned the other two men, Tucker Copland and his brother, Odell Copland, became angered at his having left the room and pursued him to the street. The two men, who were carrying a broken into the bedroom found the man asleep. They at once began to pummel him with large rocks, which he was unable to evade. He was then taken to the hospital, where he died within five minutes.

Having received several ugly cuts about the head he then went to a hydrant outside the house to wash the blood from his face. As he was doing this the noise made by the water attracted the attention of the men inside, and they again attacked him with rocks. At this time Johnson's only retreat was the house occupied by Odell Copland. He ran through the house crying "leave me alone; you'll kill me." They still pursued him and finally cornered him in the front room of the house. Reaching over to a sideboard Johnson seized a razor and slashed the throat of Tucker Copland, who was nearest. The wounded man sank to his knees and crawled out the door. The attack by Odell, the brother, then became more furious, and he met the same fate as that of his brother, falling to the floor mortally wounded. He died within five minutes.

In the meantime Tucker had made his way to the office steps of Dr. J. A. Ullsh, in Lykens, about a quarter of a mile from the scene. He died to death before medical attention could be given him. The dying man, in a last fight for life, with a deep gasp in his throat, had succeeded in tying a handkerchief around his neck. It was found difficult to remove after his death.

Officer Oscar Hawk, of Lykens, was notified of the tragedy and at once set out to find Benjamin Johnson. He located him in Coaldale, about a half mile away. The arrest was made with no resistance and the man was placed in the town prison. The authorities having been notified, Corporal Jacob Eckinger, District Officer Michael E. Stroup and County Detective James Walters, of Harrisburg, arrived in Lykens at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon. The scene of the murder was inspected and names of witnesses ascertained. An inquest was held and the body was taken by automobile to the county prison at Harrisburg. The bodies of the murdered men will be sent to Philadelphia tomorrow morning by the Reiff & Belt undertaking establishment of Lykens.

RECEIVES WAR SOUVENIR

Waynesboro, Pa., April 1.—Carl F. Meyer, of Philadelphia, an officer in the United States Army, who is serving in France, a small piece of the sleeve of German officer's uniform. The small piece of goods is from an artillery uniform and shows marks of the blood and mud which were on it when its owner met with some injury, probably the loss of his life. Mr. Meyer prizes highly the piece of cloth as coming from the battlefield, where the world's greatest struggle is now taking place.

INDUSTRIES HELP CARLISLE

Carlisle, Pa., April 1.—Carlisle is on the boom due to new industries here and at Harrisburg, according to the statistics of the city which state that the number of better homes for rental now are limited. However, there is much new construction under way and it is expected that all demands will be taken care of. The standard of living here is apparently rising, for the buildings for rent are mainly those of less than $10 per month. There has been a considerable increase in apartment use here in the past year.

Huns in Attack Wore Garb of Americans

With the American Army in France, March 31.—The advance waves of the attacking Germans in the Somme were British and French and even American uniforms, according to information reaching the Americans here. The intelligence section of the army evidently thought the presence of American railway engineers in the battle, as the German launched an attack just opposite where they were working.

The Germans, it is declared, wore uniforms identical with that of the Americans, even to the typical American slouch hat.

The Rev. Dr. Cremer Dies at Chambersburg

Chambersburg, Pa., April 1.—On Saturday night the Rev. Dr. William C. Cremer died at his home on North Way East. He had been in declining health but his death was sudden. He was born in Pennsylvania on January 1, 1835, at Elizabethtown, Lancaster county, and was graduated from Franklin and Marshall College. He entered the ministry of the German Reformed Church and served in various capacities. He came here in 1876 to Zion Reformed Church where he was pastor until 1894. In Potomac, Md., he served for many years. He was also secretary of Franklin County Children's Union from its foundation until a year ago. His wife, a daughter and three sons survive.

Y. M. C. A. SECRETARY RESIGNS

Waynesboro, Pa., April 1.—General Secretary W. S. Trainer, of the Y. M. C. A., has tendered his resignation to take effect just as soon as the committee can find another to succeed him. Mr. Trainer has been affiliated with the Y. M. C. A. ever since it was started here. His resignation is to take charge of his father's business, and he will move his family to Carlisle.

MARRIED BEFORE CHRISTMAS

Waynesboro, Pa., April 1.—Friends of Dean Werdebaugh, of Pen Mar, and Miss Theima Harbaugh, of Waynesboro, were surprised when it was announced that this young and popular couple were married at Redbank, Md., shortly before Christmas by a Methodist minister. The young couple left quietly and unobserved for the Maryland shore. The wedding was reported unobserved the same evening. Their wedding had been kept a profound secret until now.

WILL RAISE BROOM CROP

Business Meetings of West Shore Council Bodies

West Fairview, Wormleysburg and New Cumberland councils will meet in monthly sessions in their respective boroughs this evening.

At the West Fairview session a resolution was adopted that the taxes which are being collected by Justice of the Peace Isaac Matter will be made. Council is anxious to settle up the tax matters with the board of directors. The board will take action tonight toward those lines.

At the meeting of the Wormleysburg council some action will be taken to have the board of directors to automobile speeding in Front Street. This street is in splendid condition and many motorists are taking advantage of this and using the street at a speedway. Similar conditions existed last year until several arrests were made.

New Cumberland council will take some action toward making temporary repairs to Bridge Street. Secretary to Council Kirk Wire, in a few days, will send an application to the State Highway Department for state aid in building a temporary street. The ordinance applying for state aid which was passed at the March meeting in this borough is being advertised and will become effective this week.

TO PRESENT "JUST FOR FUN"

Enola, Pa., April 1.—Members of the Enola High school are planning to give a play, entitled "Just For Fun," in the auditorium of the Summit street school building on Friday evening, April 26. The proceeds of the play will go to defray expenses of the commencement, which will be held the latter part of May. Miss Anna Book, a member of the Enola High school, is the principal of the training. The cast is as follows: Jane, an Irish maid, Nellie Gruber; Mable West, an heiress, Miriam Neaver; Edith Morton, a companion to the heiress, Esther Shuman; Mrs. Fitzgerald Mandeville de Smythe, a would-be society woman, Eloyne Finick; Jack Earl, a happy-go-lucky fellow; Beatrice Beckwith; Chelsea, in love with the heiress, Hilda Smith.

RESUMES SESSIONS

Wormleysburg, April 1.—Sessions of the Wormleysburg High school were resumed this morning after being suspended for two weeks on the resignation of the school board. The board being unable to get a teacher to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of S. H. Hetrick, who is now a teacher in Steelton High school, Joseph E. Hetrick, of Enola, to-day took up his duties as principal of the school. A reception for the new instructor was held in the schoolhouse on Saturday morning. Many of the students and patrons attended the affair to welcome the new teacher.

Bright Spring Days Emphasize the Need for a Lighter Weight Suit or Coat

April brings so many warm, balmy days of sunshine that it is a genuine tonic to step into a new spring suit or coat.

And there will be no better time this season to select a new garment than now, while style assortments are at their best—and while prices are moderately ranged.

We've assembled the very latest styles in suits and coats for women and misses, direct from America's greatest style creations—all over fabrics, separated tailored and fitted linings, deep hems, splendid workmanship.

Distinctive suit types for Misses and Women and for women of large size. The favored materials exclusive in our showing include imported English tweeds, and fine quality American tricotine. Charming touches of braid and rich linings are to be found in many of the styles presented this week.

Suits are $25 to $75. Coats, $22.50 to $75.00.
