

BEIDLEMAN TO GET LABOR AID

Senator Given Assurance of Strong Support at Philadelphia Meeting

Senator Edward E. Beidleman was given the endorsement of many Republican leaders from the central and eastern counties and the support of influential labor chieftains while in Philadelphia on Saturday afternoon. It was the Senator's first visit since he announced his candidacy and he was very well received.

"I entered a finish fight," said Senator Beidleman last night, "and I expect to come out a victor. I shall make a thorough campaign and will place the issue before as large a number of Pennsylvania voters as I possibly can reach. My address to the labor representatives was, 'Accomplish what you have to do, and I am all ready to start out.'

Senator Beidleman met about fifty of the leaders of organized labor. All pledged their earnest support. In all thirty-seven labor unions were represented. In announcing that they would support Senator Beidleman the labor men declared his record as a friend of labor was stainless, and that while a member of the Legislature he had worked unceasingly in behalf of the workmen of the state.

In addressing the labor men Senator Beidleman reviewed his legislative work in behalf of labor and asserted it was but natural for him to entertain a warm sympathy for men who toil, as his father, he said, had been a laborer. He declared his draft of the bill to amend and extend the miners' compensation act which brought miners within the scope of the workers' compensation act and that he had also sponsored an act which makes mandatory bimonthly paydays in many industries.

"I entered this campaign," he said to the workers, "not to decide the election, but to nominate to the end and will do everything that he immediately would start out through the state to fight Scott for the nomination. He declared he had arranged no definite speaking dates as yet, but as far as possible would try to meet all the influential people in Pennsylvania personally and at meetings.

Penrose leaders from all parts of the state gathered at the Senator's office and made reports to the effect that the Penrose candidate for the second place on the ticket would run strong. After interviewing these leaders Senator Penrose issued the following statement before leaving for Washington: "The people of Pennsylvania have received it is apparent every county in the state will give Mr. Beidleman an overwhelming vote. His candidacy seems to be accepted by all elements with wonderful pleasure. We are informed that the soldiers are becoming more religious now than ever before. They are at the front and that religion is being more widely known and welcomed. He gave the Y. M. C. A. great credit for its part in this uplifting.
