

METHODS USED BY DRAFT BOARDS TO BE INVESTIGATED

Difference in Number of Men in First Class Calls For Federal Probe

Steps for an inquiry into the methods of listing men in the first class under the draft law practiced by every local draft board in Pennsylvania have been ordered.

The state headquarters is also working out figures on the enlistments from Pennsylvania so as to be prepared to calculate the quotas when the next call comes.

To-day closes the movement of drafted men under the recent call from this state, 1,217 being scheduled to go to Camp Lee.

Arrangements are being made by local boards to prepare men for the shoptages which may be caused by rejections at camp.

This week over 1,500 men went to Camp Meade and over 6,200 to Camp Lee from Pennsylvania.

Striking at positions south of the Somme nearest Amiens, the Germans have renewed their offensive with heavy forces.

How well the valiant Franco-British forces withstood the enemy onslaughts is shown by the fact that on a front of nine miles north of Montdidier, the Germans used more than 100,000 men.

French and Germans Contest Ground

Between the Avre and the Luce the French and Germans contested all the ground bitterly. The enemy was determined to break through and used his masses of infantry in ten reckless assaults.

South of the Avre, the heaviest fighting centered on Grivesnes. General Petain's men held stubbornly to their positions despite repeated efforts by the German infantry and then in a counter-attack advanced their own lines into the enemy positions.
