

Women Coal Raiders Go to Jail Rather Than Pay

Reading Pa.—Five young women who with eight men were arrested by Reading Railway detectives on a larceny charge arising from their having made a raid on a car of anthracite coal, spent a few hours in jail rather than pay the fine and costs amounting to $2.80. The men paid their fines promptly but the women gave the officers the laugh and went to jail. Friends came to their assistance and secured their release.

MAY SUE TOWN FOR DOG BITES

Millville, N. J.—John Walker and Charles Woods, whose children were bitten by a supposed rabid dog in South Millville three weeks ago, have threatened to bring suit against the city for the cost of anti-toxin and medical services. Director of Public Safety Samuel D. Bennett refused to approve the bills, which were presented to the City Commission, because application had not been made in the usual way to the overseer of the poor. The bills amount to about $200. The head of the dog was sent to the State Board of Health at Trenton and showed upon examination no traces of rabies.

A Breath of Old Virginia Seen in this Scout Play

A breath of Old Virginia, an echo of other days; such are the titles that might well be given to the second act of "De Whipperrill," the Civil War play to be given by the Susquehannock Camp Fire Girls and Troop 6 of Boy Scouts in Fahnestock Hall on Friday, April 12.

The stage settings and furnishings used in the act were chosen only after a careful study of interiors of the homes of old southern families in the days before the war, had been made. Confederate uniforms, wide old fashioned skirts, pantalettes, Confederate flags, old swords, famous old Colt revolvers, and even forgotten songs have been dug from dusty garrets and deep old chests, and brought again to life for one night. The "Bonnie Blue Flag," the war time version of "Dixie," the "Ole Log Cabin in the Lane," and others of their kind are the songs that will be used to carry the audience back to the picturesque days of American history.

Assistant Scoutmaster Sparrow will stage the show, with Senior Patrol Leader Harry A. Carson directing the music, and Patrol Leader Stanley Fellows attending to the lighting.

Last Monday evening the fellows of the troop journeyed out to Spook Hollow to have some fun. They had it. Around the campfire were sung many songs, old and modern and the fellows enjoyed both the songs and the eats, especially the eats. One of the fellows tried to cross the creek on a fence rail and fell in. On the way home the fellows sang songs until we reached home.

Next Tuesday night Troop Six meets Troop 13 in the last game of the season. This game will decide the championship of the city and ought to attract a good deal of interest. Troop 13 won the first game on the Boyd floor by a score of 34 to 26, and Troop Six beat Troop 13 on the Shimmell floor by a score of 23 to 7. The third and last game will be played on a neutral foot at the Motive Power Y. M. C. A. at Seventh and Hamilton streets. Troop Six feels confident that they can win this game.

Long Hike Brings Fun For Members of Troop 15

Last Saturday morning the members of Troop No. 15 assembled to take part in the drive for Thrift Stamps, and the territory allotted to them was covered by noon. The boys found a ready sale for these little stamps and were very enthusiastic in the selling of them. Scout Harry Eichelberger, of the Eagles, won the honors for selling the highest number of stamps.

The second all-day hike of this year was held Monday and it wasn't an April fool joke either. The scouts met at their headquarters at 7:30 and were soon on their way to New Cumberland. The hike was in charge of Assistant Scoutmaster Norman Boone and proved a grand success in scouting lines. After reaching New Cumberland the troop headed for the mountains, which were reached about 11:30, at which time haversacks were emptied and hunger satisfied. The afternoon was spent in playing scout games, demonstrations in the proper outdoor use of the knife and hatchet and the Morse code of signaling. At 4 o'clock camp was broken and the return trip started and the boys, even though very tired upon their arrival home, were so full of the real scout spirit that everyone turned out at the Monday evening meeting of the troop.

Jokes of the Hike Dougherty saw a stone brickhouse. Lawrence Evans found a copper-head (one cent). Howard Miller, the big scout, had one foot in Cumberland county and the other in York county.

The troop has been fortunate in securing a large track of land for a troop war garden in the upper end of the city which they will plant and care for this summer.

Important business is scheduled for the business meeting to-night and every member of Troop No. 15 is urged to be present. The troop will attend the evening service at the Sixth Street U. B. Church on Sunday, April 7, and all members are urged to attend.

Flesh of Horse and Elephant Now Eaten

In Germany it is not necessary to have a food card to buy horse meat, and as a result horse meat sausage is in demand.

In Berlin recently elephant steak was on the menu in several restaurants. The steak represented the remains of "Nelly," a zoo favorite at Leipzig. "Nelly" was a very old elephant.

All sorts of food novelties have been introduced in Germany with the same result—they are unsatisfactory.

Germany's food problem is not at its most acute stage.

Dog Rends Trousers; Police Come to Rescue

Chicago.—"A barrel, my kingdom for a barrel," screamed Jacob Siegel. Passersby offered their newspapers. Wrapped in them, Jacob sided into the Maxwell street station. "A dog did it," he wailed. "I was minding my own business. It took after me. I ran. It grabbed my trousers. Now, these papers—" A patrolman brought Jacob another pair of trousers.

"HANDCUFF KING" DEAD

Lancaster, Pa.—Albert Lamar, of Philadelphia, widely known as the "Handcuff King" because of his dexterity in freeing himself without keys from the most intricate and heavy manacles, died last night at the General Hospital, this city, aged 37. He came to Litz two weeks ago and was giving exhibitions in a picture theater when he became critically ill.

Think of Quality— Not the Price

If someone came along and offered you a $100 Note for "sixty dollars" you'd say to yourself, "nothing doing," there's something wrong, it must be counterfeit, guess I'll leave it alone.

Just follow your own judgment along Those lines when you go to buy clothes, for you're going to have a chance to buy clothes at a cheap price this year, and some of them may look pretty good—but remember quality and a cheap price don't go together.

We could get plenty of cheap clothes for you. "We know where to find them"—but we'd rather not sell you at all than to give you something we know would not satisfy you in the long run. Bear in mind that no matter what you buy at DOUTRICH'S carries with it an absolute guarantee of satisfaction to the purchaser or your money back.

It isn't necessary to buy the most expensive clothes you can find, but just spend enough to get good clothes that will wear well, for if you are careful in that respect, you'll save money in the end and your clothes will look well as long as you have them. These are strong reasons why we recommend and sell
