VINCOME HERE FOR FINAL GAME WITH LOCAL INDEPENDENTS--BIG BENEFIT EVENT

VINCOME HERE FOR LAST TIME; ALL-STAR TEAM

Visitors' Windup Will Stage Eastern League Pacemakers; One More Event

Basketball will get its semiwindup to-night at Chestnut Street Auditor-ium where the local Independents will play against the Vincome five, of Philadelphia. There will be a great windup next week. George W McIlhenny, president of the local basketball association, is arranging for a Red Cross benefit as a closing feature. The attraction is likely to be Tech and the Independents.

Vincome will be here to-night with five great stars, and it will be with five great stars, and it will be the last time this aggregation will be seen in action. Graff and MacGregor, formerly of the Jasper Eastern League team, will play forwards, Longstreet, the lanky center, who is known to all local fans, will jump center, while Zahn and Campbell, of the world champion Greystock team, will play the guard positions. Hard Game For Locals

Hard Game For Locals

This combination will be a hard proposition for the local Independents to conquer as the Vincome team has been playing together with this lineup all season. This is the last game before the big game that will be staged next Saturday evening when the Independents and the Technical team clashes.

The Independents have played and defeated the best teams of the country since Christmas, having lost but three games since that and they should give a good account of themselves to-night against this all-star aggregation. Dave McConnell and Ike McCord have fully recovered from the grip and will be in tonight's fray. Dancing will follow the game.

Charles Ebbets Will Not Stand in Larry Lajoie's Way

Brooklyn, N. Y., April 6.—Charles Ebbets has decided not to stand in Larry Lajoie's way if the veteran ball-player cannot be persuaded to join the Brooklyn club. The owner of the Dodgers still insists that Lajoie is the property of the Brooklyn club, which purchased his release from the Toronto club in a perfectly legitimate manner, but if Larry has his heart set on managing the Indianapolis club, Ebbets will grant his wish, in consideration of the veteran's long service in major league baseball.

Loses Out in Extra Event; Some Good Scores at phians once more came to the front yesterday in the Lakewood tournament for trapshooters. Fred Tom-lin, of Pennsgrove, N. J.; Charles H. Newcomb, of the Quaker City, and H J. Pendergast each broke 144 tar gets in the second day's program of 150 registered targets of the Laurel House Gun Club and tied for first place. Clarence B. Platt, of Bridgeton Thursday tied with L. F. Curtis, o Boston, for first place and lost on the shoot-off. Curtis was in the running again with 142, but Platt was back with 135.

There were 145 participants, and for the first time this week the sun shone brilliantly. The shooting, however, was a contrast to the other days. Under conditions anything but suitable to the breaking of targets, the scores were much better than yesterday. Thursday, with a breeze that went through one, twenty-one shooters broke 140 or better. Yesterday, with a good warm sun and no breeze, only eleven shooters bettered 140. There is no way of figuring things out in the clay target game.

The team has been none too strong on the offensive in its spring training games with the Red Sox, which has all the more emphasized the need of a heavy hitter like Lajoie, who led the International League by a comfortable margin last season.

Before Lajoie can sign with the Indianapolis club he will have to open negotiations with James J. McCaffney, of Toronto, and James C. McCaffney, of Toronto, and James J. McCaffney, of Toronto, for Larry's release. McCaffrey will have to open negotiations with James J. McCaffney, of Toronto, for Larry's release. McCaffrey will have to return to Brooklyn the $3.000 purchase price, but probably will get as much from Indianapolis. Lajoie is said to have been offered $8,000 a year by McGill to manage the Hoosiers.
