

TREE PLANTERS ARE RETARDED

Weather and Traffic Conditions Prevent Extensive Operations Starting

Weather and traffic conditions have interfered to a certain extent with the plans of the State Department of Forestry in its big reforestation campaign and although the two camps for the planting gangs have been established in Union county and preparations completed to open there next week in Lycoming and northern tier counties, the weather is retarding work.

Considerable difficulty has been experienced in getting the trees from the state's nurseries, because of the transportation conditions and the planting work is held back by ground conditions. Hundreds of acres on state reserves are to be replanted with seedling trees and in conjunction with it extensive planting has been started by corporations holding large tracts. The planting will be in the tracts on the Susquehanna watershed.

One For All—An investment of $100,000 just made by officers of the State Insurance Fund in the Third Liberty Loan will give the state fund, the sum of $300,000 in such bonds, according to General Manager W. J. Roney. In addition, the fund has $100,000 of the government's farm loan bonds.

To Meet McAdoo—It is probable that the situation in regard to complaints against grade crossings in Pennsylvania, will be taken up with W. G. McAdoo, director general of the railroads, by the Public Service Commission, as the result of the request of the director general that no expenditures for changes be made unless imperative. There are a number of complaints made against grade crossings, made by the State Highway Department, which will be studied and a report made on them.

The Seed Corn—Demands for seed corn from farmers and "war gardeners" of the state have been so numerous that the State Bureau of Markets will continue its plan of buying and selling at cost. Thousands of bushels have been bought through this state agency in the last six months and it will continue its work, especially as there seems to be a dearth in the northern tier. Members of the State Commission of Agriculture have been asked to hear reports on some of the industrial codes which are being prepared.

Bonds Called—A meeting of the State Industrial Board has been called for Philadelphia on April 16, to hear reports on some of the industrial codes which are being prepared.

Fish Code Hit—Arrests of men for fishing ahead of the trout season, which does not begin until April 15, have developed the fact that the fishermen have in most cases had more than the allowed for a catch even in season. The new limit is twenty-five, or fifteen less than before the fish code was enacted.

than before the fish code was enacted.

Hiring in Erie Case—The Public Service Commission has dismissed the petition of the New York Central Railroad that certain work on grade crossing elimination in Erie city be indefinitely postponed because of the war, but in an opinion by Chairman Ainey calls attention to the fact that some construction has already been undertaken on two streets and that to stop work now without reopening the streets would place a burden upon the public and the business of the city which they should not be called upon to bear. "We consider," says the opinion, "that it would cost almost as much to back up as go ahead." In regard to work on other streets the commission suggests that in view of the fact that no work has been done and that they had been complained of as dangerous that the city and the railroad company enter into an agreement to postpone any work until the end of the war.

Damage in South—Further reports received by the State Department of Agriculture from rural districts indicate that damage in plum, cherry and apricot trees in southern counties, where blossoms had opened, will be extensive because of the snow storm. The peach and apple orchards do not seem to have been much affected.

Doctors Needed—An appeal was made to the State Department of Health to-day by Surgeon-General Gorgas for the aid of the state in securing additional medical officers for the United States Army. The letter asked Dr. R. E. Royer, the Acting Commissioner of Health, to bring to the attention of the profession at large the "necessity for additional volunteers" because as "the war progresses the need becomes more and more apparent." The letter also says that "so far the United States has been involved only in the preparatory phase of this war" and that it is now about to enter upon the fighting stage. It is set forth that 15,000 medical officers will be needed for the Army in France alone and that there are now on duty in the Medical Reserve only 15,174 officers. General Gorgas closes, "I can not emphasize too strongly the supreme demand for medical officers."

Governors Invited—Governor Brumbaugh to-day invited the Governors of the thirteen original states to attend the Liberty Loan demonstration at Philadelphia on April 27 at the request of the committee in charge. The Governors will be his guests at luncheon.

After Old Company—The Attorney General's Department to-day secured a writ of quo warranto asking the Lancaster County Insurance, Trust and Safe Deposit Company, of Lancaster, to show cause on April 22 why its charter should not be revoked. The company, which has a charter granted by the Legislature more than fifty years ago, has not been active for some years. The late Sam Matt Fridy, Deputy Auditor General, signed the last treasurer's return, which was over ten years ago.

Appointments—Charles H. Garlick, of Bellevue, was to-day appointed state inspector of steam engines and boilers for Allegheny county, and John S. Ginter, of Tyrone, trustee of the State Hospital at Phillipsburg.

Strike Settled—According to word received from Mediator James A. Steese at the Department of Labor and Industry, the strike of foundrymen at Franklin has been settled by the state.

Governor Away—Governor Brumbaugh is at McKeesport, where he will speak for Commissioner O'Neil to-night.

Hearing On—The hearing in the Philadelphia Rapid Transit lease is under way in Philadelphia to-day before Public Service Commissioners.

Kick On Increase—The people of industry, according to a petition filed at the Public Service Commission to-day, complain because the Steubenville, East Liverpool and Beaver Valley Traction Company has advanced rates between Beaver county towns, two and a half miles apart, from five to ten cents.

Godcharies' Hard Luck—Snow last night caused a caving in of the roof of the printing office of the Miltonian, Deputy Secretary of the Commonwealth Godcharies' newspaper, and the beacon of Milton will miss an issue to-day for the first time in 102 years.

Hearing On Crossing—The hearing on the Pennsylvania railroad application for a grade crossing in Elliott street near the Elliott-Fisher plant, was heard by Examiner Vale to-day. No objections were made.

New Lieutenants—John W. Wallace, Waynesburg, and William D. Fawcett, McKeesport, were to-day appointed second lieutenants in the Reserve Militia and assigned to the Third Infantry.

Rule Up to Board—In the opinion of the Department of Labor and Industry Deputy Attorney General Collins holds that the State Industrial Board can determine the minimum age for minors to be employed in foundries and that if it sees fit it may fix 18 years.

"The Live Store" "Always Reliable" "BUY LIBERTY BONDS TODAY"

We've Set a Pace And Are Keeping It

The day we began business this "Live Store" sprang into the lead and ever since has been setting the pace in men's wear as "big operators" for extensive merchandising throughout Central Pennsylvania.

The opening of Doutrichs signalled a new era of retailing — an era that looked at and took the buyer's point of view — "not the seller's." Our inspiration THEN, and NOW is to do business on a buyer's basis. We ask ourselves what would we demand of a store where we bought clothes and furnishing for ourselves and our sons — Our answers and conclusions are strongly evident in DOUTRICHS to-day.

A store where you can be sure of dependable quality, large stocks and greater variety to choose from — a store where you can buy what you want instead than what they have to sell — a store that depends on a small profit on its volume of sales rather than a large profit on few — This puts us in a position for greater value giving. A store where only quality merchandise is sold and when sold is backed up and guaranteed to deliver satisfaction or money refunded, in other words, a store that is absolutely "Always Reliable."

It's fair to assume that every man who buys clothes wants good clothes no matter what price he pays for a suit — You want good value for your money — That's the only business-like way to look at it and you'll always get it here.

DEMOCRATS TO HAVE FIGHT ON LIQUOR

Republican nominations for congress-at-large, Lex N. Mitchell, Punxsutawney, filed his papers. The Prohibition candidates for congress-at-large filing were: H. F. Wittman, Philadelphia; Elsha Kent Kane, Kusbegua; E. L. McKee, Pittsburg, and A. Gaddis, Uniontown. Papers to make Mr. Kane a Democratic candidate, too, were submitted.

Tremendous Rush
Nominating petitions poured into the department of the Secretary of the Commonwealth at an unprecedented rate and the entire force of clerks was ordered to examine and pass upon the correctness of papers. Secretary of the Commonwealth Woods gave orders that the department should remain open until midnight because of numerous inquiries and notices from people at distant points that they desired to enter papers.

The filing of the petitions for Bonniwell and Holstein is generally regarded as injecting the liquor fight into the Democracy. Guffey declared "dry" and so did Loggie. Both are men of state-wide importance. Bonniwell is widely known, too, having been a prime mover for Michael J. Ryan's candidacy four years ago.

The announcement of the filing was a jolt for the Democratic headquarters, but the men there said they were ready for a battle.

The Republican state candidates will file their papers later in the day. The usual Philadelphia rush which marks the last minute is on.
