words, a dialog of french jokes, many of them old ones in Harrisburg. They have two war songs which are new. Eddie Horden and James A. Dwyer, both favorites, do a clever nonsensical turn which gets across because of the capability of the pair. The "Isle of Innocence," a musical comedy, is an attractive scenic offering, which is very enjoyable and much better than many which have been listed this season. There should be a bit more comedy in the production, but even as it is given now there is little room for improvement. MAX ROBERTSON.

Just Try This When Hairy Growths Appear
 (Modes of To-day)
 A smooth, hairless skin always follows the use of a paste made by mixing some water with plain powdered delectate. This paste is applied to the hairy surface 2 or 3 minutes, then rubbed off and the skin washed when every trace of hair will have vanished. No pain or discomfort attends the use of the delectate paste, but caution should be exercised to be sure that you get real delectate.—Adv.

Can't Help But Admire Babies
 Every Woman Casts Loving Glances at the Nestling Cuddled in its Bonnet.
 It is a joy and comfort to know that those much talked of pains and other distresses that are said to proceed from hearing may be avoided. No woman need fear discomfort if she will fortify herself with the well known and time-honored remedy, Mother's Friend.
 This is a most grateful, penetrating, external application that at once softens and makes pliant the abdominal muscles and ligaments. By regular use the muscles expand without the usual strain when baby is born and pain and danger at the crisis is consequently less.
 Women everywhere who have used this famous remedy tell how they entirely avoided nervousness, twitching spells, bearing down and stretching pains, and relate how they enjoyed entire freedom from many debilitating and distressing experiences usually incident to approaching motherhood. Mother's Friend is recommended only for the relief and comfort of expectant mothers, thousands of whom have used and recommended it. It is for external use only, is absolutely and entirely safe and wonderfully effective.
 Write the Bradford Regulator Co., Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for their "Motherhood Book," so valuable to expectant mothers, and in the meantime obtain a bottle of Mother's Friend from the druggist today and thus fortify yourself against pain and discomfort.

Maroons Ready For Red Cross Benefit; One Set of Rules

Tech's final workout for the big benefit game to-morrow night with the Independents was held this afternoon. The Maroons will have a warming-up game to-morrow afternoon on the gym floor. It was said to-day that the game would be played under the Eastern League rules. The Independent management requested it and Tech tossers have been practicing accordingly.
 Ike McCord, the champion center and foul tasser will not get into the game. He has been on the sick list. As all players on the Independent team are former Central High stars, the game to-morrow night will be of special interest. Noble Frank may fill McCord's place.

Pat Moran Is Home With His Philly Squad

Philadelphia, April 12.—Pat Moran and his new edition Phillies came in from their tour of the East at 3.30 o'clock, but the rain, hail and sleet did not surprise them much. They encountered very chilly weather in the Carolinas the last few days.
 It was the end of the annual southern training trip, the squad having been gone three weeks.
 The Phils were scheduled to play in Baltimore to-day with Jack Dunn's team, but after stopping over for an hour, Business Manager Shettsline received word that it was impossible to get the grounds in shape even if it stopped raining and the contest was called off.
 Moran expected to have Mule Watson, the former St. Louis National pitcher, join the team at Baltimore, but Mule was not there. Watson figured in the game that sent Bert Niehoff to the Cardinals. Moran announced late last night that he expects the big right-hander to report here tomorrow.
 Moran is trained with the Cardinals in the South and is said to be in good condition.

good story of thrills and intrigue, in which the hero is saved from disaster by his son's budding genius.
 "A riot of laughter and good music" is a pretty good description of Mack and Vincent's musical comedy, at the Majestic entitled "Isle of Innocence," that is being presented of special mention also, for there is a bevy of good-looking girls, attractively costumed, who sing and dance in a delightful manner. The comedians are clever and put their comedy in the line of the picture. The production is elaborately staged and altogether, is one of the most entertaining of its kind at the Majestic this season. A bill of choice Keith acts are grouped around this attraction, including Mary and Vincent, the well-known Harrisburg favorites in an up-to-the-minute song and dance number, and Whitman, clever song and dance entertainers; Knowles and White, popular duo in comedy songs and dances, and Cookley and Dunleavy, two splendid black-face comedians, in their "laughing vehicle" entitled "Over There."

Winsome Viola Dana will make her reappearance at the Colonial Theater to-day and to-morrow in a beautiful in "The Winding Trail." It is a story of the mountains, and Miss Dana's performance is just what her charming personality. In the early stages of the picture she is seen as a little girl, who is beloved by all the folks, while later on she essays the role of a circus queen. In both characterizations she is appealing, and her acting is said to seem so sincere that the audience is almost sure to forget the many story after all, and they share the sorrows and joys of the little girl as if they were their own. A fine cast of Metro favorites has been selected to support the star in this picture.

Douglas Fairbanks will appear at the Victoria Theater to-morrow in "Reggie Mixes In" completed before the noted star started in his tour in the interests of the Third Liberty Bond, a play which has been described as being the best in serving to introduce "Doug's" famous grin and dynamic energy.
 It carries a tale of a rich young man, who became tired of his life, and went into the wide world in search of adventure. That program is enough for the foundation of any Fairbanks picture. To say that "Doug" starts on a hunt for adventure, means that he has a real hunt, and he has plenty of adventures. The five acts of this photoplay exhibit the popular star in a charming role and a delightful love affair.

Persian Crops Are Scant; Relief Is Greatly Needed
 New York, N. Y.—A letter just received by the American Committee for Armenian and Syrian Relief shows the extent to which money for relief measures is needed in Persia. E. T. Allen writes that in the whole of the Province of Azerbaidjan, the greatest and richest in Persia, the crops were less than half the ordinary size; and the bulk of the people the relief workers are helping get nothing in the way of food but bread.
 "The people," says Mr. Allen, "haven't even the satisfaction of being deported by the military and fed while making munitions to be fired against their friends. They would gladly be taken prisoners and deported, if fed. To feed the needy till next harvest, eight months, will require 24 pounds of food per person per month, a total of 373,332 pounds, or 223,999 bushels.
 "The people of all classes are impoverished, the supplies of the country are exhausted, trade has disappeared, the farming cattle have diminished alarmingly. We have already given out something over $9,000 worth of fall wheat (over 18,000 bushels)."

GERMANS SEEK TO WEAR DOWN BRITISH

 moral effect at home. Any distress over the abandonment of Armentieres is due more to sentimental than tactical reasons.
 In order to appreciate fully the trend of the present fighting the offensive operations must be viewed as a whole for they go to make up what undoubtedly is the crucial conflict of the war. The loss of a city here or there or the abandonment of five or ten miles of territory in any sector does not mean disaster.
 The battle has gone beyond such considerations and has settled down to a grim race to determine whether the German manpower is enough to make good the British and force the British army and force its capitulation. It is a cold proposition of which side can kill the most men in the next few weeks and at the same time find more recruits to fill the depleted ranks.

Mists Favor Enemy
 The mists yesterday continued to favor the enemy and to hamper the defending gunners. It was partly on account of these fogs that the Germans progressed as far as they did above Armentieres. The situation here to-day did not appear to be critical. The enemy yesterday did not attack with the huge forces employed on other sectors since the opening of the offensive.
 South of Armentieres the British yesterday and last night continued to hold most of their front satisfactorily. The enemy crossed the river Lawe and obtained a footing in Lestrem, but were quickly forced out again. Last night a considerable German force crossed the river between Velle Chapelle and Lestrem and once more approached Lestrem but again were thrust back.
 Throughout the day German aviators did much flying at low heights and also were active in bombing work along the battle line.

Bodies Piled High
 A small force of the British bicycle corps did brilliant work on Tuesday when the Portuguese were forced back and it was necessary to reinforce the center of the allies' battle line below Armentieres. This little body of troops were thrown in and held on gallantly until the regular infantry could be brought up.
 There was especially bitter fighting along the Lys near Croix Du Enc, where the Germans crossed by wading. As they worked in towards the river from both banks the British held their fire and allowed the enemy to assemble. Once the Germans were in the river the defenders opened a terrific fire and there was a huge pile of bodies in the waterway before some of the enemy succeeded in getting across.

WILLIE RITCHIE EASY WINNER
 Scrantino, Pa., April 12.—An unknown lightweight, who is called Johnny Krause, of Philadelphia, quit in the second round of a scheduled 10-round bout with Willie Ritchie, of Olyphant, Pa., before the Providence A. C. Young Abe Attel, of Allentown, lost to Eddie Walsh, of this city, in the six-round semi-final. Walsh knocked Attel down four times in the first and second rounds, but was unable to finish him.

Jury Disagrees in Case of Cincinnati Pitcher
 Nashville, Tenn., April 12.—After deliberating several hours, the jury in the case of Fred Toney, pitcher of the Cincinnati National League baseball club, charged with violation of the draft law, reported that it was unable to reach an agreement. Federal Judge Sanford discharged the jury and docketed the case for the next term of court.
 Toney had claimed deferred classification on the ground of dependent parents, and the government contended that he had not previously supported them.
 While the trial was in progress the Federal Grand Jury returned an indictment, charging Toney with violation of the Mann act. Toney gave bond in the sum of $1,000 and was released pending trial.
