TEN MILES IN AS MANY WAYS; ONE HOUR'S TIME

Christian Christensen to Beat His Former Record; Fixes His Time

Cleveland, April 15.—Ten miles in ten different ways in one hour. That's the program of Christian Christensen, champion versatile athlete of the world, now in Cleveland.

Christensen has already gone over the mile route five different ways in quite a little less than an hour and he is planning his big stunt for August in Chicago.

It was in Chicago last August that Christensen rode a bicycle a mile in 2:17 2-5, ran a mile in 5:32 2-5, walked a mile in 9:25 1-5, rowed a mile in 13:30 4-5, and swam a mile in 22:59 2-5, total of 54:46 2-5 for the five miles.

Christensen insists that he did not go to the limit in this tryout and that he can reduce his time by several minutes in these events and add five more miles to the exhibition.

Here's what Christensen proposes to do:

- Fly a mile in 1:30.
- Roller skate a mile in 3:30.
- Drive an automobile a mile in 1:30.
- Ride a motorcycle a mile in 1:30.
- Ride a horse a mile in 2:30.
- Ride a bicycle a mile in 2:00.
- Walk a mile in 8:30.
- Row a mile in 9:00.
- Swim a mile in 21:00.

This amounts to 54:50, after which Christensen may make a 60-foot high dive, just to show he isn't tired. After that he proposes to call it a day and go home.

Christensen has run the 440 in 53 seconds, the half in 2:03 and the mile in 4:21 2-5. He started Newcastle, Pa., by running two miles in 9:41, and showed his speed in Cleveland by running three miles in 14:42. He was clocked in 20:11 for four miles in Akron, and in 25:15 for five miles at San Diego.

Benny Leonard Wins With Hard Knockout

Philadelphia, April 15.—Benny Leonard, world's lightweight champion, practically scored another K. O. Saturday at the National A. A. when the referee stopped the bout in the fourth round to save Jack Brazzo, of Hazleton, Pa. Leonard's opponent was in bad shape and would likely have taken the count had the battle been allowed to go any further. In every session Leonard proved that he had the measure of Brazzo. The first three rounds were Leonard's by a city block, though Brazzo tried hard to make the milling interesting, but he was outclassed from the start and it was only a question of how long he could stand up and take the sledge hammer punches of the world's champion, who seemed in great fettle.

So fast was the bout, and so anxious was Leonard to score a decisive punch that he allowed Brazzo to get to his jaw with a left in the second round with the result that the champion was almost knocked through the ropes. This punch about settled the fate of the Hazleton lightweight for Leonard went after him like a tiger raining rights and lefts to the jaw and body which soon had Brazzo on quaver street.

TROUT SEASON HAS POOR START

Streams Muddy For Opening Day; Anglers Took Chances Where They Fished

In spite of the unfavorable weather conditions local trout anglers were out to-day ushering in the season. Reports from nearby streams were not encouraging. A dispatch from Carlisle says: "Cumberland county, which could well bear the name of 'Trout county' for the next few weeks, fears that the edge has been taken off the opening of the trout season by the late snows and probably rapid turning of the crystals into fluid which will gorge and muddy the hundreds of small streams and springs which vein the surrounding countryside.

Frank Cavanaugh Cited For Timely Command

Worcester, Mass., April 15.—Lieutenant Frank W. Cavanaugh, former Dartmouth football coach, now on the front in France with an American artillery battery, was highly commended recently for saving a detachment of Americans by ordering a protecting barrage fire, according to a letter received here.

The writer, Major John Herbert commander of the battery, told how Cavanaugh ordered a curtain of fire at a critical moment when during an engagement American infantrymen were in danger of being cut to pieces.

National League Umpires Get Orders For First Game

New York, April 15.—President Tener, of the National League, announced the following assignments of umpires for the opening games of the baseball season to-morrow.

At St. Louis—Quigley and Harrison. At Cincinnati—O'Day and Byron. At Philadelphia—Klem and Emslie. At New York—Rigler and Moran.

Trout fishing in Pennsylvania is now in order. The season opened at midnight. Weather conditions were not favorable for a good start. However, not a few local anglers went out to-day, and the majority were of the opinion that they would bring home a good catch in spite of the muddy streams. There will be some big catches later on.

Major league baseball teams start to-day. Two games will be played by the Americans providing rain or cold weather does not interfere. The National League gets under way to-morrow. For the early games all players will likely be given a chance to "break in," as there will be an early pruning. If the Internationals can muster complete circuit, they may be ready to take over surplus major players in time to start about May 15.

The basketball season in Harrisburg closed Saturday night. It has been the best in the history of cage sport in this city. The Independents offered strong attractions and won much favor by their good work. The scholastic game brought the State Championship to Harrisburg; and other teams played a big part in keeping up the interest in this sport.

Harrisburg needs a recreation commission. With its municipal ball fields, tennis courts, golf links, and playgrounds, this city should have a systematized sport series. There are some real live sport enthusiasts in Harrisburg ready to give their time

TECH IS LOSER IN LAST GAME

Outplay Independents; Local Fans See Fine Exhibition; the Score

Tech outplayed the Independents Saturday night, but lost out, score 38 to 36. Close decisions helped in the victory. The game marked the close of the season. The proceeds went to the local Red Cross Chapter.

The game was an interesting exhibition. Tech's tossing was sensational. The game was played under "Eddie" Wallower's rule, and that the Maroons had the lead most of the time.

Wallower was off in his field shots. N. Ford tossed two long shots and G. Ford was prominent. McConnell played a good game at guard.

The champs led at the close of the first half and up to near the finish. It was a Red Cross benefit and upwards of 2,500 tickets and upwards of 2,500 tickets were sold. Notes of the Game

Harrisburg can stand for many more athletic contests as that of Saturday night, is the general opinion prevailing. In addition to the good sport, the Red Cross coffers were swelled to the extent of $400.

No one who has ever seen the Ford machine in action would think of comparing it to a "flivver."
