

RAILROAD RUMBLES

READING REPORTS LESS EARNINGS

Statistics Show Where Losses Improving

Unusually large receipts by the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company alone saved the Reading companies from sustaining a record downfall in earnings for the year ended December 31, 1917, according to their annual statements to be released to the public to-day.

As it was the Reading group, suffered a loss in surplus of $5,332,252 in the combined earning sheet, compared with the previous year, or $19,932,142 as against $25,264,395.

The surplus account of the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company amounted to $5,436,633, compared with $2,463,790 for 1917.

The Reading Company, the holding company of the Reading Coal and Iron Company, reported a surplus of $1,517,904, against $8,543,186. The Philadelphia and Reading Railway Company's surplus amounted to $4,715,268, compared with $13,257,419.

The loss suffered by the railway entity indicates the common condition suffered by the carriers, of large gross earnings being more than offset by leaping gains in operating expenses. The Reading's gross operating revenue amounted to $66,831,398, against $60,452,869 for 1917. Operating expenses, however, were $49,699,287, against $44,879,458 for the previous year.

The unprecedented demand for coal and at prices fixed by the government, combined with exceptionally fair by the operators, permitted the Reading Coal and Iron Company to show an operating profit for the year of $8,587,906. For 1917 this profit was $2,059,755.

The total production of anthracite coal from lands owned, leased or controlled was 22,878,706 tons, compared with 11,241,234 tons in 1917, an increase of 1,577,482 tons. During the year the company mined 11,317,904 tons, opposed to 10,006,688 in 1917. Merchandise freight was 290,797,956. On that basis coal traffic amounted to virtually 42 per cent of income from all sources.

In view of the tremendous cry for more equipment, the Reading fared poorly in increasing locomotives and cars. The report shows the total number of locomotives at 1,009, an increase of only fifteen during the year. The total freight car equipment amounted to 11,259 cars, a gain of 1,492. This failure to increase equipment is explained in the report of the Reading Company as due to the war and to priority orders issued by the government.

Railroad Notes

W. W. Smith, Jr., superintendent of the Philadelphia Division, Pennsylvania Railroad, was in Altoona yesterday.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Glebe Club will sing at the Knights of Columbus entertainment, at Tech High school, Thursday evening.

Reading officers on guard at bridges, railway shops and yards will be armed and wear regulation uniforms.

Government officials who visited the road shops at Reading, recommended that the Pennsylvania Railroad should be placed under government control.

General Superintendent W. H. Keffer, of the Philadelphia and Reading Railway, is at the head of the week. He will remain the balance of the week. He was joined by L. K. Morris, the amount of the week's work, and the amount of that place is enormous. Great quantities of soft coal are now coming up from the mines in West Virginia.

A meeting in the interest of the American Federation of Railway Workers will be held at Rockville, Saturday night.

Campaign plans for the organization of all branches of shop men will be completed to-night by the American Federation of Labor organizers.

John D. Long, the new president of the Friendship and Co-operative Club, will be installed at the next meeting to be held Thursday, April 25.

"Felt It Was Time To Get a Tonic" SAID OFFICER JONES

"My duty," said Thomas D. Jones, of 1145 East Market street, York, Pa., "is the public's duty. It is necessary my being out in all kinds of weather, and for the past year I have been having stomach trouble. After eating a good meal, I would find myself unable to eat. My appetite was not what it should be and I would have a sour taste and rifting up after eating. Due to acidity of my stomach, I felt it was time to get a tonic which would relieve my condition.

"I heard so much about Tonnal I thought I would give it a trial. I am now taking my second bottle, and the results I have obtained already have been most gratifying. I feel energetic in every respect and am only too glad to recommend Tonnal as I am positive it will give you an appetite and instill ambition and vigor into your system."

Tonnal is sold at Gorgas' Drug Store, Harrisburg, Pa., where the Tonnal chemist will explain its merits.
