

MORE CARS FOR PALMYRA LINE

Commissioner Alcorn Orders Lebanon County Service Improved Without Delay

In ruling that the Reading Transit and Light Company should put its line between Palmyra and Lebanon into better condition and add another car to its service during "rush hours" in the morning, a decision was given in a case which raised questions as to the fairness of an increase of rates and attacked the service. A stipulation was filed after a statement as to operating costs on the line between the two points and also that material prices had increased from 38 to 800 per cent, which resulted in the fare increase being upheld.

The commission finds that better service can be provided and in addition to ordering an extra car orders the company stop taking two tickets from passengers on Lebanon to Palmyra, who have to change cars at Annville. "A passenger desiring to go to Palmyra should board a Palmyra car, if there is room. If the company fails to provide accommodations for the people going to Palmyra it should not take up two tickets when they are compelled to board an Annville car" says the report.

Had a Hard Fight To Keep Going

Says Mrs. Hostetter, of New Providence, Pa.—Whole System Built By Tonnal.

"I was in such a run-down condition from nervousness and stomach troubles, that I had to fight with myself to keep going," says Mrs. Harry D. Hostetter, of New Providence, Pa. I was terribly run-down and weak, and had no desire for food. What little I did eat did me no good. I was growing weaker every day and I had no desire for anything, but just more around, no ambition, no life; I was merely existing. Oh, how I wished I could again do my housework and feel good. I was so dependent at times that I cared not what became of me. Now my acquaintances ask me what in the world I am doing or taking that makes me look so different. What a lot of good Tonnal has done for me! You can't imagine. My appetite is good, my nervousness has disappeared. I sleep soundly, my headaches are all gone, and I have gained seven pounds in weight. I feel full of life and ambition. I surely do recommend Tonnal. The above testimony was given February 23, 1918. Tonnal is sold at Gorgas' Drug Store, Harrisburg, Pa.

heard, the objection was raised that the four roads are not lines of the same character, the Northwestern being a combination of electric lines. The commission finds that the Northwestern is in the general business of transporting freight and Commissioner M. J. Ryan, who writes in the order, says that it is a company "of the same character as the three other respondent companies, within the meaning of the act and the facts of this case." He also says, "It must be recognized that the development of the electrically operated interurban lines has introduced a class that partakes of the nature of both 'railroads' and 'railways,' and of the 'same character' as each, as well as different." Mr. Ryan remarks, "All parts of the Public Service Company law should be construed as to make a harmonious entirety. A railroad corporation and a street railway corporation are both public service companies charged with public duties and the separation of them and other carriers by definitions in the act is intended to be contrary to the commission's view. Kind of them more securely within the comprehensive scheme of regulation, which we are authorized to exercise in order that the fullest measure of adequate service may be obtained for the people when railroads and railways are alike chartered to serve."

To Discuss Crossings—Chairman W. D. E. Alney, of the Public Service Commission, who visited Director General McAdoo at Washington a few days ago and discussed the whole grade crossing situation in Pennsylvania with him and who also took up the questions with officers in the national direction of the railroads, will likely make a report to his colleagues on the commission late to-day or to-morrow. The commission has not given any intimations as to their course, but it is believed that in some cases, possibly Dauphin county, they may have work to do on.

May Make Orders—Further orders for improvement of transit conditions in Pittsburgh may be issued before the end of the month as F. Herbert Snow, Chief Engineer of the Public Service Commission and chairman of the committee of experts who examined the properties of the company, will have another extended conference with the commissioners to-morrow. Mr. Snow returned here yesterday after spending another week investigating and studying the Pittsburgh situation. The plan of the commission is to make orders gradually for the improvement of the service designating certain times, as was done in the order issued a week ago.

GREAT RUSH IN CAMPAIGN HERE

Encouraging Report Made During First Few Hours of Drive in Steel Plant

Steelton to-day began its intense artillery fire at the Hun in the form of "Buy-a-Bond" ammunition and promises to keep at it incessantly until late Saturday night, when the Third Liberty Loan campaign will close officially. Reports during the first few hours of the campaign were to the effect that Steelton will not have any trouble in going over the top in this drive and in all probability will come near to doubling its quota, as was the case in the two previous loan campaigns.

The drive began in all parts of the district and the steel plant with every solicitor hard at work. Early reports from the steel plant campaign were so encouraging that officials declare the little difficulty experienced in waging the campaigns in the plant before has been overcome already. From present indications the steel plant will come through with a perfect record.

Bank officials said this morning that quite a number of $1,000 and $500 bond denominations were reported at the office of the campaign. A few solicitors reported to the banks before noon. Reports from all parts of the district, which embraces Steelton, Oberlin, Hillsdale, Calvary, Bressler and a section of Swatara township, were very encouraging.

The bond club plan, which was very successful in the second Loan campaign, is already taking a prominent part in the present drive. This club, which gives the low-salaried employe an opportunity to do his bit by buying a bond, has become very popular in the borough, bankers declare.

Results of the campaign up to this time will be announced to-morrow morning.

BEGIN HOT WATER DRINKING IF YOU DON'T FEEL RIGHT

Says glass of hot water with phosphate before breakfast washes out poisons.

If you wake up with a bad taste, bad breath and tongue is coated; if your head is dull or aching; if what you eat sours and forms gas and acid in stomach, or you are bilious, constipated, nervous, sallow and can't get feeling just right, begin inside bathing. Drink before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This will flush the poisons and toxins from stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels and cleanse, sweeten and purify the entire alimentary tract. Do your inside bathing immediately upon arising in the morning to wash out of the system all the previous day's poisonous waste, gases and sour bile before putting more food into the stomach.

To feel like young folks feel; like you felt before your blood, nerves and muscles became loaded with body impurities, get from your pharmacist a quarter pound of limestone phosphate which is inexpensive and almost tasteless, except for a sourish twinge which is not unpleasant.

Just as soap and hot water act on the skin, cleansing, sweetening and freshening, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. Men and women who are usually constipated, bilious, headachy or have any stomach disorder should begin this inside bathing before breakfast. Be assured that they will become real cranks on the subject shortly.

Making Business Better

Every business man who reads this knows that the one thing he wants for his business is to make it better, it ought to be quite easy for you to understand how we feel, then, about our business and about our wanting to make it better — Of course, we might not all agree on just what we mean by better — Some mean one thing, and some mean another.

As WE look at it, "better" business doesn't necessarily mean larger sales, though that's the common idea — We believe that sales do increase when a business gets better, but the sales are a result, not merely a measure of the "better."

We have things to sell that men wear; we want to sell them, of course; we bought them to sell — But we'd a lot rather have you come in because you want to buy these things, than to persuade you to come in and buy because we want to sell them — We feel pretty sure that if we are careful enough about having the qualities in our merchandise, and putting prices on it that insure you good value for your money, and then tell you the truth about what we have, and what it costs, we'll find that sales increase.

You see the "bettering" of a business depends chiefly on the men "inside of the business"; and the INCREASE of sales depends largely on the men outside of it — If we do our part right, there's no need to be anxious about your doing YOUR part — That's the way we want our business to get better; that's why we have so much to say about the merchandise we sell for it's as nearly right as it's possible to get.
