

URUGUAY AND ARGENTINA TO DECLARE WAR
South American Nations Expected to Join Allies Against Germany

By Associated Press.
London, April 23.—Uruguay and Argentina are expected to declare war against Germany at an early date, according to Berlin advices forwarded by the Exchange Telegraph correspondent at Amsterdam. The German newspapers have been notified to prepare the public for this development, he added.
Uruguay's relations with Germany are known to have been tense for some time. On April 12, a Montevideo dispatch stated that Uruguayan mission to France had been captured by a German submarine. Uruguay, the dispatch stated, had asked Berlin, through Switzerland, if Germany considered that a state of war existed with the Uruguayan republic "as stated by the commander of a submarine who reported that he had captured a military mission bound for France." If the reply was in the affirmative, it was announced Uruguay would declare a state of war.

Break Since October
Uruguay definitely broke diplomatic relations with Germany by act of Congress in October. The breaking of the relations between Argentina and Germany brought about by the Luxburg incident. Pastors of the neutrality rule was waived as to the entire allies. The attitude of Uruguay towards the United States has since that time previously been markedly sympathetic.

Argentina has been apparently on the verge of a break in relations with Germany over the submarine situation several times since the publication last summer of the documents in which Count von Luxburg, German diplomatic representative at Buenos Aires, advised the Berlin foreign office, among other things, that a certain Argentine merchant vessel should be "sunk without trace." There has as a matter of fact, been little diplomatic communication between Buenos Aires and Berlin in this period as Count von Luxburg was handed his passports and only remained in Argentina because his health was represented to be such as to require him to be treated in a sanatorium.

Relations Grow Tense
Dispatches from Buenos Aires in February indicated a growing tension in relations and a growing anti-German sentiment. Since then, demonstrations have been held in the Argentinian capital in celebration of the entry of the United States into the war and the Uruguayan authorities have made it known that Argentina has agreed to place the Argentine armed forces at Uruguay's disposal if Uruguay's northern provinces were threatened by a German uprising in Southern Brazil.

CITY MUST BUY MANY BONDS TO FILL QUOTA

Not Throwing the Bull, Either
Liberty Loan Bond salesmen at Royaltown met a farmer. "You're going to buy bonds, aren't you?" they said to him. "Who-me?" said the farmer, his eyes twinkling. "You bet—you," said the bond sellers. "See that steer," said the farmer, pointing to a whopping big beef hitched to the rear of the wagon. The farmer's beef was not looking happy. "We see him," said the bond salesman. "I'm just taking him to the butcher's," said the farmer. "He weighs twelve hundred pounds as he stands there—having just drunk about twenty-five pounds of water, by the way. He's what you call a 'prime,' and I am going to get a 'prime' price for him—not less than fifteen cents a pound. What will that give me?" The bond salesman did some quick figuring. "That'll get $180, if he goes 1,200 pounds," said the farmer. "And if you see me after I see the butcher I will buy three 500 Liberty Bonds—and if you have any Baby Bonds in your clothes bring them along, too." Which the salesman did—and which the farmer did, too.

over" in their campaigns. The Newport people have sold twice their allotment and are entitled to two stars on their honor flag. Newcastle, Cumberland and is entitled to one star on its honor flag.

Get Together To-day
As told elsewhere in this newspaper, the several hundred men who are composing the Homes Drive committees held their get-together luncheon in the new post office building at noon today. Luncheons will be held to-morrow, Thursday and Friday.

What the Figures Show
Reports received at headquarters this morning showed the following for the counties in this district:

Dauphin county, exclusive of Steelton and Middletown—Quota, $1,300,000; bonds sold to-day, $423,250; bonds sold second loan, $1,771,400.
Cumberland county—Quota, $1,000,000; sold yesterday, $810,000; sold second loan, $992,850.
Perry county—Quota, $400,000; sold yesterday, $207,400; sold second loan, $310,700.
Juniata county—Quota, $300,000; sold yesterday, $132,350; sold second loan, $127,000.

All Doing Better
It will be observed that each of the four counties is doing more in bond sales in the third loan flotation than the second. Perry county, for example, has already sold more bonds this loan than in the second; and Juniata county is within $5,000 of the last loan's total. Cumberland county is almost caught up, but Dauphin county has $909,000 to go.

Miners Set Examples

Lykens is an honor flag town. So is Wiconisco. Reports from Lykens this morning are to the effect that a total of $85,650 bonds have been sold, while only $75,000 were sold during the second loan campaign. In addition to this $85,650 the two colliery companies at Lykens will each buy $10,000 worth of bonds, so that when final figures are received the total will not be less than $108,000.

Steelton to "Go Over"
Steelton today told headquarters here that while its quota is $400,000 it will have sold $500,000 before the loan campaign is over.
Many Small Subscribers
It was reported to headquarters today by one of the banks that of 350 subscribers totaling $75,000 two were for $5,000, two for $3,000, three for $2,000, five for $1,000, and the balance of the $58,000 in sales of much smaller magnitude. The "little fellows" are buying the bonds this time as well as the "big uns."
Parade at Lykens
Lykens is so Liberty Loan enthusiastic that it is arranging for a big parade and mass meeting Friday night. All of the miners—and 53 per cent, are bond owners—will take part. The Rev. Robert Barnell of this city will be the principal speaker.

Enola will have a big Liberty Loan observance Thursday.
Autoists Loyal

Hoffman garage, Seventh and Camp streets; Harrisburg Auto Company, Fourth and Keller streets; Keystone Motor Car Company, Cameron street; Front and Market streets; Company, Rex Garage, North Third street; Harrisburg Motor Dealers' Association has subscribed to a $500 bond.

British Excel Germans in Production of Dyes

London, April 23.—The British Dye Company, promoted by the Board of Trade with the assistance of the Treasury, to take the position held before the war by the Germans, has been at work for over two years and is now in a position to produce the works at Huddersfield, near Leeds, in England, are producing a small town and are still expanding. The directors have gone to the heart of the German dye industry. Compounds have been devised and dyes produced even beyond the invention of the German. British Dye Company did not want to start at the beginning, but where Germany left off in August, 1914. The company has been able to manufacture nitric acid, fuming sulphuric acid, and intermediates such as benzene, betanaphthal, and synthetic phenol. WORKERS PUNISH PLANT DRIVE BOND 'SLACKER' NETS $55,800

Appeals of Officials Save Austrian From Rough Treatment

Displaying their determination to rid the local steel plant of all un-patriotic foreigners employees of the machine shop department yesterday, bound, Kaspar Hartick, an Austrian, with a rope and prepared to throw him in the old Pennsylvania canal because he refused point blank to subscribe to a Liberty Bond.
The men were persuaded to free the man by officials of the plant after they had carried out part of their plan in punishing the disloyal worker. Although the foreigner was not thrown into the canal he was badly treated and received lacerations and bruises of the face and body, it is said.
Officials of the local steel plant are satisfied that Hartick had been discharged after the incident. The police department made an investigation and found that some of the reports of the incident were greatly exaggerated, officials said. How long Hartick worked at the plant and whether or not he was naturalized they were unable to say.
Committeeman Tells Story
A steelworker told the following story to-day: "I went to Hartick on Saturday and asked him to buy a bond. He said he did not want to buy any. I told him to think over it until Monday, that during the night he might change his mind. 'Yesterday I went to him and asked him if he had decided about the bond. He said he did and that he did not want to buy any. Not being able to do much with him, I went to a fellow worker, and sent him to see Hartick. He is said to have declared at this time 'Damn the Liberty Loan.'"
The incident gained wide circulation and workers at once decided to impress upon Hartick's mind what they thought of such actions. The foreigner was bound and taken down through the shop. As the steel workers and Hartick were being walked through the shop the crowd accumulated and by the time they reached the door the gang was composed of about 150 workmen.
At this point the bosses persuaded the men to release Hartick and he was taken to the office and afterward escorted from the plant by the police.
It is reported that when the men were taking Hartick down through the shop he would try to hold them back by holding fast to car wheels and other obstructions. He would relish his grip on the car wheels until he was struck on the arm by workers, it is said.
After Hartick saw the workmen meant to punish him for his language, it is understood, he said he would subscribe, but then the workmen told him it was too late.

GUFFEY SAYS LOAN IS FIRST

Candidate For Democratic Nomination Quits Business But Is Selling Bonds

Joseph F. Guffey, the acting Democratic State Chairman and candidate of the Democratic machine for Governor, yesterday resigned his business connections with Pittsburgh utilities, but declared that he would not engage in any campaign work until the Liberty Loan work was finished. He is one of the committee in charge of the sale of Uncle Sam's bonds in Pittsburgh and much interested in the work.
"This is no time to attempt to divert the public mind to politics," Mr. Guffey said last night. "The first duty of every man and woman is to do all within his or her power to win the war and the important thing to do just now is to aid to our utmost the sale of Liberty Bonds. This duty overshadows all else and no man is wholly patriotic if he does not make other things secondary to success of the loan. There will be plenty time after May 4, the date the loan campaign is to close, to interest the people in the state political campaign and, as a candidate for the nomination for Governor, I will do nothing until after that date that might turn the public mind from the part of the state to other things. I propose to forget politics for the time and put all thought and energy into the sale of Liberty Bonds. The public should resent the attempt on the part of the campaign to bring politics to the front during the Liberty Loan campaign. Every candidate should give all the time and money possible toward making the loan a success."

Snyder Starts the Truck-Buying Probe

Auditor General Charles A. Snyder today began a probe into the circumstances attending the purchase of trucks for the State Highway Department within the last half year. Snyder's latest interview with Attorney General Brown and Highway Commissioner J. Denny O'Neil. The Auditor General last week announced that he proposed to go into the transaction as the result of some statements he had heard made about the prices paid for the trucks. Snyder's probe included that which had obtained the contract, to appear here to-day.
Before the hearing began Mr. Brown and Mr. O'Neil went to Mr. Snyder's office and Mr. O'Neil asked the name of the accuser, while the Attorney General inquired as to what form the inquiry was to take. Mr. Snyder said that he was investigating as he was empowered to do under the law and after the officials left began calling in the witnesses who were examined under oath.
Mr. O'Neil declined to make any statement, but left it known before he left the department that if any man made charges against him he would not hesitate to invoke the law. The inquiry will take the better part of the day, Mr. Snyder had promised a statement this afternoon.
