U. S. LOSSES PUT AT 200 AT TOUL; ENEMY SUFFERED

Americans Used Sawed-off Shotguns to Mow Down Storm Troops

Washington, April 23.—General Pershing's first report on the German assault upon the American and French force in the Toul sector Saturdsy is understood to indicate that the Americans suffered more than 200 casualties and to estimate the German losses at between 300 and 400.

Washington, April 23.—Secretary Baker is understood to have received reports from General Pershing concerning the fight at Seicheprey and the vicinity between American and German troops. The reports are said to show that the engagement was by far the most serious in which American troops so far have participated, lasting continuously from dawn until late in the afternoon.

In conformity with the new War Department regulations that all news from the battle zone be given out by General Pershing, Secretary Baker does not feel at liberty to make public the contents of General Pershing's dispatches. In place of an official statement from Secretary Baker, however, there are numerous reports circulated in Army circles as to the part which the advices show was played by the Americans.

German Losses Exceed Ours

It is understood that General Pershing does not minimize the American losses, which were relatively heavy, and the War Department after receiving General Pershing's dispatch declines to deny the German report that 183 American prisoners were captured. But it is said that General Pershing reported the German losses considerably in excess of the American losses.

At least 500 were accounted for in the fighting near Seicheprey, and in addition it is understood that a considerable number of German prisoners have been captured by the French and Americans in the counterassault which drove the enemy back from the advanced position he had temporarily gained.

One particularly interesting bit of information concerning the resistance which Americans have on this and previous occasions offered to the German storm troops is that the Americans have surprised the advancing Germans by making effective use of sawed-off double-barreled shotguns of the type used by stagecoach drivers in the West.

Has 10,000 Such Arms

It is said that General Pershing some time ago surprised the War Department by putting in a request for 10,000 of these weapons. Officers here who have been following the practice of giving Pershing what he wants were at a loss to know just what he intended to do with them. It is now reported that men in the American sectors which the Germans attacked were armed with these shotguns as additional weapons of defense and that the sprays of widely scattered buckshot tended to break the morale of the advancing Germans.

As to the fighting near Seicheprey, it is understood that the Germans began sending over quantities of poison gas shells during the night preceding the attack. At the same time a steady and severe bombardment of the American trenches was maintained. This served as a warning to the Americans that an infantry assault was sure to follow at dawn and their predictions were borne out, for the German shock troops came over in force early in the morning.

Compelled to Yield Seicheprey

The attacking waves of Germans met with effective resistance at nearly all points, but the enemy managed to get a foothold in a few places and by throwing in overwhelming numbers at these points they forced the issue and made it necessary for the Americans to fall back. The development of the German attack necessitated the evacuation of the village of Seicheprey by the Americans and gave the Germans a distinct initial advantage.

Pershing's men, however, were at once gathered for a counterassault and French troops which had become involved in the German advance cooperated with the Americans. This counterattack was launched about noon and was carried through with such elan that the Germans were driven out of Seicheprey and also out of a neighboring woods, where they had attempted to make a stand. By late in the afternoon the American position was restored and the Germans had left the ground strewn with dead.

Rheumatism and General Run Down System of Long Standing Conquered by Tonall.

"I was a miserable soul," says John Bomberger, of Reistville, Lebanon county, Pa. "My whole system was run down so much and I had rheumatism so badly at times that I could not walk without the use of a cane and my ankles would be so swollen that I could not lace up my shoes, especially after a cold spell of weather. Why my system was in a horrible condition. My stomach was not right no matter what I ate. I would get dreadful sick afterwards. Even water made me vomit. I suffered untold agonies and tried lots of medicines without receiving any benefits, so I made up my mind that I would just have to keep on suffering, but I was given a sample bottle of Tonall and it done me so much good that I at once bought a bottle and I am to-day in better health than I have been for years and I have not had a spell of rheumatism since I commenced taking Tonall. I now eat anything my appetite desires and food certainly is nourishing me now as I am stronger than I have been for years.

The above testimony was given on January 14, 1918.

Tonall is sold at Gorgas's Drug Store, Harrisburg, Pa.—Adv.

Count 300 German Dead on American Front at Toul

By Associated Press

With the American Army in France, April 21.—Reports coming in to-day relative to the fight in the Toul sector show that the losses sustained were no larger than what could reasonably be expected from such an engagement, which was the most severe of any in which the American troops have taken part.

The losses of the enemy on the other hand, were much greater than he had expected, as is evidenced by more than 300 dead Germans in the American trenches and in No Man's Land. His losses in wounded are unknown, as disabled men were dragged back to the German trenches.

"Tell them back home that we are just beginning," said a lad who was in the thick of the fighting of Saturday at Seicheprey, his back now almost perforated with shrapnel. "It was fine to see our men go at the Huns. All of us who thought baseball was the great American game have changed our minds. There is only one game to keep the American flag flying—that is, kill the Huns. I got several before they got me."

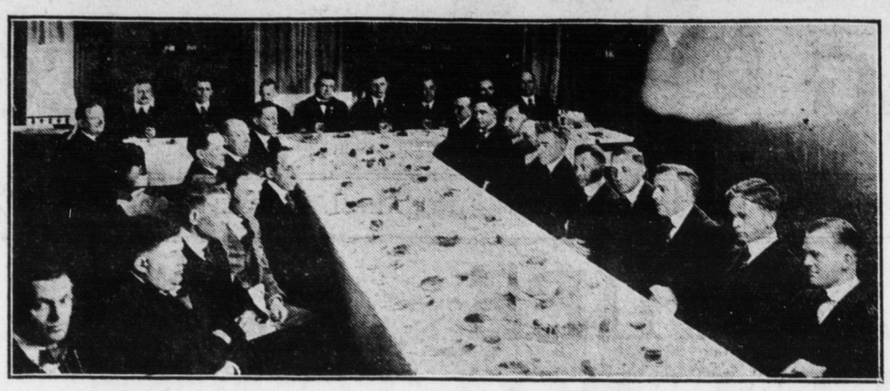
FAREWELL DINNER FOR J. B. TAFT, OF BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY



FRIENDS and coworkers of J. B. Taft, division publicity manager for the Bell Telephone Company, who has been promoted to be copy manager for the Bell and allied companies, at Philadelphia, attended a farewell dinner at the Engineers Club last evening in his honor. The other guest of honor was H. E. Prevost, of this city, who has been made division publicity manager to succeed Mr. Taft. Mr. Taft followed William Howard in this city a year ago and since his residence here, has been identified with many movements of a civic nature, and has made a host of friends. He has had extensive newspaper experience in the larger cities and in addition to his duties for the Bell Company looked after the publicity for the smileage book and other war campaigns in the city. Yesterday as a token of their esteem, the members of his office force presented him with a handsome gold mounted fountain pen. George S. Reinoehl, division manager, was toastmaster at last evening's dinner and many of the guests, including newspaper friends, spoke in appreciation of Mr. Taft and extended congratulations to Mr. Prevost. Those in the picture, from left to right around the table are:

Mrs. Jane Deeter Rippin Resigns Place in Court

Mrs. Jane Deeter Rippin, whose resignation as chief probation officer in Philadelphia's municipal court was announced in Philadelphia dispatches to-day, is the daughter of Mrs. Sarah E. Deeter, of 204 Walnut street. Mrs. Rippin has a number of relatives living here and she is widely known throughout the city. Her sister, Dr. Ruth Deeter and her brother, Edmund M. Deeter, reside here, and her grandfather, Edmund Mather, is in business in Harrisburg.

Mrs. Rippin, Philadelphia dispatches advise, has resigned as chief probation officer because she says obstacles were placed in her way which prevented her from carrying out her work on the high plane which she had established. Mrs. Rippin's work has given her a national reputation.

Following the request of Raymond D. Fosdick, Mrs. Rippin was given a six months' leave of absence by Judge Charles L. Brown, her mission being to investigate the moral condition in towns adjacent to military cantonments throughout the United States. Her work was to be done without cost to the government, but her salary, officials promised, was to continue. March 15, her salary was stopped without notice, she asserts, and she immediately resigned. She has not received any advice of the court's action on her resignation. She says that she will continue her work for the government, with headquarters in Washington.

FRENCH FURLOUGHS SHOW LITTLE FEAR OF TEUTONS

By Associated Press

Paris, April 23. — "The best proof that there is no cause for anxiety is that General Petain has decided to grant furloughs for the first time since the German offensive began," said Premier Clemenceau to Marcel Hutin, editor of the Echo de Paris, on his return to Paris from a long visit to the French and British fronts. "Of course," the Premier added, "there can be no question of resuming the system of regular leave to the French soldiers as in normal periods, but the tap has been turned on a little."

LITTLE GIRL BADLY INJURED

Mechanicsburg, Pa., April 23.—Madeline Krail, 8 years old, who, with her mother, Mrs. Roy Krail, was visiting at the home of Mrs. Richard Biddle, East Keller street, met with a serious accident on Saturday night when she mistook the door at the head of the stairs for one leading into another room and plunged headlong down the steps. Her cries and the noise of her fall brought the folks to her rescue, who immediately summoned a physician. Her injuries were found to consist of a dislocated right hip, several ligaments torn and a number of bruises and lacerations of the head and face.

How to Remove Wrinkles

A Simple, Safe and Reliable Way

Those who have become prematurely wrinkled, whether from trouble, worry or ill health, know full well the priceless treasure they have lost. There is no need, however, of any woman injuring her chances of social or financial success by carrying around these marks of time. Neither is it necessary to be treated by an expensive beauty specialist. Right in your own home and without tiresome massage or face steaming you can remove your wrinkles and bring back to your cheeks the rosy bloom of girlhood.

Simply get a little amonized cocoa cream from your druggist and after washing your face with warm water apply this as you would an ordinary cold cream; leave on for a few minutes and then wipe off with a soft dry cloth. You will be delighted to see how it brightens up the skin, clears the complexion and erases the wrinkles and crow's feet. It seems to contain just the nourishment the skin requires to keep it pink and healthy. Besides it gives to the complexion that fresh and charming appearance which always makes a woman look young and attractive.

Girl Scouts, Attractive and Businesslike, Boost Bond Sales

Hurrah! Girl Scouts! Did you oggle them? Most attractive unit serving Uncle Sam in the whole wide nation. Khaki skirts, hats, leggings, dainty as an orchid, but very businesslike they were as they prepared camp right in front of the Post Office, provided with bales of Liberty Bonds from Mr. Sites' supply.

It was the first appearance of Girl Scouts in a body in our streets, and the alert little women were not a bit abashed at the universal interest displayed by the metropolis. Miss Julia Stamm, very prim and with the air of a stern commander, was in charge of the Troop No. 2, which includes twenty-four patriotic Harrisburg girls who are determined to make a record for something or other before long.

Miss Stamm explained to the benighted reporter that Girl Scouts have been established since 1915, having their organization at Savannah. The objects of this association are similar to those of Boy Scouts. Philadelphia now has as many as 5,000 in uniform. Each troop has its flower emblem. "Dogwood" is Harrisburg's identifying flower, not because there are so many loose dogs running about, but because the members of Troop 2 fancied this spring beauty which will soon be in bloom.

Major Gray Warns Hotel Men in Sales of Liquor

Major Gray, in charge of the government work at Middletown, to-day issued an order to all hotel proprietors within a radius of five miles of the job to the effect that no liquor is to be sold to men employed on the work. The workmen have been ordered to place their identification badges at conspicuous places on their clothing. All hotel proprietors allowing the sale of liquor to employes will be arrested at once, the orders say.

AIR ATTACK ON NEW YORK FORECAST BY GERMAN PAPER

The Hague, April 23.—The Vossiche Zeitung alleges that it learns indirectly from Paris thta the whole American coast is patrolled by waterplanes.

The paper says that Major Havers declares that an air raid on New York is not only possible, but probable, and that special submarines are being built in Germany to carry airplanes which can be dismantled. Each airplane would then drop 100 kilos of explosives on the roofs of New York and would even penetrate 450 kilometers inland.

CHICAGO CABARET MAY NOT SURVIVE AS "DRY"

ROB'T M'CORMICK NOW IN ENGLAND

Mother of Tuscania Survivor Receives Letter From Son, Well Known in Lemoyne

Lemoyne, April 23.—Robert McCormick, a well-known Lemoyne boy, who was one of the survivors of the Tuscania, torpedoed by a German submarine, writes his mother, Mrs. John J. McCormick, that he has received Red Cross boxes and gifts from many friends, including $35 in money from West Shore residents. The letter was written on March 22, but has just been received. The letter follows:

"Dear Mother:

"I received your letter of February 17 a few days ago and you can bet I was glad to hear from home. I have just received a large box from the Harrisburg Red Cross and I was sure glad to get it. The chapter sent me a letter the other day informing me that a box was being sent. I also received a money order from some one for $35. Up to this time I have not received any word who sent it, but I am looking for a letter any time.

"Believe me the money was useful as I lost everything I had. We had more clothing issued to us later and this Red Cross over here has done a lot for us. I am writing a letter of thanks to the Red Cross to-morrow."

The money young McCormick refers to in his letter was given by Lemoyne residents, and on account of the cost of sending it by cablegram this fact was not mentioned. The local boy is with the One Hundredth Aero Squadron, which is now "somewhere in England."

Try This and See Your Wrinkles Melt Away!

Here, indeed, is something startlingly new, different and wonderful —something to banish wrinkles, age-lines and flabbiness from your face in less than ten minutes! You merely mix a teaspoonful of powdered tarkroot in a teaspoonful of plain water, smooth this soothing, creamy mixture over your face—then sit down before your mirror and watch your countenance "grow young." Lines, furrows and sags actually disappear while you look! The most marvelous transformation you have ever beheld.

There's no cosmetic, no make-up, that could give such an appearance of natural rejuvenation. You wash off the solution in about a half hour and find your skin velvety soft and smooth, with a beautiful girlish blush. Tarkroot is so harmless you could eat it if you cared to. If you'll procure an original package from the druggist and follow the simple instructions, you most certainly will be amazed and delighted with the result.—Advertisement.

Dandruff Soon Ruins The Hair

Girls—if you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.
