

Reading for Women and all the Family

Life's Problems Are Discussed

BY MRS. WILSON WOODROW I read an article the other day written by a woman who signed her-elf "A Superfluous Old Lady." In t she asked of the public in general:

"Will you not help us to come but of our corners and be a part of the great world again? Is there really no important work for us to lo? We are all mortally tired of he corners, of being bossed around by our dear, grownup children, of using dead while we are still alive."

New Russ-leuton War well don't may be struggle.

In firmly believe that this idea that youth is the seed-time and old age the harvest is a pernicious and false and foolish one. It is commonly accepted that youth is the only period of enjoyment and achievement, and that old age is the season when from an arm chair in a chimney corner one may alter, nate between contemplation of pastic. The chimney corner existence belongs to those who have allowed their minds to rust and their bodies to decay. If you sit and think rheumatism and Bright's disease and arterio-sclerosis all day you will probably have one of those troubles.

When Strength Comes

London, April 27.—"One thing is certain," says the Arbieter Zeitung, of Vienna, as quoted in an Exchange the train. When I imagine the villainous appearance I must have presented at this time—my unhealed wounds, eighter more allowed and in a criticism of germany's action in the discretion of virtual annexation of the former Russian border states of Livonia and Esthonia. The newspaper asks whether the treaty concluded with Russia at Brest-Litovsk still is valid and adds:

"Germany's action will have to be paid for with another war as soon as Russia is strong enough. This of course, is entirely Germany's businal distelf down for other people."

At about this time blisters began to appear on my legs and my knees swelled. In addition I was pretty well convinced that I had lost the sight of my left eye. I hadn't seen a thing out of it since my leap from the train.

I did not cover more than five miles a night. I kept away from the roads and did all my journeying through fields, beet patches, woods, swamps—anywhere, provided I was not likely to be seen and captured. Food was an important consideration to me, but it was secondary to concealment.

At last I brought up at the Meuse river at a place between Namur and Huy, and it was here that I came nearest of all to giving up the struggle. The Meuse at this point is about half a mile wide—as wide as the Hudson river at West Point. Had I been in normal condition I wouldn't have hesitated a moment to swim across. San Diego Bay, California, is a mile and a half wide, and I had often swam across and back, and the San Joaquin, which is also a mile and a half wide, had never proven an obstacle to me.

THE ASSERTIVE GIRDLE.

Girdles are allowed to take all sorts of liberties by the designers of smart costumes, and one never can tell how or where they may be found. The dominant note of this foulard silk frock is the wide girdle of, black satin ribbon caught up at the front and finished in great loops at the sides. Plain white satin trims the sleeves and forms the collar of the dress. Medium size requires 5 yards 40-inch foulard, with 1 yard white satin and 3 yards 10 inch ribbon.

You Cannot Expect To Have a Clear Complexion

By Constantly Massaging It With So-called Skin Foods or Creams, Often Rancid or Germy. Substitute Cuticura.

Contrast the purity, fragrance, comfort, and convenience of these super-creamy emollients with "beauty fads" so common, tiresome and expensive. A bath with Cuticura Soap and hot water on rising and retiring thoroughly cleanses and stimulates sluggish pores, giving the complexion a fresh healthy glow. If signs of pimples, redness or roughness be present smear them with the Ointment and let it remain five minutes before bathing. Nothing purer, sweeter or more effective for your skin and hair than Cuticura.

Sample Each Free by Mail. Address postcard: "Cuticura, Dept. 22, Boston." Sold everywhere. Soap 25c. Ointment 25 and 50c.
