MARKETS HARRISBURG TO HAVE ANOTHER WINTER GARDEN SHOW AND HERE IS A GROUP OF BEAUTIES IN THE BIG BEAUTY BRIGADE OF THE "SHOW OF WONDERS"

The "Show of Wonders," said to be the most pretentious New York Winter Garden production ever made by the Messrs. Lee and J. J. Shubert, is scheduled at the Orpheum this week, Saturday, matinee and night. This huge entertainment, in two acts and fifteen colossal scenes, is said to be truly regal in its magnitude. One of the finest musical comedy casts ever assembled in one company has been secured by the Messrs. Shubert he principal roles of the spectacle. This is headed by such old favorites as Engene and Wille Howard, Tom Lewis, Flora Lee, Charles Wright, White and Clayton, Sidney Phillips, Ernest Hare, Sam Quinlan, Jaque Kajawski, Arthur Davis, Edmund Mulcahey, Adele Ardsley, Patsie O'Hearn, Virginia Smith, Myrtle Victorine and Irene Zolar. The sensational airplane spectacle, "Over the Top," is also a feature of the entertainment. There is a company of 150 talented merry-makers, including the very pick of Winter Garden choruses.

Advice to the Lovelorn By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

'All for Love and the World Well Lost' is the title of an old English play that some clever modern dramat-ist like Bernard Shaw ought to bring up-to-date, with an affinity motive and an anticlimax of genuine comedy Because where there is an affinity" you will also find an anticlimax and comedy—for the world—but tragedy for the dramatist personae.

A letter came to me the other day that is rather typical of these tri-angular situations which inevitably end in disaster, especially for the unmarried girl. I quote it here in unmarried girl. I quote it here in full:

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:
I suppose you might call me an expert stenographer, as I can take dictation in both English and Spanish. I am 29 years of age and would be happy if it were not for an unformate circumstance in my fife. The senior partner of the firm the read of the senior partner of the firm the partner of the firm of the senior partner of the firm the partner of the firm the partner of the firm the senior partner of the firm the partner of the firm the senior given the senior partner of the firm the senior partner of the firm the senior partner of the house, and he seemed to be having a good time; later I discovered the lady with him was his wife. I hardly know what to do and am very miserable. Sincerly yours.

M. L. G. Unworthy of Any Woman

Inworthy of Any Woman

I am so sorry you are untarpy, because after reading your letter it seems to me the man you are miserable over is utterly unworthy of your attention. He assumes the attitude of an engaged man and he belongs legally to another woman, with whom he is apparently on good terms. An unprejudiced diagnosis of this type of man may be summed up in the word "Cad."

How do you know that you are not one of several women this sorry specimen may be honoring with his double attentions? The affairs of this type of man have a way of getting into the courts and papers, and then everynce is amazed at the number of women he has succeeded in duping.

He is usually not devoid of a certain superficial attraction, but is invariably a lightweight and shallow, and if he were free to marry you it is extremely doubtful if he could make you happy.

Have you ever—as a question of human interest—followed in the newspapers one of the great "affinity" cases?

pair until "dreams come true" in the final act. They say a musical comedy cast of ability will be seen in the principal parts, and a chorus of twenty-four capable young women will sing, sdance and lend an air of youth and gaiety to the performance.

"The Show of Wonders," greatest of all famous New York Winter Garden is said to be the caper where there is skilled organization. The organization of the New York Winter Garden is said to be the most perfect of any establishment in any theater in the world. The results of this system is the production of extravaganza on the largest possible scale and in the most perfect manner. The training of the chorus, both in singing and dancing is productive of the greatest expertness known to any theater. In this latest offering, conceeded to be the very best of all Winter Garden shows, the appeal of the chorus has been enhanced by the selection of the pick of the beautiful young women of the Winter Garden shows, the appeal of the chorus has been enhanced by the selection of the pick of the beautiful young women of the Winter Garden shows, the appeal of the chorus has been enhanced by the selection of the pick of the beautiful young women of the Winter Garden shows, the appeal of the chorus has been enhanced by the selection of the pick of the beautiful young women of the winter Garden shows, the appeal of the chorus has been enhanced by the selection of the pick of the beautiful young women of the winter Garden shows, the appeal of the chorus has been enhanced by the selection of the pick of the peantiful young women of the winter Garden shows, the appeal of the chorus has been enhanced by the selection of the pick of the peantiful young women of the winter Garden shows, the appeal of the chorus has been enhanced by the selection of the pick of the peantiful young women of the winter Garden shows, the appeal of the chorus has been enhanced by the selection of the pick of the peantiful young women of the winter Garden shows, the appeal of the chorus has been enhanced by the se

A lively comedy variety offering, entitled "Rocky Pass," is, the Majestic's vaudeville headliner the first half of the present week. An aggregation of elever entertainers present "A roundup of comedy, singing, roping and dancing" that affords enjoyment. A good comedy show is grouped around this attraction, and includes: Harry Breen, who keeps the audience in constant laughter with his "nut" comedy: Mr. and Mrs. Mel Burne, presenting a laughable comedy sketch; Sidney and Townley, clever song and dance entertainers, and Lamb's Manikins, a very good novelty offering.

A defying quartet, lilting lyrics, laughter-provoking lines — that is said to be John Cort's said to be John Cort's "Flo-Flo" formula of "Flo-Flo," the riotous musical comedy now running at the Cort Theater, New York, which comes to the Orpheum next week, Tuesday and Wednesday and Wednesday and Wednesday matinee. "Flo-Flo" has had a long run at the Cort Theater. They say "Flo-Flo" brings an elaborate display of costly scenery, an excellent cast of stars and a "perfect thirty-six" chorus to exhibit the fashions of Mosher and Simpson's Bride Shop. In the cast are a pair of eccentric Gancers, Pinky and Aloysius, whose terpsichorean ability, critics say, puts them in the front ranks of eccentric dancing teams. The story centers about a beautiful corset model, a fake nobleman, the American heiress and others whose roles are taken by Louise Kelley, Hal Skelley, at Majestic Theater

Not, content with his successful appearance as a "nut comedian," as he is billed, Harry Breen last night closed his act with a patriotic address, in which he called all soldiers in the audience to the stage, then asked who will be a subscriptions. Breen last raised by seven subscriptions. Breen last of the men. At least $400 we bonds for the men. At least $400 we have been a subscriptions. Breen last of the subscriptions of the Majestic and other theaters in the city and state, who will invest every dollar received at the box offices during the entire week in Liberty Bonds.

The vaudeville program for the first three days serves as another illustration of the wide variety of entertainment which can be crowded into two hours. Lamb's Manikins are first, and this not elty offering in itself is a some shoulder of the season.

Mr. and Mrs. Mel Burne score a big success in the skit, "On the Fourth Floor." The sketch is short, but filled with plenty of comedy lines, which Mr. Mel Burne gets across for many laughs. Breen, who sold the bonds, opens his offering with a continuous song on the limerick order, dragging in for variety some of the ditties the youngsters sing while at play. His "kid" monolog and songs about persons in the audience also are popular. Helen and Milt Dill are featured in the losing act, "Rocky Pass," a Wild West pundup, it which this pair give some fine roping feats.
