KYLER FOUND GUILTY IN THE FIRST DEGREE

The case went to the jury shortly before noon and the verdict was taken before Judge C. V. Henry 1t 2.05 this afternoon.

The second murder trial of the week was started at noon when William Evans, colored, held for the murder of Rufus Gillam, also colored, in Steelton on the night of February 15, was arraigned. Jurors were called for examination, the first two being accepted. They were William Gerling. Derry township, a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation improved by the addition of other ingredients, a large bottle, at little cost, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of muss. While gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

urday, matinee and sight. In point of magnitude and scenic effects, number of persons required and splendor of applintments, the "Show of Wonders" is said to eclipse them all. Heading its long list of singers and comedians will be found the operatic brothers, Eugene and Willie Howard; the unique comedian, Tom Lewis; the nimble-footed White and Clayton; the inimitable Sydney Phillips; Dan Quinlan, the old minstrel star, and the celebrated ballet dancer, Jacque Kajawaki dainty Flora Lea will portray the role of Eve in the "back to nature" scenes, and will also play the part of the slave girl in the brilliant Burmess ballet. Other charming personallties in the "Show of Wonders" are: Virginia Smith, Adele Ardsley, Patsie O'Hearn, Myrtle Victorine and Irene Zolar. Scene painters nowadays viewith the impressionistic school of landscape artists in their efforts to turn out new and bizarre effects, and the "Show of Wonders" is quite the most "advanced" production in this respect that the Winter Garden hasever turned out. The scenes range from pastoral views, in which myster that the Winter Garden hasever turned out. The scenes range from pastoral views, in which myster than the word wonders, in which myster than the common foods we eat and has attire to modish Parisian ricels, but the movies have done away with these inventions which used to make our hearts throb with excitement. Nowadays one see these thrillers in such huge extravaganzas as the "Show of Wonders," where they are raised to the Nth degree. "Over the Top" is the name of the new Winter Garden sensation, and it is a sizzler, for it shows the demolishing of a German front line trench by a Yankee flotilla.

The act is presented by a sexte of clever cowgirls, and the stage settings is very beautiful. It shows a mountain valley with its waterfalls and stream, and with the ranch house nestling in a clump of trees at the foot of the valley. A good show is booked around this attraction and includes; Harry Breen, "nut" comedian, who is an excellent tonic for the blues; Mr. and Mrs. Mel Burne, presenting their enjoyable little comedy sketch; Sidney and eccentric dances, all of which are good, and Lamb's Manikins.

The scenes of "Mr. Fix-It" transpire in the slums of New York, as well as in the home of a wealthy New York family, which is divided by the petty jealousies of its members. In adjusting the heart affairs of two young women, both englications arise for Fairbanks.

At the Regent Theater to-morrow and Friday is Sessue Hayakawa's latest Paramount photoplay, entitled "Hidden Pearls." The critics say Hayakawa is given a role that suits him fully as well as did his part in "The Call of the East." Scenes were actually filmed in Hawaii. The cast includes: Theodore Roberts and Margaret Loomis, as well as Jack Holt, Florence Vidor, James Cruze and

This is said to be a rollicking comedy full of thrills, laughs and sensations galore, and Miss Talmadge is so natural in her role that one can scarcely believe it is only acting, for she seems to be enjoying herself in playing the part as much as the audience enjoys watching her and her charming mannerisms. Critics say it is a typical Constance Talmadge production, and is certain to be enjoyed by the star's host, of admirers.

The proper member of the piece of "When Dreams Come True," the first musical comedy written by Philip Bartholomae, and "When Dreams there of "Little Mass Come True" Bartholomae, and "Good, Eddie," will be Brooke and Inght. Slivio Hein, who composed the music, will be remembered as the composer of the scores of some of the pronounced successes of recent seasons. Critics say the three acts of "When Dreams Come True" are different in outline, the first carrying some dramatic touches, as well as comic situations; the second being farcical, and the third having musical and dancing features. The play contains seventeen dancing humbers, most of them invented and directed by Lawrence Ackerland, the leading member of the cast. In the company, in addition to Mr. Ackerland, are: Florence May Smith, Carolyn Glenn, May Finch, Catherine Yarnell, F. C. Palmer, Roy E.
