

ENEMY ADVANCE HALTED IN FLANDERS

HUN COMMANDER IS REFORMING HIS BATTERED ARMY

Allied Forces Play Waiting Game For Coming Attack REPULSE IS DISASTROUS Strong Artillery Bombardments Mark Fighting on Principal Fronts

Stunned by the severe punishment inflicted by the British and French, the Germans in Flanders have given up for the moment their attempt to gain further hill positions west of Mont Kemmel. Meanwhile, it is presumed that General von Arnim is reforming his battered forces and bringing up new reserves to hurl against the granite Allied defense.

Apparently the Allied commanders are content to hold on to their positions in the lower house of the Somme, make more attacks in an endeavor to drive them back. In their disastrous repulse the Germans not only failed to gain although they suffered larger losses than the defenders, but they were driven from some positions they had held since the capture of Mont Kemmel last week.

CHICAGO, May 1.—Lieutenant Dinsmore Ely, U. S. A., of Winnetka, a North Shore suburb, who was killed in France in aviation service on April 21, a few days before his death wrote a letter to his father, Dr. James O. Ely, which was received yesterday. It closes thus: "If anything should happen to me let's have no mourning in spirit or in dress. Like a Liberty Bond, it is an investment, not a loss, when a man dies for his country. It is an honor to a family, and is that the time for weeping? "I would rather leave my family rich in pleasant memories of my life than numbered in sorrow at my death."

With four days remaining the number of subscribers is 2,500,000 more than the $2,500,000 of the second loan and nearly three times the 4,500,000 of the first loan. The "buy another bond" appeal reached President Wilson to-day and although the very short time for nearly $2,500,000 of Third Liberty bonds, he agreed to buy a $50 bond on the installment plan, in accordance with the standard suggestion of the "buy another" solicitors. He added he hoped a million or more other Americans would "buy another bond."

A GOOD SIZED CITY IS TO GROW ABOUT MARSH RUN PLANT

Government Great War Warehouses Being Built Along Permanent Design

A good-sized city of three or four thousand inhabitants will be established within a few miles of Harrisburg and the very short time when complete forces arrive at Marsh Creek plant where is now being built the United States quarter-master supply and warehouse properties under the supervision of Major Wensel Morava, Quartermaster Corps, U. Major Wensel Morava is a man of mature years, head of his own vast construction company in Chicago, identified with the Illinois Manufacturers Association, the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, the Club of Chicago, who, like many other patriots, volunteered to help the government in this crisis. His more than ten years' experience by the government and the post here was selected for him. He is a type of the patriots of wealth who are sacrificing everything to work without pay for Uncle Sam and his energy is so marked that the great plant on Marsh Creek will go up like magic under his guidance.
