Four Soldiers, Doomed,

By Associated Press

Washington, May 1.—There were indications to-day President Wilson would make an early decision in the case of the four American soldiers sentenced to death by court martial in France for violation of the articles of war. Two of the men were tentenced for sleeping at their posts and the others for disobedience of drill orders.

The case was sent to the War Department for review. Secretary Ba-Rer turned the papers over to the President for final decision.

It has been strongly urged that clemency be shown the soldiers.
