When you need help in time of suffering you want to be sure that the aid you seek is reliable. The fame of Beecham's Pills is secure. It rests on merit. For over half a century

Beecham's Pills have met the expectation of suffering humanity without failing to accomplish the good promised. If you have headaches, lassitude, low spirits, nervousness, bitter taste-if you sleep badly and have bad dreams-it is because you are suffering from indigestion. Your food is not assimilated and instead of nourishing you, as nature intended, it is poisoning your system.

According to Food Administration According to Food Administration officials, the seasonal decline in the volume of animals coming to mar-ket is now in progress. This flow is expected to gradually decline dur-ing the next few months, and it is desired that the domestic consump-tion be curtailed in order to strike a balance. is to have the men of the vicinity sacrifice their favorite smoke on the five Thursdays in May and contribute five Thursdays in May and contribute the money to the War Relief unit. At the meeting of the organization yesterday afternoon in the Y. M. C. A. Mrs. Huber read a letter from Wilber A. Gruver, a member of the Rainbow Division, who is now fight-ing in the trenches, thanking the lo-cal unit for sending him several knitted articles during the last win-ter.

The letter follows:

tion be curtailed in order to strike a balance. The shipments abroad to the American forces in France and to the allies are growing steadily larger and have now reached 75,000,000 pounds of meat and meat products per week. This is in sharp contrast to the pre-war normal exports of less than 15,000,000 pounds of meat. Allies Reduce Consumption Even with these heavy shipments, the allies have found it necessary to reduce the consumption of all kinds of meats and poultry to an average of one and one-fourth pounds per week per person. The reduction in meat situation was especially mark-ed in France, where the civil popula-tion is not only limited to three meatless days each week, but has only a scanty bread ration. Meat-less days were resorted to in France because it was not desired to ab-sorb more ships for meat shipments from the United States at a time when the ships are badly needed to move troops.

when the strongs, move troops. The per capita meat consumption in the United States is about three and one-fourth pounds per week and this gives latitude for a general re-duction without any hardship being worked on any class. The Food Administration hopes to avoid meatless days, and urges that the civil population aid by in-creasing the use of meat substitutes.

"Somewhere in France, "March 27, 1918. "My Dear Mrs. Huber: "I received the helmet and wrist-lets O. K. and am taking this op-portunity to write and thank you for them. They certainly are a very useful present, especially in the sort of weather we have been having this winter. We are out of the trenches in rest billets just at present, and the weather is beautiful and warm, but there have been times during the last few weeks when I have been standing guard at night, looking over the parapet toward the Boche lines and wishing, between shivers, that I had a few extra woolens to help keep the cold out. It is quite a comfort to know that the folks at home are behind us, in spite of the fact there are quite a number of young men over there who would look better in uniform. We have just come in from a fifteen-mile hike and it is getting late, so I will have to close now, thanking you again for your eft. Very sincerely.
