end like all good stories should, and it furnishes all sorts of trouble to the principals and amusement for the on-lookers. It is reported that there are no stars in "When Dreams Come True," but there is an evenly balanced cast of clever young people in the leading parts, and a good-looking and hard-working singing and dancing chorus, which make for a smooth and snappy performance.

For those who appreciate classic dancing, Maryon Vadie, assisted by Ota Gygi, an accomplished violinist, will hold out at the Majestic strong appeal. That is the verdict of those who have seen this act in other towns. They are the feature attractions of the vaudeville program at the Majestic the last half of this week, and are presenting an act that is reported to be not only beautifully staged and costumed but well presented. They say both are artists along different lines and together they present an act that is very high class. Plenty of comedy is also to be found on the bill. Val and Gamble, critics say, are two comedy entertainers and put over a good laughing hit. A comedy sketch entitled "Pink Pajamas," is offered by Adelaide Wilson and Company. Knowles and White, a clever duo in a bright song and patter skit, and Nolan and Nolan, novelty jugglers, complete the vaudeville list.

The popular Harold Lockwood will be seen at the Colonial Theater to-day in "The Landloper" in a Metro feature entitled "The Landloper."
Mr. Lockwood has an excellent part in this picture, one which is crammed with adventure and romance. He is seen as the scion of a wealthy family who doesn't care much for his job, and so he sets out to prove his theory that any man can extract his full measure of joy from life, no matter what his station. He succeeds, but not before he has had enough escapades to last the modern young man for the rest of his days. A strong cast supports the star.

BEAUTIFUL COSTUMES A FEATURE IN THE SEASON'S MUSICAL SENSATION, "FLO FLO"

Fashions, with fun and frolic, make John Cort's musical comedy, "Flo Flo," which opens here at the Orpheum Theater on Tuesday for a two days' engagement, one of the hits which caught the fancy of Broadway Theater patrons. "Flo Flo" is now running at the Cort Theater, New York, where it has been enjoying public favor for months. Its "perfect thirty-six" chorus is arrayed in a display of costly evening wraps, frills, foibles and lingerie. The chorus supplements a chosen cast which takes the roles of the beautiful costumed model, the imitation count, the match-making mother, the American heiress, the boy from Oshkosh, the proprietors of the Bride Shop, and the comedy's Watson and Sherlock Holmes. Included in the cast are: Louise Kelley, Hal Skelley, Harry First, Blanche Bellaire, Mildred Beverly, Anna Sands, Joseph Holland, Innis Brothers, C. Heckinger, Lou Leathers, and the Perfect Thirty-six Chorus.

"A Dog's Life" is the title of the Chaplin comedy showing at the Victoria Theater. The picture was heralded as very good. Chaplin and a dog lead a pack of dogs pounce upon one small dog and he goes to his rescue and only succeeds after being chased by the bunch of dogs, who turn upon him. The rescued dog and Charlie become exhibited in the Bride Shop of Mosher and Simpson. "Flo Flo" boasts that it is the only comedy chorus ever assembled for a Broadway appearance. Each one is also a "perfect thirty-six." The trick hats of Pinky and Aloysius, two nimble young men who assist in rescuing Angelina Stoker from a bogus count and restoring her-fast friends and the many experiences make reels of laughs. Everywhere Chaplin goes he insists upon the dog going with him, regardless of whether dogs are allowed or not. To-day also Jewel Carmen in "Bride of Fear," and the third episode of "The Woman in the Web."

The old "eternal triangle" crops out in Sessue Hayakawa's latest Paramount picture, which is now showing at the Regent Theater. In this case a native half cast princess falls in love with a man of her own blood, who has been brought up as an American and who is infatuated with an American girl. The triangle is smoothed out by Beulah Marie Dix and Director George H. Melford. The fact that the photograph was made in Hawaii adds to the attractiveness of the offering.
