

WOMEN'S PARADE FOR RED CROSS TO BE PRAYER

Thousands to March in Streets For Sake of Wounded Soldiers

NOT A PARADE; A PRAYER

HEADS of the Harrisburg Chapter of the Red Cross do not think the word "parade" can be used to describe the appearance Saturday afternoon, May 18, of several thousand Red Cross women, who will march over the principal streets of the city.

A soldier carrying the flags of the United States of America, and other soldiers carrying flags of the allies of the United States, will lead the parade of Red Cross workers scheduled for Saturday afternoon, May 18.

Following the flags will come not less than 2,500 Red Cross women workers, garbed exactly alike. Each will wear her Red Cross cap and apron. These marchers will be in files of eight; and the files of eight

SHE TRIED IT!

AT A MEETING of St. Andrew's Red Cross Auxiliary the other day one of the women said that the route of the Red Cross parade planned for Saturday afternoon, May 18, was a long and tiresome one.

"The story interested another of the members. This morning this other member covered the parade route and found it easily accomplished. A little later, in one of the department stores, she met the woman who was 'going to march if it killed her'."

"Let's walk that route," said the latter. So they started.

"That's what I decided when I walked it the first time," said the other woman.

will be spaced seven feet apart. There will be two breaks in the line—no empty spaces to show the dividing lines between auxiliaries.

Members of all Harrisburg auxiliaries will be in the line. Members of the auxiliaries outside of Harrisburg are urged to participate.

Heads of all auxiliaries are urged immediately to notify Mrs. Olmsted of the number of marchers they have in line, and the name of the commander of the marchers.

The Pennsylvania Railroad War Relief The Daughters of 1917, led by Mrs. William Jennings, will appear.

Schoolgirls above the fifth grade will be marshaled in force, each garbed similarly. Arrangements for the appearance of the children are under the direction of Mrs. Mabel C. Jones.

A nationally-known dictionary will review the "visualized prayer for victory" as it passes the reviewing stand to be constructed at Front and Front. Mrs. Jean B. Chamberlain is in charge of the committee on reviewing stand and decorations.

The parade will form at Front and Market streets, and will follow the following route: Out Market to Fourth, to Sixth, to Reilly, to Second, to North, to Front, to Market street, and disband. So that congestion may be avoided the dismissed units will march to their headquarters.

The executive committee in charge of the parade is composed of Mrs. Marlin E. Olmsted, Mrs. Lyman D. Gilbert and Miss Anne McCormick. It is estimated that not less than 2,500 women will be in line.

don newspapers, Maurice disputes the prime minister's implied statement in the House of Commons that field Marshal Haig's forces were not taking exception to the suggestion.

statement that only one white infantry division in Mesopotamia and one white division are in Egypt and Palestine.

The government has issued a summons to its supporters requesting their attendance in the House of Commons on Thursday when Mr. Asquith will move a resolution which, if carried, will be a vote of censure of the government.

"A division is absolutely certain," says the call.

According to the Press Association the proposal to refer the Maurice affair to judges may be regarded as withdrawal of the suggestion, not appeal to the members of the House and its rejection by Mr. Asquith and his followers rendered it worthless.

On the other hand it is added, it is doubtful whether any other form of inquiry will be held and it is likely the premier will give the fullest possible information to the House.

relative strength of the army in January, 1917, and January, 1918. As regards other matters involved in the statement of General Maurice it is understood that an explanation partly consistent with both versions will be made.

The action of General Maurice, former chief director of military operations at the war office, in impugning the veracity of ministers of the government, has created a most serious political situation and one of vital importance to the cabinet's existence, according to views expressed by several of the morning newspapers.

Papers which have consistently supported the present administration rally to its side and insinuate or assert openly that former Premier Asquith and his followers are back of General Maurice's allegations.

It is a maneuver to out the Lloyd George cabinet and put in its place a cabinet headed by Mr. Asquith, says Grey and the Marquis of Lansdowne.

Thursday's debate, the Daily Telegraph thinks, will be the most significant that any government has had to face involving the question of its continuance in power. The paper is convinced that the ministers need in perfect good faith when they made the statement which General Maurice contradicts and believes they merely repeated information supplied by their military advisers.

The Daily Telegraph believes the country has complete and justifiable confidence in the government, but adds:

"There is no doubt that the opposition led by Mr. Asquith is a serious time as ripe for it to accept the responsibility of office. It is for the House of Commons to choose. The alternative government would be exclusively a radical one."

The Daily Mail which strongly supports Premier Lloyd George and is as strongly inimical to former Premier Asquith, says the debate on Mr. Asquith's motion will afford him the needed opportunity for an attempt to bring about a parliamentary crisis. It remarks that when General Maurice said that no soldier had seen his letter, he did not say that no politician had seen it.

England's Most Talked-of Man The most talked-of man in England to-day is General Frederick B. Maurice, formerly chief director of military operations at the war office.

If some volunteer general or some soldier who had graduated from politics or business into soldiering had defied and trampled upon all the laws and traditions of the British army and all armies, he would not have excited such enormous surprise as has General Maurice in his newly famous letter impugning the veracity of the ministry. Had some less well-known figure written the letter it would have been put down to lack of tradition and to a disregard of the conventionalities by a citizen soldier.

But General Maurice in his personality, his record and his position has been the personification of all that is conventional, austere and correct in the professional soldier. Barred his uniform he would readily pass for a typical Prussian staff officer of the Moltke school.

George Will Disclose As a consequence of the political situation brought about by General Maurice's letter, Premier Lloyd George, according to the lobby correspondent of the Daily Telegraph, considers it impossible to disclose facts which have been withheld up to this time for military reasons. The premier, it is added, intends to give facts and figures when he speaks on the Asquith motion on Thursday.

The Evening News which is credited with being in very close touch with Premier Lloyd George, says of the letter written by General Maurice:

"We understand that both Mr. Bonar Law and Mr. Lloyd George are anxious to meet the general charges at once and consider they have a very good answer indeed to them. The prime minister, when he made his statement as to the strength of the forces in France and Flanders

New York Attorney General Furnishes Cipher and Valuable Probe Data

Albany, N. Y., May 8.—The Von Bernstorff code, the means of communication employed by the German foreign office to keep in touch with Count Johann Von Bernstorff, former German ambassador to this country, and other German activities in the United States has been deciphered, reconstructed and turned over to the Federal government by Attorney General Merton E. Lewis, it was announced today.

This code was the same which Hugo Schmidt, the alleged paymaster in this country of the German foreign office, attempted to destroy by burning the original copy in the furnace at a German club in New York City.

In addition to the code the attorney general's office has furnished the federal government with a complete index of names and addresses involved in the investigation of the Hugo Schmidt-Deutsche Bank negotiations, a summary of the inquiry into the activities of German agents relative to the United States and a special report on remittances by the German foreign office to the South American countries to defray the expenses of German propaganda.

BRITAIN ASKS SUPPORT IN THE GEORGE CRISIS

At the beginning of this year and as to the number of white divisions in Palestine and Mesopotamia, was basing it on the figures of the British War Office authorities. It is stated that he has had no reason since to doubt the correctness of the figures.

The Central News makes this announcement.

"We understand the government regards Mr. Asquith's motion for a select committee to inquire into General Maurice's allegations in the light of a vote of censure, and in the event of it being carried, will consider whether it is possible for them to continue in office."

United States Steel Loses Point Under Pressure Due to Heavy Profit Taking—Reading Is Especially Active

By Associated Press
New York, May 8 (Wall Street).—Rails and specialties were the strong features of the outset of today's stock dealings, the former being stimulated by reports of a forthcoming substantial increase in freight and passenger rates. Reading was especially active, changing hands in round amounts at an extreme advance of two points. The enormous dealings in Reading at a further advance overshadowed operations elsewhere, although rails as a group were more active than at any recent period. Under pressure due to heavy profit-taking, losing a point. Other equipments and motors extended their early advance, but coppers and shipwrecks lagged. How to Take Corns Out So They Don't Come Back

"When sore, tired feet ache like ulcerated teeth, and when callouses, smarting, burning, chafing, excessive perspiration, or other foot afflictions make life miserable, just soak your feet in common hot salted water and then see how quickly you can bid all the torture good-bye," says T. S. WILBURN (of the Army Medical Corps).
