

DRY FEDERATION TO WORK HARD FOR PROHIBITION

Suburban Towns to Have Big Meetings on National Question

With the primaries only one week off, the Dauphin County Ratification Committee is hard at work to promote the fight of candidates pledged to back the national prohibition amendment, both on the Republican and Democratic tickets. A house-to-house canvass of voters on the eve of the primaries, a monster demonstration against John Barleycorn and a series of meetings throughout the county in the interests of the "dry" candidates constitute part of the program which they will execute.

Much attention is being paid by officials of the committee to the work of organization that a higher degree of efficiency might be attained. To bring this about, the co-ordination of various church federations in county boroughs has been secured. Plans are now being made for the house-to-house canvass and details are being arranged for the big parade on the eve of election as an anti-booze demonstration. Meetings in the interest of the "dry" candidates are being arranged for the entire county, but as yet final arrangements have been made only for those meetings in the lower end. Each of the county meetings will be addressed by prominent county anti-saloon workers, after which the organization will be formed to work during the week in the interest of the candidates. The first two of these meetings will be held this evening at Oberlin and at Enhart. The Oberlin meeting will be held in the Citizens fire-engine house and the Enhart meeting for Enhart and Bressler will be held in the Goodwill enginehouse. These meetings, as all of the evening meetings will, start at 8 o'clock. The schedule for the remainder of the week follows: Steelton, First Reformed Church, Wednesday evening; Penbrook, United Brethren Church, Thursday evening; Royalton, United Brethren Church, Thursday evening; Hummelstown, Star Theater, Friday evening; Highspire, in front of Dr. McDaniel's residence, Friday evening; and Middletown, Sunday afternoon.

War Made in Germany but Peace Will Be Made in U.S.

As a preliminary to the approaching Red Cross drive, Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, of New York City, delivered a stirring address to members of the executive committee of the Harrisburg Red Cross Society at a meeting in the Chestnut street auditorium last evening. His talk dealt with many phases of the great world war, but particular attention was paid to the splendid work being done by the Red Cross Society along every battlefield and in every camp and cantonment. Characterizing each oversubscription to any war fund as another shot at Kaiser Bill Hohenzollern, Rabbi Wise said that he had no doubt that Harrisburg would again show its intense patriotism by subscribing and oversubscribing its quota in the campaign as it has done in every war campaign to date.

Speaking more generally, the Rabbi said "we have spent millions in the prosecution of the war and we have sent more than 500,000 men to France, but we will spend a million times as many millions and send five million men to France instead of 500,000 rather than see one German foot remain to defile the sacred soil of France or Belgium. The war was made in Germany," he added, "but the peace will be concluded in the United States."

ADMITTED TO BAR BEFORE ENTERING ARMY

Moses Baturin, 815 North Seventeenth street, was admitted to the Dauphin County Bar to-day. To-night he will leave for Columbus, Ohio, for Army service, having been called by one of the city boards. Mr. Baturin is a son of Morris Baturin. He is a graduate of Columbia University and of the Harvard Law School. The motion for his admission was made by James A. Stranahan.

FIFTEEN-YEAR-OLD BOYS REJECTED BY THE ARMY

Lester Hale and William C. Winters, 15-year-old boys, came from their homes in Shipensburg to enlist in the Army yesterday. When the local recruiting office notified their parents, it was learned they had run away from home and they were not accepted. Mrs. Winters came to the city and got the boys.

Inquiry by Government Reveals Plan to Utilize Arms Against Nation

By Associated Press.
New York, May 14.—Reports that thousands of rifles had been secretly imported from the Krupp works at Essen in order to "Germanize" the United States were related to-day at an inquiry conducted by State Attorney General Lewis into rumors of hoarding of army stores by German interests in the United States. Edgar A. Holmes, of this city, a witness, credited the rumors to a man named H. J. Grossley. Holmes, as a broker, tried to buy the rifles, but was unsuccessful, he said. During the negotiations, Grossley told him that some one million rifles had been imported from Essen via the Hoboken docks of two German steamship companies, and were to be used in the United States. The Germans were successful in reaching the English Channel ports. Mr. Holmes identified a copy of a letter written by Thomas Darlington, of New York, former health commissioner. Holmes testified he had never seen the articles, but had talked with an engineer in the United States who said he had seen boxes containing 280,000 rifles. Two months ago, Holmes said, the United States tried to buy them but they were not produced. Holmes had been in touch with United States officials throughout the negotiations, he said.

Lussing Has Secret

Gustav Lussing was named by Holmes as the man who was said by various intermediaries to be able to deliver the goods. Judd told Holmes the rifles had been in an East Side warehouse in New York and had been removed, but were within an automobile ride of an hour and a half from Broadway. Charles H. Murray, a hotel owner of Washington, D. C., testified he had heard of the existence of the rifles through a Russian agent, Ivan Norodny, who claimed they had been taken to an upstate New York farm and that he had shot one of them himself. Norodny said Lussing had a farm at Woodbury Falls and that a party of German officers, including Captain Hans Tauscher, had visited it after dining at the German Club in New York. Through Norodny, Murray met Lussing and was shown an itemized statement of the quantity of rifles hidden, as follows: 450,000 Mauser, 250,000 rounds cartridges, 100,000 carbines, 1,000 rounds cartridges, 1,000,000 rifles, 600 machine guns.

Lussing, according to the witness, said they were stored in forty different places in the United States. Robert T. Tucker, a tanner, of Charleston, S. C., testified of hearing of the rifles through his acquaintance with Russians in business. Judd told Tucker, he said, he had seen cannon and rifles at a warehouse in Brooklyn. According to the witness, Lussing, knowing they are in the rifles had been sold. "I am thoroughly convinced that those rifles are in this country and that Lussing, knowing they are," said Tucker at the close of his examination.
