$50,000 Love Balm Awarded Husband

New York—After Mrs. Louis J. Kahn, the attractive wife of a wealthy fur importer, took the witness stand in the Supreme Court yesterday in the case of her husband, she took the talesman just five minutes to return a verdict for $50,000 in favor of her husband. This was the full amount he asked in his suit for alienation of affections.

Both Kahn and his wife, who was Miss Rose Trimble before her marriage and who was known to cloak and suit buyers from Bangor, Me., to Lake Charles, La., as "the most beautiful salesgirl in the world," wept because they are fully reconciled now and know that never, never again can even the most engaging cloak and suit merchant come between them. Once in a lifetime is plenty often enough for an affair of that sort, Mrs. Kahn declared.

Kahn told the story of his marriage on January 2, 1916, and of the early days of his happy home life which followed. The serpent entered their little Eden in the person of Goldston and she first met him when she went to buy a suit, she testified. It took six or seven fittings before it was satisfactory, and by that time the harm had been done.

"When Goldston was away on business trips he used to write Mrs. Kahn, and here are some of the things he said, according to the letters read to the jury: "To play with a woman's heart is playing a dangerous game. A vain flirtatious woman is like a thief who breaks into the temple of a man's soul and steals the golden vessels of his belief in womanhood. Such vandals make all women seem unloyal and untrue. They shatter the ideals that most men still possess, no matter how worldly they are. Destroy this letter—safety first!" it concluded. "Another time the cloak dealer wrote: 'I have always thought that God could forgive a woman who sins for love. * * * I may seem condescending, but more women run after me than I run after. A man with a reputation for being fast and a heart breaker has a better chance with women * * * A man who possesses the finest diamond in the world does not covet jewelry. "This is a letter from a man hopelessly in love with a woman. I think it amuses you to set men's hearts on fire and then, at a safe distance, watch the flames. * * * When a woman tells you the reason why she loves a man she doesn't love him. As they left the courthouse Kahn said he and his wife had "started in life all over again."

NATION'S CROPS DOING WELL

Weather Favorable for the Development of Winter Wheat; Kansas Smiles

Washington, May 16.—Following is the weather bureau's bulletin on crop conditions throughout the United States during the past week: The weather continues generally favorable for the development of winter wheat, and the crop is making excellent progress in all of the principal producing areas. The week was exceptionally favorable in Kansas, there being plenty of sunshine and sufficient moisture for rapid development. Wheat is jointing generally in that state and heading in the southeastern portion. It is also heading nicely in Oklahoma. The crop continues in excellent condition in Missouri, and is improving in Arkansas. East of the Mississippi, wheat continues good to excellent.

The seeding of oats was well advanced or completed at the close of the week in all of the northern border states and also in the higher elevations of the Rocky Mountain districts. The warm weather of the past week in the more northern sections east of the Rocky Mountains was very beneficial for germination and vigorous growth of the plants already up.

The seeding of spring wheat has been completed in North Dakota and is nearly finished in Montana and the central Rocky Mountain districts. The seed has germinated well, generally, and that already up has grown and rooted nicely, except on light soil in the far northwest, where moisture continues deficient.

The outlook for rye continues promising, the crop having made satisfactory progress during the week in practically all districts, where grown. The seeding of barley was about completed in the more northern states. Cotton conditions were favorable for farm work in nearly all sections of the country. Planting of spring grains is nearly completed. Preparation of the ground for cotton was going on during the week nearly to the northern limits of the country. The soil is generally in excellent condition and the work of planting will go on rapidly in the important corn-growing districts. The first of the week was too cool for corn in the southern states, but with the warmer weather of the latter part of the week the condition of this crop was much improved.

Cotton was unfavorably affected during the first part of the week by generally cool weather in the central and eastern portions of the belt and by cool and wet weather in much of Texas. The temperature at the close of the week, however, was more favorable. The crop is fair to good in the southern portion of Texas, but the plants are small and the stand poor in the northern portion. The soil is too wet for cultivation, although chopping is under way to the central portion of the state. Early cotton is reported a complete failure in Arkansas, but the late planted is coming up well. Late planting is being completed in Louisiana, but cool nights caused slow growth, as well as in the states to the eastward. Some improvement is reported from portions of Mississippi, but in Alabama and Georgia considerable cotton has died, and much replanting has been necessary.

CLEAR AWAY WRECKAGE The wreckage occasioned Saturday night when seven coalcars were derailed on the Philadelphia and Reading railroad at the P. H. and J. Junction has been cleaned up. Two hundred feet of track were torn up when the cars were derailed.

Ex-Ambassador James W. Gerard's "My Four Years in Germany" has found its way to the moving picture screen and will be shown at the Orpheum Theater all next week, with daily matinees. It is said to reveal a combination of patriotic, historic and dramatic action. The success of this form of photography in emphasizing the intrigue and barbarism of which the Hun is capable is reported to be displayed in this pictorialization of Mr. Gerard's well-known book. The sale of seats for all performances will open Wednesday morning. When ordering seats by mail be sure and include the war tax.

Central High Rallies Too Late at Duncannon

The Central High School "Informals" journeyed to Duncannon on Saturday and hit hard enough to win but at the wrong time. Harrisburg had all the fireworks, Yapple playing a sensational game in left and fields holding up the bunch from his position back of the bat. Central got after Pitcher Steele for four tallies in the ninth, but the rally came too late. The score:

Rotary Club Has Many Guests at Its Luncheon

Arthur D. Bacon presided at a luncheon given by the Harrisburg Rotary Club in the assembly hall of the Y. M. C. A. at noon to-day in honor of those who participated in the recent War Stamp Show given by the club at the Orpheum Theater. Among those who were guests of the club were: Miss Marjorie Boles, Miss C. Wynne Cassel, Miss Sara Lomer, Miss Florence F. Frank, Miss Lenora C. Fry, Miss Mary Frances Rockefeller, Miss Esther Wheeler, Miss Bricker, Mrs. Roy G. Cox, J. G. Saunders, Mrs. Nellie Fernster, Heat Cup, Frank McCarroll and Mr. Huber. President George F. Lumb, William S. Essick, John Heathcote, C. Linford Scott and Preston Crowell spoke, and members of the club who participated in the minstrel show sang. The club will hold its annual meeting with ladies present at the Colonial Country Club to-morrow evening.

ville program will be the appearance in person of Mollie King, the celebrated singing picture star, who will be remembered by movie fans as the star of "The Seven Pearls" and "The King Will Be Seen in a High-Class Offering." Also on the bill are Dolan and Lenhart, who have an amusing comedy sketch entitled "Modest Mary," William Cutty, popular comedian in some of our best vaudeville shows, and Keith attractions, round out the bill.

"The Smarter Set," the successor to the famous "Smart Set," will come to the Orpheum next Saturday matinee. This season this organization is headed by Salem Tutt Whitney and J. Homer Tutt, who are also responsible for the vehicle in which they are appearing. A plot is hardly necessary for a vehicle of fun and music of a race, and the only resemblance to a plot established is a sort of a Potash and Perlmutter business management. There is a chorus of a dusky pigment, and their voices possess that rich, throaty quality which is so characteristic of its beauty and charm, but this brings out the beauty of the part.

The Colonial Theater's big attraction to-day and to-morrow is Elizabeth Risdon "Mother," a new novel by the famous author of the same title. The story has many times been described as "the sweetest ever told," and it has many times been described as such, for it tells of the fullness of motherly love and again brings home to the man and woman the fact that the best and truest friend on earth is mother. Critics say that in hands of less capable than Miss Risdon's, the character of "Mother" would lose much of its beauty and charm, but this brings out the beauty of the part.

An old-fashioned, one-ering circus, one of the kind that were popular in the days of the Civil War, "The Biggest Show on Earth" is the big feature of the Regent Theater to-day and to-morrow. The circus when she is 17 and enters a girl's academy, where she has many interesting adventures, including the saving of a girl chum from the fangs of a shark when she is in a love story, in which Roxie and her sweetest friend, the chic figure, Roxie, are opposed by the aristocratic mother of her fiancé, who regards circus folk with supreme contempt, until her husband, a proud colonel, confesses that he owns part of a circus and hints that if Roxie isn't good enough for his son, he (the colonel) isn't good enough for the proud mother. After Roxie risks her life to save her father's circus from a mob, she is accepted and finds happiness.

"True Blue" will play at the Victoria Theater for two days, to-day and to-morrow. It is a film drama of the Victoria.
