QUIT MEAT WHEN BACK HURTS OR KIDNEYS BOTHER

Says Uric Acid in meat clogs Kidneys and irritates Bladder

A glass of Salts is harmless way to flush Kidneys, says Authority

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. To neutralize these irritating acids to cleanse the kidneys and flush out the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize uric acid in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness. Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.—Adv.

RED CROSS GIFTS TO COME FREELY

Chairman of Campaign Says Coercion Must Not Be Used in Collecting Coercive methods must not be employed in the Red Cross drive this week. Orders to this effect are contained in a letter issued to-day to division chiefs, captains and team collectors by W. T. Hildrup Jr., chairman of the Red Cross campaign in this city. "Mr. Hildrup's letter is as follows: 'I have received from the Pennsylvania Division Secretary, Edgar Munson, instructions that in the campaign about to begin there must be no coercion used, especially by employers or managers of industries; and, personally, I heartily approve of this direction, and urge your faithful observance of these instructions. 'You are not collecting taxes, but gifts of love; and love is measured by sacrifice—not by dollars and cents. 'The Red Cross does not inflict wounds. Its great mission is to heal them, and it bears no whip, even for those persons whose minds do not realize that all that humanity holds most dear is in peril, and that we keep possession of our material things only by the price paid in the blood of brave men, the tears of mothers and wives and the expenditure of vast treasure. 'We must not forget that the war has brought to many homes heavy increases in expenses with little if any increase in income. This is especially true of professional men and salaried heads of families. There are many others serving the Government without salary or even reimbursement of heavy expenses. 'Be kind, therefore, and charitable, even though your collections are not what you wish. 'Each collector has a high and noble duty to perform. You are the volunteer messengers of the greatest organization of charity the world has ever known. Your duty is to see that all residents in your district have opportunity by gift, no matter how small, to express their love and sympathy for our soldiers and sailors and the destitute people of Europe. Your reward, which is not of this world, I believe will be measured by your fidelity in this service. 'The heart of Harrisburg is throbbing with patriotic life and the spirit of sacrifice. Everyone has the desire to give; and there are enough having the ability to make our campaign a great success and an example to those unfortunate cities which do not have our spirit. 'Let us turn over to the National Red Cross Society and Harrisburg Chapter a magnificent gift from a free and generous people, not sullied by regret that it contains a single dollar unwillingly given. 'Very sincerely yours, 'WILLIAM T. HILDROP JR., 'General Chairman. 'In connection with Mr. Hildrup's letter it might be added that twenty-five per cent. of the total contributions in this week's campaign will remain with Harrisburg Chapter.

Napoleon once said "It takes three things to make a successful war: The first is money; the second is money; and the third is more money." So it is with the Red Cross—it takes money, more money and still more money to keep these angels of mercy on the battle-field doing their heroic work, ministering to those in distress. It takes millions to back up their noble sisters in the American Red Cross—the largest organization of any kind in the world and the greatest force for good in this day of warring nations.
