

U. S. WORKS TO BRING RUSSIA BACK TO WAR

One Plan Considered Is to Spend Huge Sums in Russia For Products

Washington.—The United States Government has for some time been giving careful consideration to steps that may be taken to assist the Russian people. This was disclosed when a high official was questioned regarding a published report that the State Department has under consideration a definite plan for the relief of Russia.

The official said no plan had yet been adopted, but did not deny that the problem is now under active consideration. One plan which has been placed before the department contemplates the expenditure of large sums for the acquisition of Russian products for which Germany has been willing to pay fancy prices. Those who advocate this plan contend that many millions worth of cotton and oil could be procured for the United States which will be seized by Germany in time if the United States does not step in.

Present Is Good Time to Act
Such a plan presents practical difficulties. For example, the transportation situation in Russia is such that it would be difficult to move these commodities in large quantities to the sea, but if this could be done the funds received would enable Russia to accomplish much in the way of rehabilitation.

A project to assist Russia in an economic way has progressed to a point where the personnel of a body of men to be sent to Russia is under consideration. This will be almost wholly a commercial mission. For some time prominent businessmen have been associated in an effort to help Russia, working with the knowledge and consent of the government. The impression grew to-day that important developments affecting the policy of the United States and the Allies toward Russia may be looked for very soon.

Would Explain Kerensky's Coming
It is believed here that the prospective developments have relation to the movements of Alexander Kerensky, technically Premier of the only Russian government formally recognized by the United States and the Allies. The general view is that Kerensky will proceed to San Francisco on the way to Vladivostok. The more conservative elements of Russia are said to be gathering in Siberia. These include Social Revolutionists as well as Constitutional Democrats.

It was reported that Kerensky had arrived in New York. Ambassador Bakshmetoff could not be seen. Persons connected with the Embassy would not confirm or deny the report. At the State Department it was said nothing was known there regarding the movements of Kerensky. Diplomatic circles pointed out that the Allied and American governments naturally would want to conceal the doings of the Russian revolutionary leader.

MILLIONS FOR ALL, HIS PLEA

Man Who Exploited Roosevelt Letter Held For Grand Jury

New York.—Charged with using the mails to defraud, H. Kent Holmes, a promoter with offices at 27 William street, was held in $50,000 by United States Commissioner Hitchcock, gave surety and was released, to await action by the Federal Grand Jury.

Holmes has been running the United States Promotion House, Inc., which he used to promote mercantile and manufacturing concerns and provide funds for the developments of gold mines and oil properties. The complaint alleges from the same office Holmes, as H. Kent Holmes, Inc., dealt in stocks of the Allen Oil Company, Williams Oil Company and Manganese Oil Company of Canada.

In pamphlets sent through the mails, the postal authorities say, Holmes invited the public to join him and become "insiders" in Wall street. He also undertook to tell investors how millionaires make millions in the street, though a system absolutely safe.

Millions Awaited "Right Man"
"It is all in knowing how," one of the booklets says, "and where the outside makes six per cent, profit, the insider makes 100 per cent. profit. The United States Promotion House, Inc., has nothing to lose because it never invests its own money. There is one million or ten millions a year profit waiting for the right man in the street."

This company, once going well, will make as much money as any gold mine and it can pick up a dozen gold mines in course of time. We only need one deal a year to make ourselves multi-millionaires. Investment in the stock of the United States Promotion House, Inc. is the safest investment in America, and combined with its safety, are possibilities of profit greater than any gold mine or oil well in the world. In 1905 Holmes came into the limelight in Washington as the head of a plan to promote the Newsboys' Company, which published the Newsboys' Magazine. About two years before, Col. Roosevelt had written a letter, which was published, commending what was put before him as a plan to benefit newsboys by making them save money.

Loeb Leaped the Truth
It was soon afterward that William Loeb, Jr., was made secretary to President Roosevelt. Reports began to reach the White House that the letter was being used by Holmes to sell stock of the Newsboys' Company. An investigation showed that agents of Holmes got forty per cent. of the money obtained.

Mr. Loeb called Holmes to the White House and told him of the investigation. The Roosevelt letter was returned the following day. Letters from several Senators and Representatives who had invested in Holmes' scheme also were recalled. Some of these men had signed subscription blanks which read that the giver of a check agreed that the company could expend the fund as it saw fit.

Merchants Bank Comes to Aid of Red Cross

At the regular meeting of the board of directors of the Merchants National Bank this morning, a resolution was passed subscribing $500 to the American Red Cross. Similar action was taken by the board of directors of the Central Trust Company, at their regular meeting, also held this morning. The total subscription of the two banks, amounting to $1,000 will be made through the Harrisburg chapter of the Red Cross, putting Harrisburg still further over the top in its second war fund campaign.

Kerensky May Come to Win Aid For New Revolt

ALEXANDER KERENSKY

Representatives of the Bolsheviks believe Kerensky is coming in the interest of some counter revolutionary movement in Russia and to start a campaign against American recognition of the Bolsheviks.

Yankee Flyers Learn Air Stunts in Italy; Great Glory, Says Page

American Seaplane Training Camp, Central Italy.—American aviators in training here make occasional trips to a nearby town or, less frequently to Rome.

This is the first school in Italy for Uncle Sam's aerial sailors. They attend lectures, learn French and Italian, go through all the lessons up to "solo" flying, then on through careful training to the time when they are recommended as fit for officers. Next their names travel over the Atlantic to the War Department, and finally they become officers and have their names enrolled among the fighters for the United States.

"I know of no greater glory than that of being an aviator," said the American Ambassador, Thomas Nelson Page, to some of them at a lunch given in their honor.

Their camp is located near the banks of one of the volcanic lakes in the mountains near Rome. The winter and spring have been mild and the student aviators have been flying almost every day since they came, under the direction of Italian instructor pilots. They utilize the lake for bathing.

On their Saturday afternoon and Sunday holidays they ride over to a cathedral tower set on a big rock, go to church, see the sights, spend a little money on restaurant food, possibly put up overnight at one of the many little hotels that are languishing here since the war cut off tourist traffic and they ride back again Monday morning for a new week's training.

Those fortunate enough to have toothache or teeth in the need of repair may go to Rome for the purpose, Uncle Sam not having yet provided a dentist exclusively for this camp, as he has at the bigger camp for aviators in the south of Italy. As teeth connect with the nerves which are supposed to regulate the sense of equilibrium, it will be understood just how important commanding officers consider such troubles. Without a proper sense of equilibrium a man cannot fly without running the risk of breaking his neck or a valuable machine.

Sometimes money becomes a drawback to the Rome excursion, in view of the irregularities of pay days. One young flier from Missouri overcame this handicap by borrowing French, English or American money from his comrades. In Rome he exchanged this for Italian paper money at the rate of eight and one-half lire to the dollar, spent what was necessary to see the sights and returned to the camp with more money than he had when he started. He repaid his debts at the rate of five lire to the dollar.

Hunger of Holland Is Charged to the Allies; Takes Issues With U. S.

Washington.—Holland has presented to America another note on the requisitioning of Dutch ships. It takes issue with America's reply to Holland's protest on the grounds that it was irrelevant as to the main points, that it made no effort to establish the legality of the action and advanced no juridical argument, merely citing facts.

The communication injects a new element into the controversy, in that it asks for the food shortage in Holland is placed on the Allies and the United States, not on Germany. While Germany had sunk considerable Dutch tonnage, she had left a "safe lane" for express and ingress to Dutch ports.

The State Department, it is understood, has asked the Dutch government if it is willing to have the correspondence made public. Holland has made no objection.

Nothing positive is known here about the reported new Dutch decree prohibiting the sailing of ships from Holland. In an authoritative quarter it is learned that such an order would not affect the departure from Holland of three vessels to replace the Java, Stella and Hollandia, the latter from an Argentine port, under an arrangement entered into by the two governments. As soon as these vessels sail from America, it is said, three steamers of approximately the same tonnage will sail from Dutch ports. It has not been settled whether the ship substituted for the Hollandia will return to an American or an Argentine port.

Holland make the point that the three ships about to sail with grain for Dutch ports were not included among those requisitioned by the United States and England, being on the high seas. The State Department has informed that Holland intends to send a convoy to the Dutch East Indies. It is assumed that Holland intends to convoy Dutch ships from the East Indies to her own ports to prevent their being requisitioned by the Allies, as well as to fight submarines if attacked.

RAILROAD MEN PLAN BIG TIME

Military Night at Friendship Club Takes Place Thursday Night, May 30

Members of the Friendship and Co-operative Club are enthusiastic over the big meeting scheduled for Thursday night, May 30. This date was selected after it was learned that many railroad officials would be unable to attend last night, the regular time for the monthly meeting.

Major William B. Gray, with his staff, and Rile Williams, traffic manager, now looking after the Government's interests, will be the speakers. Major Gray, who is well known to Harrisburgers, will have much that is of interest to the audience. His work on the Enola yards, Pennsylvania Railroad low-grade line and Recville bridge brought him to this vicinity, and now that he is again looking after an important contract, his friends are anxious to meet him.

Railroad Officials Coming
Officials of the Pennsylvania and Reading and all local railroad employes are invited to this meeting, which will be held in Eagles' Hall, Sixth and Cumberland streets. N. W. Smith, superintendent of the Middle Division, will come from Altoona with a number of officials, and will be met here by Superintendent F. W. Smith, Jr., of the Philadelphia Division. The party will be taken to Middletown in autos for a visit to Major Gray and to look over the big Ordnance Field.

MISS SWARTZ RECEIVES DEGREE
Miss Annabel Swartz, instructor in Oratory in Central High School faculty is in attendance at the commencement exercises of the National School of Eloquence and Oratory, Philadelphia, where she will receive her master degree. Miss Swartz received her training at Wilson College and the National, coming to Harrisburg four years ago, where she has been very successful in her work.
