Governor Changes Practice of
Years in Announcing Judicial Selections

Governor Martin G. Brumbaugh has established a new line of policy in regard to appointments. Judging from what has happened in the cases of Alexander Simpson, Jr., appointed justice of the Supreme Court, and George Henderson, appointed justice of the Supreme Court, and George Henderson, appointed justice of the Supreme Court, and George Henderson, appointed justice of the Supreme Court, and George Henderson, appointed justice of the Supreme Court, and George Henderson, appointed justice of the Supreme Court, and George Henderson, appointed justice of the Supreme Court, and George Henderson, appointed justice of the Supreme Court, and George Henderson, appointed justice of the Supreme Court, and George Henderson, appointed to announce the fact.

The Governor sent word that he had appointed him.

According to information at the court offices here the Supreme Court will meet in Harrisburg Monday, but the dimer to have been given by the Governor, but canceled, will not be tendered. The court has a short list termon. Mr. Simpson for the Governor's departure from the policy of announcing appointments at the State Capitol or the way the Vares hanoled O'Neil in the Philadelphia voting, it is not believed he will go on the warpath. His appointments will either have to go before the voters for election or the Senate for confirmation. The Governor's office refused all information on the appointments until the men named had announced the fact. When word came that Mr. Simpson had announced acceptance reason of the death of Justice Mestrezat.

Mr. Simpson, who is a law partner of Francis Shunk Brown, Attorney General of Pennsylvania, stated to-day that he received his commission from the Governor on Wednesday, and expected to go to Harrisburg to take the oath of office before Monday. The court sits in Harrisburg on that day.

The appointment followed the presentation of a petition freely signed by leaders of the Philadelphia bar and prominent businessmen, to Governor Brumbaugh that he name Mr. Simpson as a member of the state's highest tribunal. He is known as the dean of the bar here and has for many years taken a deep interest in civil affairs.

Great Army of Employes Take Measures to Secure Higher Wages and Better Working Conditions From Their Employers

Waynesboro, Pa., May 24. —
Waynesboro's labor army is on strike.
At noon yesterday workmen with their dinner pails assembled at the public square. By 1 o'clock the sidewalks about the square and for a block either way were a dense mass of humanity. It was Waynesboro's great army of wage-earners. They had thrown down their hammers and compasses, the sand knives and jack planes and had struck for the higher wages they demanded and their amelioration of working conditions
