GYM CLASSES IN OUT-DOOR FETE

Beautiful Dancing and Graceful Drills Please Large Audience at Academy

Hundreds of people were present last evening to see pupils of Miss Majorie Bolles present the third exhibition of the Y. W. C. A. gymnasium classes on the Harrisburg Academy Athletic Field. Originally scheduled for Saturday afternoon, rain postponed the affair and again interfered last night. Fortunately it was but a passing shower and with but a few moments break, the program went on to the finish. The program opened with a dumb-bell exercise by the 1918 business girls class and the 1918 High School girls class, followed by an Indian club drill which was given by the advanced class. A number of exercises, free-arm exercises by juniors between the ages of 6 and 10 years, were splendidly accomplished. A waltz was given by the 1918 business girls, 1917 business girls, and advanced High School classes, was pleasingly given and a free-arm exercise consisting of a number of cast-iron movements, was given by the combined club girls, advanced business girls, 1917 business girls, 1918 business girls, 1918 High School girls, 1918 High School girls, advanced junior and 1918 junior classes.

CHARTER NIGHT OF THE KIWANIS

International President Hixson Makes Address; Music, Dancing and Supper

The Kiwanis Club last night emerged from swaddling clothes and presented a full-fledged organization when officers of the international association presented the president of the local club with the charter. The occasion was celebrated with a Charter Night held in the Elks club-house, George F. Hixson, international president of the club, in a brief address presented the charter to Frank G. Fahnstock, local president. Mr. Fahnstock acknowledged the charter on behalf of the local organization. Following the club meeting a buffet luncheon and dancing continued until 12:30 o'clock. Short stunts interspersed the dancing. Mrs. Nellie Fensler sang several songs and Heist Culp gave a number of prologues. Miss Edna Bricker, daughter of Kiwanian L. M. Bricker, was an evening's feature, when she gave several readings. Miss Bricker has a natural dramatic ability which has been coupled with careful training, and her readings bring her stories graphically before the listeners. Almost two hundred people were present at the celebration. Among them was a large percentage of the Kiwanis Club membership and many guests. One of the humorous features of the evening was the club rollcall. It is the custom at each luncheon for members to give name, business and nickname. At the event last night the custom was carried out to the great amusement of outsiders, who could not conceive of staid businessmen being so frivolous. Charles L. Schmidt, florist, enlivened the occasion when he presented William C. Alexander, salesmanager for the Moorhead Knitting Company, with a few well-timed remarks. Mr. Alexander responded by presenting Mr. Schmidt.

The weather was threatening and skies were dark when Miss Jean Matter opened the second part of the program with a solo dance, "Wild Bird Mazurka." Miss Matter has won for herself fame as a dancer, and her work last night amply sustained past records. Juniors between the ages of five and ten years gave a vineyard dance. A Dutch dance by the 1918 High School class, followed by an athletic barn dance given by the 1918 business girls class. The 1917 business girls class, the 1918 business girls class, and the 1918 High School advanced junior class gave the "Kiss of Spring Waltz." The woodland scene was an attractive setting for the dance given by the 1918 business girls and advanced High School classes.

"The Pipes of Pan," a solo dance by Miss Fahnstock, was a feature of the program to be ranked only with Miss Matter's "Wild Bird Mazurka." There is to Miss Fahnstock's dancing an expression of aesthetic beauty which marks her as a worthy emulor of the illustrious Isadore Duncan. Patriotic Pageant As a finale, all classes joined in a patriotic pageant, "The United States." It was a fitting climax to an entertainment such as that given last night. With the trees and grass as a frame, the story of the nation was vividly unfolded before the hundreds who watched.

The Rossman-Orr Bridal Last Evening at Manse

The marriage of Miss Helen Orr, daughter of Mrs. Frank Orr, and Raymond Lyle Rossman, both of Chambersburg, was a quiet event of last evening at the Manse of the Market Square Presbyterian Church, State street, with the pastor, the Rev. Dr. George Edward Hawes, officiating. The bride, who was unattended, wore a traveling suit of dark blue with hat to match and a corsage bouquet of sweetpeas. Mr. Rossman is connected with the advertising department of the Harrisburg Telegraph.

Miss Conkling Will Lead Steele Song Festival

An evening of song will be observed to-night in the Steele school-building, Fifth and Mahantongo streets, at 7:45 o'clock. Miss Conkling, supervisor of music in the public schools, will lead the community singing. Although most of the evening will be given over to the community singing, special numbers, including readings by Miss Alma Shutt, solo by Miss Amy Burd, piano number by Miss Ethel Brightbill and a clever reproduction of "Billy Woodchuck" by Kenneth Tyson, will add to the enjoyment of the program.

Officers of the local Kiwanis Club are: F. G. Fahnstock Jr., president; L. F. Neefe, Vice-president; V. H. Frackenberg, secretary; and Henry C. Claster, treasurer. The entertainment committee in charge of last night's festivities included L. F. Neefe, chairman; F. F. Davenport, William Strauss, W. C. Alexander, A. K. Thomas, F. C. Pease, F. R. Downey and Charles L. Schmidt.

Miss Cluster Delights Soldiers With Songs

Mr. and Mrs. George P. Tilletson, of 113 Locust street, and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence motored to Philadelphia and Roxborough for a brief stay.

Miss Clarabelle Claster

Miss Clarabelle Claster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Claster, of Second and Briggs streets, spent Sunday at Camp Colt, Gettysburg, where she delighted a large audience of the soldiers with her singing. When the "Boys Come Home," by Oley Speaks; "The Long Trail" and other trench songs were on the program and she also led the community singing.

Miss Claster has a dramatic soprano voice of great sweetness and range and is continuing her voice lessons begun at the Harcum school, Bryn Mawr, where she was graduated a year ago.
