WORLD'S FATE IS UP TO AMERICA, SAYS DR. BRADY

Tells of Hun Atrocities and Price French and British Have Paid

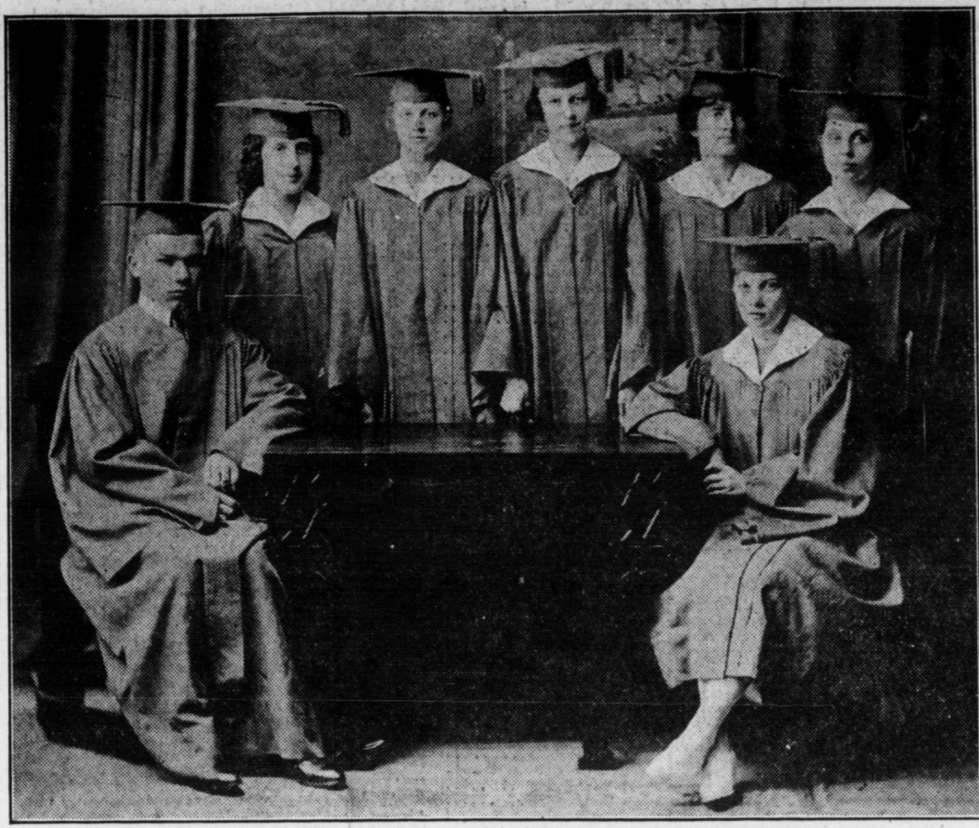

"Let us eliminate the German language from the American continent. It's a hideous language, anyway. Let us not have a single German paper of any kind. German propaganda is everywhere. I wish I could tell you of some of the things I know about it."

In an address, bristling with stories of German butchery and atrocity, Dr. Cyrus Townsend Brady urged that the German language be abolished from the American continent, and declared God will not stop this war until His will is done. Speaking under the auspices of the Kiwanis Club of Harrisburg, in Chestnut Street Auditorium, Dr. Brady spoke on the subject, "When God Will End This War."

Preceding the meeting, members of the Kiwanis Club, Motor Messengers and the Harrisburg Reserves joined in a walk-around through the city's principal streets. Following the parade, the marchers went to Chestnut Street Auditorium. The meeting opened with community singing under the direction of Abner W. Hartman. Mrs. Izer sang "Keep the Home Fires Burning" and Mrs. Roy G. Cox sang "Old Black Joe" while the audience joined in the chorus in both songs. Miss Viola Burd accompanied the singers on the piano. The Rev. Dr. Lewis S. Mudge made a fervent prayer for victory of the Allied arms and William Strouse, chairman of the Kiwanis Club committee on arrangements, introduced Major William B. Gray, commandant of the Middletown Ordnance depot, who was the chairman of the evening. In his introduction Major Gray characterized Dr. Brady as a distinguished preacher, soldier, sailor, author, teacher, but, above all, a man. "A graduate of the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, twenty years in the United States Navy, a priest of the Episcopal Church, a commissioner of the army of the United States, a missionary and traveler," were the titles given the speaker. Dr. Brady opened his address by telling a number of examples of the Huns' atrocity.

Hun Brutality
In telling of the brutality of the Huns, Dr. Brady recounted the story of a French woman who became a mother while in Germany. She was accorded humane treatment, she thought, and she said to the physician who had gone through so much that I thought there were no gentlemen anywhere in Germany. I have changed my mind and believe that you are one gentleman among the thousands of devils." "Madame," the physician replied with a sardonic grin, "you have not heard all. I have taken advantage of the opportunity and your child will never be a soldier of France. I have severed his optic nerves." "That is not the will of God," the speaker shouted. "That is the will of man. God's will is not going to be done until we find out what it is and make up our minds to do it. The war will not be won, these horrors and atrocities will not be stopped until we make up our minds to stop them. God is giving us freedom of will in order that we may work with Him for the good of man. He will stop this war when you stop it. You can't put things on God. You've got to give God a square deal."
"Some people believe there is no devil. I believe there are plenty of devils. I believe there is a devil in the Kaiser, in every German soldier and in every German person." The speaker compared the devils in

Susquehanna Township High School Seniors

The graduation exercises of the senior class of the Susquehanna township school were held last evening in the United Brethren Church, at Eighteenth and State street. Seven were graduated in the class, one of the largest the school has ever graduated.

Paul Gruber, valedictorian, delivered an oration on "Why We Are Fought." Ruth Kepler, historian, read an essay on "What This War Really Means to Women," and Emily Miller read an essay on "The Value of Musical Instruction in the Public Schools."

Zella Rebeck read the class history. Special services will be held by the church on Monday evening, June 3, followed by an essay on "Education as a Means to Prosperity," by Estella Richards. Mildred Mader gave a reading, "The Swan Song," and there was a reading by Elizabeth Evans, "A Judith of 1864."

Harrisburg Episcopal Church will be held in the St. Stephen's Church at 11 o'clock to-morrow morning. The Rev. Leroy F. Baker, a former rector of St. Paul's Church, and at present Archdeacon of the Harrisburg Diocese, will give a short talk. The meeting is open to the public.

Special services will be held by the Jewish churches of the city with the day as a day of fasting. Jesse E. B. Cunningham will be the speaker at Ohev Shalom. At the Chisuk Emuna synagogue, a service flag of thirty-two stars will be unveiled as part of the regular memorial services. Rabbi Romanoff, Rabbi Haas, the Rev. M. Abramson and Senator E. E. Beidman will be the speakers. Joseph Claster is the chairman of the committee on arrangements. These services, starting at 3 o'clock, will be preceded by a parade of children who are members of the Young Men's Hebrew Association.

Memorial services of Post 58, G. A. R., will be held at the Paxton Presbyterian Church grove at Paxton, when the address will be delivered by the Rev. H. B. King, pastor. The Rev. James McClure will assist. Afterwards the usual services of the G. A. R. will be held, including the strewing of flowers over the dead comrades' graves and giving the salute. The church choir and school children will furnish the vocal music.

STATE TRACTORS READY FOR WORK

Suggestions Made That They Be Used For Summer Plowing in Idle Fields

Thirty-five farm tractors of seven different makes are now at the service of the farmers of the state through the efforts of the Commission of Public Safety and Defense and the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture.

The tractors each operated by one man are situated in Dauphin, Huntingdon, Blair, Mifflin, Columbia, Chester, Erie, Crawford, Montgomery, Bucks, Delaware, Mercer, Lehigh, Northampton, Washington, Bradford, Lawrence, Venango, Potter, Tioga, Allegheny, Butler and Wyoming counties.

In each of these counties tractor units have been formed which provide at least 100 acres of work within a small radius. The tractors have been the means of helping farmers overcome the labor shortage in many communities, but deliveries and transportation difficulties have delayed the spring drive in several sections.

Farmers who live in any of the counties in which the tractors are now located and desire work done should get in immediate touch with Secretary of Agriculture Patton at Harrisburg, or with their County Farm Bureau Agent. It is planned to keep the tractors at work during the entire season and many farmers are doing plowing now that usually was put off until fall. The tractors will be available during the next six weeks for all work that can be done at this season and requests will receive prompt attention.

Drastic Anti-Beer Bill Will Go Before Senate

Washington, May 29.—The Randall amendment to the Food Survey bill, prohibiting the use of money appropriated for field work unless the President issues a proclamation forbidding the use of foodstuffs in the manufacture of wines and beer, will be defeated by the Senate, according to information received by friends of the President yesterday.

This does not mean that the Prohibition sentiment in the Senate has changed, but that the Randall proposition is not liked by leading Prohibitionists, who believe in passing direct legislation to end the liquor traffic.

PLAN COMMUNITY SERVICES
A community service of prayer will be held in Market Square Presbyterian Church to-morrow morning at 12 o'clock. The congregation of the Pine Street Presbyterian Church will unite with the Market Square Church in a brief Memorial Day service. Dr. George Edward Hawes and Dr. Lewis S. Mudge, pastors of the two churches will be in charge of the services with their assistant pastors aiding them.

LAST OF "TOBACCOLESS DAYS"
To-morrow will be the last of the "Tobaccoless Days" held under the auspices of the Women's War Relief of the Pennsylvania Railroad at Enola. Men who observed these days, saved the money they would have used for smokes and chewing tobacco, and the money will be used for war work. It has been requested by officials in charge of the campaign, that men who observed the days, turn in their envelopes at the Enola Y. M. C. A. or to Mrs. H. G. Huber, 1400 North Second street.

MEMORIAL DAY HAS NEW SIGNIFICANCE

first Memorial Day in which Americans are being honored since they have taken their positions on the battle lines with the allies, the war will be brought even still closer home to Harrisburg than it has been brought thus far.
Decidedly noticeable to-morrow will be the thinned ranks of the G. A. R. So will the reverence paid them be touching. In Harrisburg to-day there are but a few hundred heroes of the Civil War and many of these will be unable to participate in the ceremonies of the day because of advancing age. Figures recently issued show that in all of Pennsylvania but 12,000 of the veterans survive. Fourteen hundred and forty-one of them succumbed during the past year. Some of those able to attend the affairs of the day during which their comrades in arms are being honored will have to be transported by automobiles because of their feeble condition.

The entire program for to-morrow's observances will be entirely in keeping with President Wilson's proclamation, "Minutes of Memory" headed by the observance with Governor Brumbaugh's proclamation during the five minutes after twelve noon. During this time bells on many parts of the city will be tolled. The flags will be hung at half-mast, and the people will stand "bareheaded and reverent" to give respect to the soldier and sailor "dead and dying whose lives have gone out that we may live."

Practically all of the city churches of all denominations have arranged special services for to-morrow. Special programs will be rendered by most of them.

Decorate Graves
In preparation for to-morrow's events and that the graves of their comrades might present a pleasing appearance, members of the G. A. R. this morning visited all the cemeteries of Harrisburg and decorated the graves.

The biggest event of the day will be the parade with thousands in line held during the afternoon. The lines will form in Front and Market streets and get under motion at 1:30 o'clock.

The decorated ranks of the G. A. R. will head the procession in automobiles. Owners of automobiles in Harrisburg and vicinity willing to volunteer their services for this parade should get into communication with Charles Beaver or William D. Rhoads at the headquarters, 26 North Third street.

Headed by the G. A. R., the remainder of the parade will be made up as follows:
First Division—Platoon of police; chief marshal, John A. Runkle, Post No. 116, G. A. R.; assistant chief marshal, E. B. Hoffman, Post 58, G. A. R.; chief of staff, William D.

Second Division—Sons of Veterans' Drum Corps, Sons of Veterans, Commonwealth Band, Perseverance Band; Post 520, G. A. R.
The Route
The procession will move in Market street to Fourth and then over the Mulberry street bridge to Thirteenth street where a halt will be called.

The first division will step to the right, face front and present arms, while the second division will proceed to Mt. Calvary Cemetery for services. The second division will march out Thirteenth street to State, halt and salute while Post 520 passes and proceeds to the Lincoln Cemetery. The remainder of the division will proceed to the Harrisburg Cemetery to the speaker's platform for services and will then march to the soldiers' plot for further orders.

To Hold Field Mass
Another big event of the day will be the large field mass by all of the Catholic churches of Harrisburg, held at the Sylvan Heights Orphanage at 10 o'clock in the morning. A. H. Kreidler will be the chief marshal of the procession, which will precede this mass and will form at the Cathedral hall at 9 o'clock in the morning when the marshals of the various divisions will report to Mr. Kreidler.

Chief Marshal Kreidler has announced his list of aids as follows: L. G. Martin, R. J. Seltz, J. W. Rodenhaver, H. J. Reuter, Herman A. Kreidler, E. W. Weiss, P. A. Kennedy, Louis Simonetti, Bernard Schmidt, William Flinn, Frank H. Harris, J. H. Conley, Edward Koenig, Thomas Guthrie.

The parade will be made up of six divisions as follows:
First Division—Platoon of police; Aug. H. Kreidler, chief marshal; aids, Municipal band, Cathedral Choral Society, Henry M. Hare, marshal; aids, John M. Daley, J. Grant Schwarz, Cathedral Hassett Boys' Club, school societies and congregation.

Down Second to Market, to Fourth, to Mulberry street bridge, to Thirteenth, to Chestnut, to Sylvan Heights lawn.

Bishop to Officiate
The parade will be followed by a field mass, the first of its kind ever conducted in Harrisburg. The Rt. Rev. Philip R. McDevitt will officiate, assisted by other priests of the diocese. The mass will be sung by the Cathedral Choral Society under the direction of Sister Evangelist.

The Memorial services of the

Temperance Leaguers Are to Support Sproul

Philadelphia, May 29.—The legislative committee of the Anti-Saloon League, comprising nine counties and the Philadelphia County Co-operative Temperance League, has declared that both organizations will support Senator Sproul for Governor at the November election.

In connection with the campaign which the 2,000 members of the organizations intended to wage for Sproul and, incidentally, ratification of the prohibition amendment, it has been arranged to have the Rev. Samuel W. Small, of Georgia, and Congressman Berkeley, of Kentucky, make a number of addresses here and in surrounding counties.

Services at Messiah

Memorial Day and prayer services will be held at Messiah Lutheran Church, Sixth and Foster streets, at 7:30 Thursday morning. On account of this early morning service, the usual Wednesday evening service will be omitted.
