Yankees Surprised Huns; Pursue Them From Cellar to Cellar About Cantigny

Washington, May 31.—An official French dispatch received here yesterday says:

"The Americans won a real success at Cantigny. In less than ten minutes, in spite of the difficulty offered by the ground, they ran over the five or six hundred yards which separated their starting point from the village. The Germans, completely taken by surprise, had hardly enough time to put some machine guns in position before they were attacked with grenades.

"Following the plan determined upon, the tanks attacked the village on the north and destroyed the machine gun nests which were defending the approaches to Cantigny. At the center the Americans pursued the Germans from cellar to cellar. Every group was attacked by grenade throwers. The tunnel where the enemy continued to resist was surrounded and liquid fire engines were left to finish the job.

"Once the main streets in the village were cleaned, the Americans attacked the chateaux, the cellars of which had been organized as centers of resistance. The defenders were soon obliged to surrender."

Americans Await Orders to Join in Great Battle

With the American Army in France, May 31, a life American soldier was considered the part may probably play in the battle that is raging to the northwest of their positions. There is no doubt that every available man in France will be thrown into the combat wherever the French high command deems necessary.

Whatever is to be done will not be known, however, until the Americans are actually engaged, for it would be inadvisable to discuss troop movements at this time.

BUTTON WORRIED ON COAL OUTPUT

State Authorities Issue Notice That Limited Service Men Must Be Secured

Seward E. Button, state chief of mines, has called attention of the United States authorities to the conditions brought about in the coal regions of Pennsylvania by drafting of miners at this time when there is a call for the greatest possible production.

He has made what some arrangement to be made which will permit more miners to remain at work. A statement issued at the department to-day says: "Chief Button is very much concerned over the acute condition that exists at present in the great mining regions of the Commonwealth owing to the imperative demand of the federal government for a maximum production of coal in the face of a constantly decreasing force of mine workers whose ranks are being seriously depleted by the drafting of men into the army."

Undoubtedly the present demands upon the operators are the most severe known, but it is the universal desire of the government the greatest aid and support. The desire of the operators, however, is made impossible of fulfillment by the present shortage of employees.

There has been a constant drain upon certain classes of employees, particularly drivers, runners and electricians, and the result has been to reduce greatly the tonnage necessary to produce the best results in mining coal.

The Department of Mines has endeavored in every way to facilitate the output of coal and has frequently urged the operators and workers to do their utmost, but if the men are taken away from the mines it will be a physical impossibility to increase the tonnage or even to maintain the present output.

Thousand Children Taken From Bombed Area

Paris, May 31.—The removal of children from Paris was begun yesterday, when 1,000 children from the Montmartre district of the city were placed on board a special train bound for a vacation colony in the Department of Allier, in Central France.

This is the first action taken under a plan for removing Paris children from the possibility of harm from a long range gun striking a school filled with pupils, as a church where worship was in progress was struck on Good Friday last.

Although the British government raids promised not to carry out air raids yesterday—the feast of Corpus Christi—on German cities which are not in the vicinity of the front, the German long range gun resumed the bombardment of Paris. The firing began at an earlier hour than usual, but stopped soon after it began. Firing was resumed by the Germans at sunset.

GET NEW KIDNEYS!

The kidneys are the most overworked organs of the human body, and when they fail in their work of filtering out and throwing off the poisons developed in the system, things begin to happen.

One of the first warnings is pain or stiffness in the lower part of the back; highly colored urine; loss of appetite; indigestion; irritation, or even stone in the bladder. These symptoms indicate a condition that may lead to that dreaded and fatal malady, Bright's disease, for which there is said to be no cure.

You can almost certainly find immediate relief in GOLD MEDAL HARMON Oil Capsules.
