Flippant Remark Made by Murderer When Sentenced

Sunbury, Pa., June 4.—"Good night Mr. Judge, there are certainly no flies on you," remarked Henry Salada, of Sacramento, Pa., after he had been sentenced to be electrocuted for the murder of Jacob Schlegel, a Johnson City merchant, Jacob Salada said only that he did not believe he was guilty of first degree murder, as he had fired in self-defense. The brothers are the first to be sentenced to die at one time. Schlegel was shot and killed on a lonely mountain road near Shamokin on January 5, last.

Penbrook Fire Chief Fears Water Famine

Penbrook, Pa., June 4.—Fire Chief J. W. McGarvey asks the residents of town to be particularly careful concerning fires. The chief said that it is almost impossible to get sufficient water for drinking purposes, not to speak of the great volume needed in case of a fire. Reports say that the water in the reservoir of the Hummelstown Water Company has been low for several weeks and on a number of occasions the supply has been entirely shut off. In case of complete failure of the water supply the same conditions will face both Paxtang and Progress.

Democratic Fight Looming Up Again

The Philadelphia Evening Telegraph is of the opinion that there will be a fight when the Democratic State Committee meets here. It says that some of the "dry" Democrats may try to stay on the ticket. It says in part: "A veritable political hornet's nest has, however, been apparently stirred up in the ranks of the Democratic party in Pennsylvania by the efforts of former Congressman A. Mitchell Palmer, the Pennsylvania member of the Democratic National Committee, to swing voters or Bonnell. Palmer's declaration that he, personally, would support Bonnell at the general election in November has not met with favor among many of those Democrats who opposed the judge's candidacy. When the Democratic State Committee meets June 19 some Democratic leaders predict that the Pennsylvania Democracy will be split wide open if Bonnell and his friends attempt to either control it for the purpose of dictating the election of a new Democratic State chairman friendly to them or of sidetracking the national prohibition issue. Former Mayor Vance C. McCormick, of Harrisburg, Democratic national chairman, who has been closely associated with Palmer in the Democratic councils of the state, is in opposition to Bonnell's candidacy, but there are Democratic leaders who declare that they will refuse to enter into any "harmony pact" with the judge and his supporters that would commit the Democratic State organization."

CLASS IN SPEAKING CLOSING FOR SUMMER

"Self-consciousness is the greatest foe the public speaker has to overcome," declared Dale Carnegie, author of a course in public speaking, addressing the closing dinner of the class in public speaking at the Central Y. M. C. A. last night. To overcome this enemy, he said, is to read the biographies of the big men in history. "Fear has killed more men than the bullet," he said. The dinner was the closing session of this season's class under the instruction of Dr. J. George Becht, executive secretary of the State Board of Education. Following a song service, Leon Lowengard opened the program with a brief talk on "Good Fellowship." W. R. Page talked on "Loyalty." F. V. Page on "Harrisburg's Contribution Toward Holding the Hun," and Louis Irwin on "Our Debt to Dr. Becht." Dr. Becht followed with a brief address and Mr. Carnegie then spoke. E. H. Hershey was toastmaster. Plans are being made to reopen the class next winter.

POLICE CAPTAIN TO SEE GOTHAM TRAFFIC WAYS

Needed Rules For Protection on Streets Discussed by City Officials

While Mayor Keister did not ask Council to act finally on the traffic ordinance recently introduced, following the regular session a discussion of needed traffic rules was held by some of the officials. Commissioner Burnett again suggested the use of semaphores in the business district, declaring that by many motorists the "wigwag" arm system of the traffic officers is confusing and that much better results would be obtained by following the plans used in larger cities. Mayor Keister announced his intention of sending Captain Joseph P. Thompson to New York for two weeks to make a study of methods used in training police there with a view to establishing a similar system here for the officers. Other members of Council favored the plan, which will be discussed at the monthly conference of police officials on Thursday. Captain Thompson, upon his return, would be given charge of the classes, the Mayor said.

The recent survey of the police department made by the New York Bureau of Municipal Research for the Chamber of Commerce, which included traffic and parking regulations, was considered during the discussion. Among the points which the officials debated was one-way traffic streets and cutting of street cars in the downtown section so that Third street could be made a one-way north, instead of south as at present.

Mayor Keister told the Commissioners he had ordered a traffic officer to be placed on duty each Sunday evening during the summer at Front and Market streets, because of the increasing traffic at that point. He has also ordered traffic officers on duty from 6 to 8 o'clock in the afternoon at Cameron and Market streets, a busy street car transfer point, and is considering a suggestion to place an officer at Sixth and Maclay streets during rush hours.

NOISE BY AUTOS WORST IN HISTORY

[Continued from First Page.] But we have an ordinance which prohibits this. Against City Ordinances And in the city ordinance "regulating the use of public highways and prescribing a penalty for the violation thereof" are found these significant rulings: "No motor vehicle shall be operated in such a manner as to emit undue amount of steam, smoke, or products combustion, or to drop oil or other injurious substances on any highway. "Every motor vehicle using gasoline or other explosive mixture of substance as a motive power shall at all times be provided with and use a muffler or other apparatus sufficient to deaden the sounds of the explosions."

ALLIES CHECK HUN ARMY EVERYWHERE

[Continued from First Page.] off enemy attacks, causing heavy losses to the Germans. American troops are fighting with the French in holding up new German rushes and already have begun to make their presence felt. One force of Americans, thrown into the battle on the important front between the Ourcq and the Marne, not only stopped an enemy advance into Neuilly wood, between seven and eight miles of Chateau Thierry, but carried out what the French official statement characterized as "a magnificent counterattack," which threw back the Germans north of this wood. German Loss Heavy On yet another front—that running east and west along the Marne—the American forces co-operated with the French in hurling back a German battalion which had crept over a footbridge to the south of the river. The Germans sustained heavy casualties and lost one hundred men in prisoners. The Germans have evidently succeeded in bringing up considerably more of their artillery and are attacking in force along virtually the whole front from the Oise to the Marne. Fighting Is Desperate Desperate fighting developed at many points on this front last night which resulted in the enemy making advances at a few points, notably in the regions southwest of Soissons, where he is trying to batter in the tip of the allied salient. The village of Ferman was lost by the French in this area and they had to give a little ground further south. The German attack was held elsewhere.
