PERSONAL AND SOCIAL NEWS OF INTENSE INTEREST

SUNSHINE SOCIETY Robert C. Miller With Engineers in Quebec CLOSES ITS SEASON

Interesting Reports Submitted at Yesterday's Meeting of Local Sunshine Society

Reports of work accomplished during the year for the shutins and crippled children of Harrisburg during the last season were presented at the monthly meeting of the Roberta Disbrow Lioyd Sunshine Society held yesterday in the Civic Clubhouse. Miss Mary W. Miller, superintendent of the Visiting Nurse Association, gave an account of the work dealing specifically with crippled children. Mrs. Arthur Herr and Mrs. A. J. Beitzel reported on the Sunshine Bulletin. Mrs. C. C. Dubbs gave a detalled account from the wheelchair department. Many convalescents and cripples have expressed boundless gratitude for the comfort brought about by the whelechairs. Mrs. George Reed, chairman of the visiting committee, told about the month's visits.

Mrs. Frederick E. Downes told in Reports of work accomplished durcommittee, told about the month's visits.

Mrs. Frederick E. Downes told in an interesting manner of her visit to Hartford Conn. in May, where she attended the International Sunshine convention. The local branch, one of the largest in the country, received honorable mention for work with crippled children. She stated that they have accomplished more in this particular line of work than any other society represented at the convention. Plans for the annual summer outing are well under way and will be announced later. A substitute for "Flower Day," which had to be abandoned because of the early season, will take place in the near future.

Mrs. Harry Keffer gave several readings and Mrs. Frank Fager delighted the audience with vocal selections. Two new members were elected to the society, Miss Rosa Santean Mrs. J. A. Rutherford, of Paxtans.

REAL CONDITIONS IN GERMANY NOW

The Censor Must Have Been Absent When This Letter Came Through

The following letter received by John T. Trautwine, Jr., of Philadel-phia, from Mrs. C. Robert Grimm, Neuwied-am-Rhein, Germany, January 1, 1918, gives a little idea of just how bad conditions really are in Germany. The writer would have had less trouble in writing "things" which are not needed than things which are needed. It is not known just how the letter managed to reach American shores. It will be noticed ter follows:
"My Dear Mr. Trautwine

boxes: Under like conditions I am quite sure I should have acted otherwise.

"If it is possible to send me a box through the Spanish Consul I shall be very glad and the "things" I so much need I will gladly pay for—I can't believe that there are no more generous, kind-hearted Americans who are above all pettines, noble and anxious to help their fellow-beings—but it looks black. When I think of the turkey and mince ples and all other luxuries such as good cast-off clothing which are flying around in my dear land, and I think every day how much I could do with some of those cas:-off luxuries, it makes my heart ache. I have given almost everything I have away—but when it comes to putting wooden soles on my shoes I feel it is time to stir somebody up. Don't worry about money. I can pull through with what I have here. My best greetings to you and Pegsy and my deepest thanks for all your trouble.

"Things I need: One pair oxford ties, one pair buttoned boots, calf skin; one pair rubbers; hot water bag; one plece longcloth for N. G. Then if you can beg, borrow or steal—rice, lard, bacon, cheese, coffee, a jug of oil, cast-off clothing, in fact anything. Even flour and soap, corn starch, oatmeal. In fact, all you can, you will do a good work for fuffering humanity."
