THE coming Rose Show seems to be the sole topic of interest to rose lovers and flower lovers as well. Mrs. Starkey is still receiving entry cards by every mail. Entries may be made until this evening. The committees will be at the Y. M. C. A. rooms to receive the exhibits from 11 a. m. to 1 p. m. Friday. The roses will then be arranged and judged, and at 3 p. m. the show will be open to the public. A first award will be indicated by a blue ribbon; second award, red ribbon; third award, yellow ribbon. Two memberships in the American Rose Society will be given—one for the best general display, the other for the best specimen bloom. These memberships are the gift of J. Horace McFarland and the Berryhill Nursery Company. Mr. McFarland's rose garden at Breeze Hill will contribute many new and rare roses to the Rose Show, some of which are not yet in commerce. Among the better known ones are Aviateur Bleriot, American Pillar, Mrs. F. W. Flight, Oriflame, Alda Lovett, Purity, Silver Moon, Leuchstern, Wichmoss. The florists, while not allowed to compete will send displays of flowers other than roses.

EDGAR D. LESHER
Private Edgar D. Leshner, 1504 Green street, has arrived safely overseas, according to a card received by his wife, Mrs. Edgar D. Leshner. Private Leshner enlisted with the Governor's Troop, Jun. 1916, and saw nine months' service at the Mexican Border. While at Camp Hancock, Augusta, Ga., he was transferred to the Repair Department, Third Mobile Order One Hundred and Third Mobile Order. This is the judgment of the principal surgeons in the American Army Medical Corps, which is caring for them. The wounded were brought away from the fighting line without delay when the battle was at its bitterest.

U. S. Soldiers Wounded at Cantigny Will Recover, Yankee Surgeons Predict

Paris, June 6.—Ninety out of every hundred American soldiers wounded in the Cantigny battle will recover. This is the judgment of the principal surgeons in the American Army Medical Corps, which is caring for them. The wounded were brought away from the fighting line without delay when the battle was at its bitterest. Wounded have been brought to American hospitals in the neighborhood of Paris, both from Cantigny and Neully wood. General Merritt Ireland, chief surgeon of the American expeditionary forces, has surrounded himself with prominent surgeons, among them civilian specialists of all kinds, besides the Regular Army Medical Corps. One specialist, familiar in the medical profession in America, said to-day:

"It is the civilian population in America which may suffer for lack of medical attention. It seems most of the great men in all branches of American medicine already are in France."

Shooting Affray Grows Out of Gambling Game

Sam Garmillion, 24 years old, colored, Washington, D. C., is in the Harrisburg Hospital in a serious condition with four bullet wounds, and Arthur Harrison, 20 years old, colored, 736 South Twelfth street, Philadelphia, is in the Dauphin county jail, as a result of a dispute during a card game at the Millingtown Aviation field yesterday afternoon.

Harrison was losing and took offense when Garmillion made a jesting remark. Garmillion is alleged then to have bit Harrison and knocked him on the ground. Harrison then withdrew but returned within a short time and fired four shots at Garmillion, according to statements of witnesses.

Tonall Took the Kinks Out of His Back Caused by Kidney Trouble

"I had been suffering with pains in my back for a long time," says Benjamin F. Stauffer, of 215 East Walnut street, York, Pa., and as I am employed at the York State and Lock Works as a moulder by trade, my work requires me to be stooping over the most of the time, and I would have such pains in my back at times I could hardly straighten up. I had trouble with my kidneys, and oh, how I would suffer! I was losing my strength and nothing appeared to be right with me. My appetite was a way off; nothing tasted good. I was complaining about my troubles to a friend of mine, and he told me to try Tonall, and I did so. Now I can say that I feel elegant; no pains any more, appetite fine, and I feel like a different person, and I am buying a bottle for a friend of mine, for I don't need to take any more."

Tonall is sold at Gorgas' Drug Store, Harrisburg, where its merits are being explained by the Tonall chemist, and also at the Hershey Drug Store, Hershey, Pa.

Last of the New Pianos at Pre-War Prices At Troup's

The opportunity to buy a new piano of standard make at the pre-war price still remains, but the time is getting short and the number of instruments less each day.

It is impossible to specify the exact amount you will save; the costs of piano production are rising rapidly, and the new prices have not been announced, but you are certain to save $50 to $80.

Of the twelve pianos originally offered four have been taken. Fortunately, there were two styles of each make, save one, so that the opportunity is as good to-day as on the first day of the sale. But come at once. Not soon again, perhaps never, will it be possible for you to buy new pianos of such known high quality for such little prices.

Certainly no man to whom THRIFT means anything can afford to miss this opportunity, especially when the saving is to be made on such pianos as Kimball, Shoninger, Poole, Bush & Lane, Haines Bros., A. B. Chase and Frances Bacon. See these splendid values at once; Saturday may be too late. Payments will be arranged to suit you.

Prices Range From $265 to $450
