

BONNIWELL NOT TO BOSS MACHINE

Palmer-McCormick Leaders Decide to Make a Fight Against His Proposals

The Palmer-McCormick bosses will fight the attempt of Judge Eugene C. Bonniwell to take the control of the Democratic state machine away from them. The judge will be told he is only one of six candidates and that he can not run the party in the state. Steps to line up state committeemen for a battle that will be as historic as the session which gave reorganizers the control are under way on both sides.

The Palmer-McCormick people met in Philadelphia yesterday and outlined their plans. The Philadelphia Inquirer says of it: "Complete defiance of Judge Eugene C. Bonniwell, the nominee for governor in his plans to dominate the Democratic state committee and to have his personal selections put into the chairmanships of the state committee and the Philadelphia city committee as well, was determined upon at a conference of McCormick-Palmer leaders of the state democracy."

The following program was agreed upon:

"J. Washington Logue, of Philadelphia, nominee for lieutenant governor, must not withdraw from the ticket, as Judge Bonniwell has planned, in order that a 'wet' candidate may be substituted in his place."

"Asher R. Johnson, of McKean county, nominee for secretary of internal affairs, must not withdraw in order that Judge Bonniwell may be helped in making up a complete ticket of his own selection."

"George R. McLean, of Wilkes-

Barre, is to be backed by the McCormick-Palmer leadership for chairman of the Democratic state committee, regardless of Judge Bonniwell's recommendations for this place. McLean is a brother of the present chairman, W. S. McLean.

"There will be vigorous opposition and it is claimed successful, to any proposition that may come from Judge Bonniwell for a 'wet' plank in the state platform. The least they will do will be to have the platform remain silent upon the prohibition issue."

"It was also agreed that there shall be a campaign committee of fourteen to be named by the chairman of the Democratic state committee when the new chairman shall be elected and that Judge Bonniwell shall be given the privilege of naming the chairman of that committee."

"As the Democratic state committee were elected for a term of two years the McCormick-Palmer faction is determined that Bonniwell shall not get control of the chairmanship of the committee, which will be in control when the delegates to the next Democratic national convention shall be elected."

The Record says: "Mr. Palmer intimated that he is strongly opposed to Mr. Logue withdrawing as a candidate for lieutenant governor. 'That would be asking too much,' he declared. 'It would not be fair to the voters who supported Mr. Logue to ask him to withdraw as a candidate after he had fairly won the nomination.' Mr. Palmer also declared that it is probable George H. McLean will be a candidate for state chairman. 'Two years ago,' he continued, 'the state committee selected William S. McLean, Jr., as state chairman. Shortly afterward, Mr. McLean entered the Army, and he was forced to withdraw. I think I can safely say that if Mr. McLean was here now he would be a candidate for re-election, and that he would be elected.' According to the Palmer plan, Sedgewick Kistler will be re-elected treasurer of the state committee and Warren Van Dyke secretary."

Salmon Cannery Fleet Is Caught in Behring Sea

Washington.—The first merchant fleet this year from Seattle to the salmon canneries on Bristol Bay has got stuck in late ice in Behring Sea, and one steamer, the Tacoma, has been sunk, according to word received by the Department of Commerce.

The ice steamer Roosevelt, of the Bureau of Fisheries, has located the crew and passengers of the Tacoma and has gone to their assistance. Four other ships were towed to safety by the Roosevelt.

The following wireless message from the commander of the Roosevelt was received:

"Brought barkentine Centennial to safety. She had no rudder and stern post was gone. Have located camp of Tacoma survivors. Am going for them now."

The fleet carried several hundred persons, mostly workmen going to work in the salmon canneries. How many vessels were in the fleet is not known here but as the crews and passengers of five have been taken to safety, it is believed there has been no large loss of life.
