GOVERNOR ASKS

that July 4th, next, be made a loyalty day upon which these adopted Sons of liberty shall reconsecrate themselves to the cause of free government and whereas, The first observance of the Anniversary of our Declaration of Independence was observed July 4, 1777, in Philadelphia, and was wholly directed by designated officials and was both sane and safe, thus establishing a principle and a method of observance that we should cherish and steadily perpetuate, and Whereas, In this time of war it is wicked to waste money on senseless and dangerous explosives, and it is most inopportune to allow individual caprice and thoughtlessness to mar the day with all sorts of reckless and harmful acts instead of making it under competent municipal guidance a day oof solemn consecration, of lotty patriotism and of religious fervor—thus evidencing to the world that no one can be a good citizen of this Commonwealth who is not a true patriot and a devout worshiper of Almighty God, and Whereas, Most if not all accidents, all menace to life and property, may be traced to individual caprice or to unworthy official provisions for a safe and sane observance of the day, or to an utter disregard by officials of this solemn and seemly observance of the day. Now, Therefore, I, Martin G. Brumbaugh, Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, mindful of the fact that the observance of the anniversary of this great day was initiated in this Colony and resolutely minded to have it once more observed with Solemnity, Dignity and Safety, do call upon and urge all municipalities to make provision by ordinance and proclamation to carry out the spirit of this proclamation, to plan wise and sensible exercises, to prohibit absolutely the firing of all explosives by all individuals not by law designated so to do, to call upon the Committees of the community to guide the day's observance in wise ways and to prevent any and fooliations, and in general to excel to the utmost the power of the community to guide the day's observance in wise ways and to prev

Toll Road Situation—High-commissioner O'Neil last night

The Toll Road Situation—Highway Commissioner O'Neil last night issued this statement regarding the Chester and Darby Telford road case: "The money appropriated by the last Legislature has all been used for the freeing of toll roads, with the exception of about $54,000, which has been set aside for the purpose of freeing the Lancaster and Columbla turnpike, which is a portion of the Lincoln highway. This amount of money, if diverted, would not be sufficient to free the Chester and Darby turnpike and, even if the state did have sufficient money to free this road, all of it, with the exception of about one-half mile, is located in boroughs and the state would not be able to maintain the same, as the decision of the court in the Gettysburg case was that all abandoned toll roads located in boroughs revert to the boroughs and are under their care as to maintenance."

to the boroughs and are under their care as to maintenance."

Local Firm Wins—State Highway Commissioner J. Denny O'Neil to-day opened bids and awarded the contract for constructing a triple thirty-six foot span bridge over Jack's creek, near Lewistown, to the Ferro Concrete Company, of Harrisburg, at their low bid price of $19,145.60. The other bid was $20,181.68, which was submitted by R. R. Myers, of Lewistown.

Attending Meeting. — Banking Commissioner Daniel F. Lafean is in Philadtlphia attending the con-ference of state bankers on the pro-position of forming a state associaposition of forming a state association.

The Pardon List.—Although the State Board of Pardons list has been closed for next week's meetings there have been a number of applications filed for places on the calendars. The board will make the usual summer cleanup.

Governor Leaves.—Governor Brumbaugh went to Philadelphia to spend the weekend.

To Sit To-morrow.—Chairman Ainev will leave to-night for Philadelphia where he will preside at the hearing in the Chester and Darby turnpike case.

In Philadelphia.—Dr. B. F. Rover, acting commissioner of health; Adjutant General Beary, Highway Commissioner O'Neil and other state officials had business in Philadelphia, to-day.
