YOUNG MEN ARE WANTED TO FILL FIGHTING UNIT

Harrisburgers Take Opportunities to Enlist in Most Famous Division

J. J. SMITH

The importance of early enlistment and the chances the young man has for advancement and betterment by joining the United States Marine Corps were told to the men of this city last night by Lieutenant Samuel Katcher, in charge of the recruiting party at 327 Market street, in addresses in several of the motion picture theaters.

"This is a young man's war," he said, "and the sooner the young man realizes this and comes to the front, where his duty lies, the sooner the struggle abroad will be ended. Men are needed badly, and they are needed now. The Hun must be crushed across the sea, and if he is not the final battle may yet be fought upon American soil."

wives and sweethearts of those men who have met with the great adventure and those who are now holding back. No man wants this to happen. But it will, unless German Kultur is abolished. And it can only be abolished if the young men of this country respond to the call.

"Many of the men between the ages of 18 and 21 are holding back because their mothers do not want them to enlist. They must remember that in war times their country comes first. Some, it seems, believe in the policy of 'let the other fellow do it.' But sooner or later they will realize their mistake. Maybe through their reticence some of their dear ones will be made to suffer and then they will be filled with regrets.

"Up to this time the Marines have enlisted four men in this city—three yesterday and one this morning. The first man to enlist was John Joseph Smith, of Steelton, employed at the Bethlehem Steel Company. Smith was discharged from the service in July, 1917. He saw service with the Marines in Vera Cruz, H. I., San Domingo and Mexico. At the time he left the Marines he was a corporal, had a "good conduct" medal and was rated as a sharpshooter.

Seek Girl Who Left Home in Nightgown

Kokomo, Ind.—A nation-wide search is being made by Sheriff Brown to locate Cliffie Welsauer, fifteen years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Welsauer, living near this city. The girl left home ten days ago in the middle of the night by sliding down a lightning rod.

Her parents say she had been corresponded to by a man in Chicago which teaches drawing, and the theory that she may have gone there the sheriff sent the picture and description of the girl to the Chicago police.

ALIEN PROPERTY CUSTODIAN TAKES OVER BREWERIES

Palmer Arranging to Sell Millions of Dollars' Worth of Busch Realty

Washington, D. C., June 18.—The entire estate of this country of Mrs. Lily Busch, widow of Adolphus Busch, late millionaire brewer of St. Louis, has been taken over by the government under the alien property law, and Allen Property Custodian Palmer is planning to offer it for sale.

These facts became known yesterday in connection with the return to America of Mrs. Busch, who has been living in Germany for several years, or practically since the death of her husband. The government has not yet appraised the property, which consists largely of breweries in St. Louis and other cities, stocks and bonds, and real estate in New York, but it is generally believed to be worth many millions of dollars.

Mrs. Busch, who is 74 years old, was in Havana over Sunday on her way to the United States from Germany through Switzerland and Spain. She is accompanied by her attorney, Harry D. Hayes, who went to Switzerland to confer with her several months ago. It is understood Mrs. Busch plans on her arrival in this country to call on the State Department and the Department of Justice in an effort to regain custody of her estate. It is understood she will insist that as a citizen of the United States, who did not forfeit citizenship by reason of her residence in Germany since her husband's death.

Capacity Houses Greet Sergeant Arthur Empey

Capacity houses featured the opening performance of the Vitagraph serial of Sergeant Arthur Empey, Empey's famous war book, "Over the Top," which is showing at the Victoria theater the first four days of this week.

Manager James George, of the Victoria, has been congratulated on all sides for his foresight in bringing this stupendous spectacle to this city for the edification of the thousands of Harrisburgers who have read Empey's famous book and the thousands more who also want to study the well-known American soldier in the screen version of his book.

This inspiring film shows as Empey himself says, "Just what we are up against, and every man, woman and child in Harrisburg and the surrounding towns should see this film if it is at all possible. It is a marvelous visualization of the actual methods of fighting as used on the western front, but still it is devoid of the horrors which have sickened the hearts of all civilized beings who have read or heard of the barbarities of the Hun, the "cultured" beast of Berlin.

In addition to these stars the company includes such Vitagraph favorites as "Mother" Mary Maurice, Julia Swayne Gordon, Arthur Donelson, Norman Trevor, and Blythe, William Calhoun and William H. Stucky. The production was directed by Wilfrid North under the personal supervision of Albert E. Smith.

Boy Robs Storekeeper Hangs Him to Lights

Chicago.—After looting an Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company store, No. 1637 W. Thirty-fifth street, of $72 a sixteen-year-old robber, strung up John Stoesel, manager, by the neck until his tiptoes barely touched the floor and left him.

The police declared the act the most vicious in Chicago's history of robberies, aside from sheer murder. A customer found the manager half an hour later nearly strangled. He would soon have been dead, physician Stoesel said.

Suicides on Decline in England Since War's Start

London.—The British Medical journal finds that the war has caused a marked decline in the proportion of suicides to the population.

portion of suicides to the population. Among males the rate per million living was 157 in the ten years ending 1910, 161 in 1914 and 105 in 1915. In 1916 it was a little higher—111.

The rate of suicide among women showed a fall from 47 in the years 1901-10 to 45 in 1914 and 1915, and 38 in 1916. The greatest reduction among men was at the ages of 45 to 49, whereas for women of later middle age the rate had not fallen at once.

The reason for this, according to the journal, is the increased employment opened up by the war. Fresh interests and diversions have given the mind a new outlook on life.
