PENROSE GIVES FALL ELECTION WAR ULTIMATUM

Pennsylvania Senior Senator Declares Politics Is Not Adorned

Washington, June 27.—Declaring that politics is not adorned, the President and that President Wilson cannot expect to receive a third term, Senator Boies Penrose, Republican National Committeeman from Pennsylvania, stated today that the Republicans propose to enter the approaching campaign in a militant spirit, with the purpose of securing control of both House and Senate.

“I shall be very much disappointed if the Republicans do not elect a majority of the members of the House,” said the Senator. “We have a fighting chance for the Senate and will make some gains there, even if we fail to get a majority at this election.”

“The proposition of adjourning politics during the war,” continued the Senator, “is a doubtful theory chiefly advocated by Democrats which does not prevail in any other country. Only a few days ago an anti-administration candidate was elected to Parliament in a London district on a platform of open criticism of the Lloyd George policy, not to mention the political truce now in effect. At a recent election in Hungary a pacifist member of Parliament was elected in opposition to the Ministry. All of which goes to show that in other countries the party spirit prevails and is given full liberty of expression. Further, there is not a country in Europe during the period of the war. This observation applies to England, where Lloyd George succeeded an opposition administration, and also to France and Italy, where there have been frequent changes of Premiers. Only yesterday the Prime Minister of Austria-Hungary resigned, and since then there have been numerous resignations from the most important posts in the Empire.”

“This is not Mr. Wilson’s war, nor the Democratic party’s war. It is the war of the whole American people, and the Democratic party is responsible for its powers simply because we are at war. The only way to conduct a free government is under the authority of the people and by political parties. There is no occasion for setting up an autocracy at this time. The logical justice of these conclusions is best illustrated by the fact that Mr. Wilson cannot be elected for a third term. The Democratic party is on record in favor of one term for President. All the precedents of American history for nearly a century and a half indicate a sentiment among the American people that two successive Presidential terms are all that should be allowed an Executive. State Constitutions in most states carry out the same idea by declaring the Governor ineligible for a second term. Of course, the Republican party will have to maintain its organization at every point and prepare for the next Presidential election when the American people will be called upon to select the man they think best to conduct the government during the trying years ahead of us.”

“Expectations for the Senate are at present constituted the Senate consists of fifty-two Democrats, forty-three Republicans and one Republican Progressive. Senator Penrose believes the Republicans have a fighting chance to win seats in New Hampshire, Kentucky, Illinois, Delaware, Colorado, Kansas and Montana. As to the House, the Democrats now have four more members than the Republicans though there are four vacancies and several classified as independents, Socialists, etc. Senator Penrose thinks there is a chance of winning four seats in Pennsylvania, in the Sixteenth, Twentieth, Twenty-third and Twenty-eighth districts.

“The Republican National Committee will co-operate with the Congressional Committee to help elect Republican majorities in both branches of Congress,” he said. “A strong, virile campaign is to be made all along the line.”

Twisted Eye Nothing to Man Who Wants to Fight Philadelphia, June 27.—That a little thing like a twisted eye cannot keep a man out of the Canadian army was demonstrated yesterday by Oscar Carufel, a French Canadian who has enlisted at the British and Canadian Recruiting Mission. Several months ago Carufel went to the mission headquarters and enlisted for service in the Canadian army. He was passed as fit by the medical board, but when he arrived in Canada the doctors decided that he had a cataract on each eye. With little formality he was rejected by the Canadian doctors and sent back home. Soon after his arrival he went to the eye and ear infirmary and had his eyes examined. The doctors there could find no trace of cataracts, but they found one eye badly twisted and some of the muscles of the other affected.

KERENSKY WANTS GERMANY’S YOKE OFF HIS NATION

Sookine, Russ Envoy, Certain People Would Welcome Allied Military Action

Washington, June 27.—The unheralded appearance in London yesterday of Alexander Kerensky, former provisional premier of Russia, together with his announcement that he is on his way to America and that he is certain Russia soon will be fighting again with the forces of democracy against German domination, furnished the subject for a discussion in official and diplomatic circles that covered a wide range.

As there apparently had been no intention of Kerensky’s intended visit to this country, speculation naturally centered around his purpose in coming. The belief seems to be general that he not only will seek to enlist the support of his own people in this country in his efforts to rehabilitate Russia and cast off the German yoke, but will discuss the subject with officials as well.

Appearing as he does at a time when both the United States and the entire government are earnestly considering how they may best aid Russia to rid herself of German influence and establish a stable government, the visit of the one time dictator of that stricken nation is regarded by officials as having many and far-reaching possibilities.

Coinciding with the appearance of Kerensky in London, John Sookine, a member of the Russian committee sent to the United States by the Kerensky government a year ago, and now just back from France, announced yesterday that he had learned through intimate reports from Russia that the people would welcome military action by the allies to overcome German domination.

A few months ago, Mr. Sookine said, this action would have been intolerable to the people, but German aggression in spite of the Brest Litovsk treaty, had caused so much suffering and privation that allied intervention now would be hailed with relief.

Mr. Sookine’s statement and that of former Premier Kerensky concerning the change in the sentiment of the Russian masses served to bear out reports received at the State Department.

Your Telephone Directory

TELEPHONE service is dependent upon your use of the telephone directory; it is the "guide," as the receiver is the "latch" and the transmitter the "door," to usher you through to the one you wish to talk to.

Bell telephone directories are issued several times a year in order that patrons may have an up-to-date list of telephone numbers and may know of the changes in telephone numbers of those whom they may call.

The Telephone Company wishes every subscriber to have, and to use, the most recent copy of the directory. Calling numbers from an obsolete directory may result in "changed number" calls, wastes in time and effort and the use of equipment and service at a time when all these things are in greatest demand.
