

1,700 TRACTORS IN FARM WORK

State Has 35 Machines of Its Own and Farmers Find Them Great Help

Men connected with the state government who have been observing the development of the farm tractor service in Pennsylvania say that there are about 1,700 tractors employed in the fields this year and that the number will be materially increased by fall and very largely by next summer. The state has thirty-five tractors and it needs more. It will increase this number. The other tractors are owned by farmers, commercial organizations, chambers of commerce, farmers clubs and other associations, while the number operated as are threshing machines in certain territories has rapidly increased.

The State Department of Agriculture has arranged to start the schedule for plowing with its tractors on July 15, which is unusually early, but declared to be necessary owing to the great demand for machines. As this year fields which had not been touched by a plowshare for fifteen years were offered for plowing, none will be worked this fall until inspected.

New Hearings Ordered.—The State Compensation Board has ordered new hearings on the claims of Louisa White vs. William White, Philadelphia; and Mrs. James G. Steenberg vs. Springfield Telephone Company, Erie county, State Insurance fund, insurance carrier.

Commission to Meet.—The State Game Commission will meet here Tuesday for its annual meeting when action will be taken on petitions for closing of certain areas for ruffed grouse for one or two years and for closing for other periods of hunting of quail, deer, wild turkeys and other game.

Draft conference.—Major W. G. Murdock, the state's chief draft officer, said this morning that the scope of the conference of members of draft boards to be held at Wilkes-Barre city hall on July 16 would be determined next week. It is expected that the whole situation relative to the draft and the anti-draft industry will be considered and that members of boards from Lackawanna, Luzerne, Carbon, Schuylkill and other coal counties will be in attendance. Major Murdock will go to Washington Tuesday to attend a meeting at the office of the Provost Marshal General. Major Murdock said to-day that there had been no developments regarding Philadelphia boards. He will probably be in Philadelphia to-morrow. Adjutant General Beary has been studying the Philadelphia situation, but until he has a conference with the Governor nothing will be determined. It is not believed that any office holding board members or candidates will be removed.

Highway Bridges.—Highway Commissioner O'Neil has announced that he will bid the bridges for which no bids were received and those for which bids were rejected, with the exception of one in Fayette county. He has made awards as follows: Crawford county, Hayfield township, State Highway route 25; 10-foot span bridge, E. W. Blystone, Cambridge Springs, Pa., $1590.96; Northumberland county, Delaware township, State Highway Route, 246, 10-foot span bridge, Walter A. Goddard, Milton, Pa., $1450. Sullivan county, Cherry township, State Highway Route 17, 14-foot span bridge, Dushore Construction Company, Dushore, Pa., $1905.59.

Big Schedule Made.—The Public Service Commission has issued an order upon the Westmoreland Water Company to file a supplement to its rates embodying certain charges and rules contained in a voluminous report upon studies made of the water situation in Greensburg, Jeanette, Youngwood, Irwin and other communities in Westmoreland county, the new rates to be effective on August 1. This proceeding brings to an end as far as litigation before the commission is concerned one of the largest water complaint problems presented to the body. Several months ago the commission directed the company to design a schedule of charges which would return the gross revenue allowed in the valuation made by the state, but the schedule submitted was not satisfactory to the commission and conferences to frame a new one were held, engineers to the commission and the company taking part. The company had a survey made of fixtures on properties of 5306 domestic consumers on what are known as 5-8 meters alone. The new schedule

BRITISH FLAG PRESENTED TO U.S. SOLDIERS.

Mother Thanks Child For Spanking July 4, 1776

Paris, July 5.—At the luncheon yesterday of the American Chamber of Commerce Ambassador Sharp thanked France briefly for the great manifestation in honor of Independence Day, and continued:

"Lord Derby, representing England, has broken an unwritten rule which has lasted from time immemorial with respect to an English Ambassador attending the celebration of our independence. It is in keeping with the British spirit of fairness. We know now why England is so great. I welcome Lord Derby here in the name of America."

The audience arose, cheering Derby and shouting for a speech. Lord Derby demurred at first, but the cheers would not down. Finally he said:

"As in the days of my youth, a teacher spanked me, saying: 'You will thank me later for this.' I say now that I wish to thank America for the best licking we ever got. It has done us both a lot of good. We are grateful to you because that licking taught us how to treat our children; it is the reason why we now have Australia and Canada, and even South Africa, fighting beside us to-day."
