

COAL RULING IS TO HEAT HOUSES AT 68 DEGREES

Consumers Who Get Supply by Deceit Are to Be Prosecuted

Washington, July 8.—Rationing of coal to householders was announced last night by the fuel administration as among plans designed to prevent a threatened shortage of coal next winter.

Each domestic consumer will be allowed as much coal as is found to be scientifically necessary to heat his house to 68 degrees, provided every conservation rule has been obeyed.

New Plan Effective at Once The administration's plan involves a department of coal allotments in connection with each local fuel administrator's office and this system now has been completed and will be put into operation at once.

Conditions New to Country This system, said the administration, "will be drastic and will introduce conditions new to the country; it will be no mere drastic, however, than conditions demand in the interest of all concerned.
